PRESIDENT ISSUES PROCLAMATION.

Thursday, November 27, Is Designated as Thanksgiving Day.

Washington, Oct. 31. - President Roosevelt has issued his proclamation designating Thursday, November 27, as a day of thankegiving. The proclamation is as follows:

"According to the yearly custom of our people, it falls upon the president at this season to appoint a day of festival and thankegiving to God. Over a century and a quarter has passed since this country took its place among the nations of the earth, and during that time we have had, on the whole, more to be thankful for than has befallen to the lot of any other people. Genera-tion after generation has grown to man-hood and passed away. Each has had to bear its peculiar burdens, each to face is special crisis, and each has known years of grim trial, when the known years of grim trial, when the country was menaced by malice, domestic or foreign, when the hand of the Lord was heavy upon it in death the Lord was heavy upon it hodily As far as in, the evidence in the by flood or pestilence, when in bodily distress and anguish of soul it paid the We now abundantly enjoy material well-W. Rarely has any people enjoyed greater prosperity than we are now enjoying. For this we render heartfelt and solemn thanks to the giver of good, and we seek to praise him not by wogds only, but by deeds, by the way in which we do our duty to ourselves and to our fellow men. ourselves and to our fellow men.

"Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, do hereby designate as a day of general thanksgiving Thursday, the 27th of the coming November, and do recommend that throughout the land the people cease from their ordinary occupations and in their several homes and places of worship render thanks unto almighty God for the manifold blessings of the past year.

UNITED STATES POSTOFFICES. Presidential Appointments for Past Year

Establish a Record.

Washington, Oct,. 31,-A total of 2,270 presidential postmasters were appointed last year, according to the annual report of J. L. Bristow, fourth assistant postmaster general, just is-sued. This is the largest number appointed in any one year in the history of the postal service. The increase was due mainly to the expiration of commissions during the year, and the advance of many fourth class offices to the presidential grade.

The total number of appointments of postmasters of all classes was 16,970, an increase of 1,313. There was a slight increase in the number of re-movals of postmasters "for cause," carelessness and irregularities. There were 3,058 postoffices established and 4,059 discontinued, the latter attributable mostly to the extension of the rural free delivery service and the consolidation of postoffices adjacent to large presidential offices. The number of postoffices in the United States June 30 was 7,924, of which 220 were first class, 1,023 second class, 3,488 third class and 71,193 fourth class.
