JOLLY JOKER. Pat—Did they shake hands when they met? Mike—No; they shook their fists.

"Have they been in society long?" "Only about a week." "How's that?" "Before that they called their chef a cook."

"He has a picture of his sweetheart inside his watch." "Indeed! Well, he looks so happy lately, I thought there must be a woman in the case."

Church—I see the definition of a gentleman is one who never gives pain. Gotham—I don't suppose my dentist would like it if I told him that.

Invalid—I understand it is quite dry out here. Broncho William—Dry? Why, stranger, it's so dry here that the rain is wet only on one side.

"So the engagement's off?" "Yes; she advised him to practice economy, and he started in by getting her an imitation diamond."—Detroit Free Press.

Wife—Really, she's the worst gossip in the neighborhood. Why, I heard this morning that she— Husband—Come, now, don't try to beat her at her own game!

A Common Variety: Young Doctor—Which kind of patients do you find it hardest to cure? Old Doctor—Those who have nothing the matter with them.—Judge.

"Were you much embarrassed when he kissed you?" "No. I was frightened, though." "How so?" "I told him to stop, and for a moment I thought he was going to."

Beetee—Pshaw! I must have $20 by noon to-day, and I left all my money at home in my other clothes. Can't you help me out? Wiseman—Sure! I'll lend you carfare to go home for it.

"What care I for gold or silver?" said the proud beauty. "Your sentiments are eminently practical," answered Miss Cayenne. "Get some steel or copper stock and the gold and silver will take care of themselves."

Summer Hotel Proprietor (proudly)—Nearly all my waiters are college men who are working their way through college. Guest—Well, judging by the way they work your guests, they'll all be graduated with honors.

The Status.—Marie—"I have an engagement with Cholly, and I don't know how to get out of it." Helen—"Haven't you any reason for breaking it?" Marie—"Yes, I have a reason—Cholly is the reason—but I want an excuse."—Puck.

"Is there any profit in selling postage stamps?" inquired the man in search of information. "Not directly," replied the druggist; "but it gets people into the habit of going to the drug store, and after that it doesn't take long to make chronic invalids of them."—Puck.

Mrs. Goodsole—Why, Johnny, are you just going home now? Your mother's been looking for you all afternoon. Johnny—Yes'm, I know. Mrs. Goodsole—Just think how worried she must be. Johnny—Oh, she's near the end o' her worry'n'. I'm just beginnin' mine.

"Gracious!" exclaimed Mrs. Newl-wed, examining the window-sash, "Something has been gnawing at this woodwork." "Yes; I noticed that," replied her husband. "A little dormouse, perhaps; there are lots of them around."

"A dormouse? But this is on the window-sash!" No so Disinterested: Biggs—I had no idea old Graspit was a philanthropist until I saw him circulating a petition yesterday for the purpose of raising money to enable a poor widow to pay her rent. Diggs—Oh, Graspit's all right. He owns the house the poor widow lives in.—Chicago News.

A certain Dyersburg woman assured her husband she never told him a lie and never would. He told her he didn't doubt it, but would hereafter cut a notch in the piano when he knew she deceived him. "No, you won't!" she screamed. "I'm not going to have my piano all ruined!"—Tennessee State Gazette.

Examining a class of children, a patriarchal gentleman asked for the names of some of the islands near England. There was a dead silence, and to help the scholars—himself thinking of the Isle of Man—he remarked, encouragingly: "Can you think of any places where no women are allowed, only men?" Instantly a girl held up her hand: "Please, sir, the Scilly Isles."

Wearly Willie and his friend Frowzy strolling along the seashore stop before a sign reading: "Notice! Nothing is Dangerous. Quicksands." Wearly Willie—Here, Frowzy; dere's true pub. a spirit for yer. I don't know who dat feller Quicksands is, but he's got de right idea uv things an' ain't afraid to say so, an' if he wuz here I'd take off me hat to him.—Leslie's Weekly.

The front-door bell rang furiously. A head adorned with shaggy and unmanageable whiskers was thrust out of the chamber window, and a voice that fitted the beard inquired, "Who is it?" "Oh, is this Mr. Higgins?" came a shrill voice from the shade of the doorway below. "Yes." "Please come to No. 41 High street just as quick as you can, and bring your instruments." "I ain't no doctor; I'm a carpenter. Dr. Higgins lives two doors below," and the window was coming down with a slam, when "Please, sir," said the little voice, "it's you we want. Pa and ma is shut up in the foddin' bed, and we can't get 'em out."—Chicago Journal.
