FROM ERRAND BOY TO MAGNATE

Career of Henry Phipps, Who Recently Gave $100,000 to the Boers.
Henry Phipps, whose recent contribution of $100,000 for the relief of destitute Boers in South Africa has attracted wide attention,

HENRY PHIPPS.

is one of the directors of the Carnegie Steel Company and is reckoned one of America's richest men. His fortune is estimated at $50,000,000. Mr. Phipps was born of poor parents in Allegheny City, Pa., and while a boy in short trousers hired out as a messenger in Pittsburgh. He and Andrew Carnegie ran errands together for several years and as messenger boys formed the partnership which has always existed between them. They schemed together as youths and while very young men embarked in the business which has made them both multimillionaires—the making of steel.

Many years ago Mr. Phipps' fortune had expanded to the million mark and his influence was felt in the financial world; but he was habitually modest and shrank from publicity, wherefore his name was but seldom heard. In the steel business he became a factor almost as powerful as his associate, Mr. Carnegie, and his fortune grew apace. In 1901 he was publicly classed with the 3,827 other American millionaires and since that time he has been ranked with the country's wealthiest men.

Two years ago he left Pittsburgh, which had been his home as well as the scene of his successful operations, and settled in New York. He at once bought nearly the entire block on 5th avenue, between 87th and 88th streets, and secured plans for a palace to cost approximately $1,000,000. Work on this magnificent palace is now under way.

His donation to the Boers created no surprise to those who are well acquainted with Mr. Phipps. Numerous institutions in Pittsburgh, Allegheny City and other cities have been benefited by his charities and innumerable unfortunate persons have been aided by him.

JEFFERSON DAVIS MEMORIAL.

about $75,000, which it has taken the daughters several years to get together. The site of the monument is the choice of Mrs. Jefferson Davis, who, though opposed to the memorial at first, finally consented, and the arch will be unveiled in Monroe Park at Richmond in the early spring.

LEAPING SALMON "SNAPSHOT."

Photographically speaking, nothing imaginable can be more difficult to "snapshot" than a leaping salmon. Nobody can tell when, or just where, he is going to jump, and accurate focus is out of the question. Probably the accompanying picture is the most successful photo of a leaping salmon ever taken. It was made by an officer of the United States fish commission on the island of Afognak, off the coast of Alaska, and the big fish is jumping up a fall to get to the spawning grounds in the headwaters of the stream.

Labor on Railroad Folders.

The average person who picks up a railroad time folder does not realize the amount of work which the preparation of such a publication involves. A big Western railroad, for instance, has a general time folder made up from sixteen different divisions operating time tables. The folder contains 2,000 names of towns, gives the schedules of over 500 trains and whenever there is a change in time 60,000 figures have to be carefully checked and corrected.

Cats in Switzerland.

Swiss ornithologists declare that cats have become so numerous in Switzerland as to threaten the extermination of all birds of the country.
