RECENT JUDICIAL DECISIONS.

Where a bank in Texas held two notes of a depositor, secured by personal indorsement, and such depositor became insolvent prior to service on the bank of a garnishment in a suit against him, which service was before maturity of the notes, the bank was entitled to set off such notes against the deposit. 61 S. W. Rep. 559.

Where an action was brought to test the validity of a new by-law of an assessment insurance company imposing a lien on its policies to pay death losses and to create a reserve fund, and such amendment will not affect the amount of plaintiff's assessments immediately, nor until after his policies have become payable by his death, the company will not be enjoined, on his failure to pay his assessments, from declaring his policies void for nonpayment. 60 N. Y. Supp. 618.

Plaintiff had been employed for four years in defendant's boiler-room, and had seen the construction of the bollers and of a bridge suspended in front of them. He used the bridge sometimes once a day, and from the floor could see the entire platform to the bridge and the space where the platform ended. Held, that plaintiff assumed the risk and could not recover for injuries caused by his falling through the space while making his way from the boliers, where he had gone to shut off escaping steam caused by an explosion. 60 N. Y. Supp. 570.

A will bequeathed property to an incorporated Masonic lodge, and its successors forever, in trust, the income to be applied annually "for the relief of needy members of such lodge, or preferably for the general purposes of the lodge, including now and then, if desired, an appropriation for proper forms of entertainment for the members." Held, that though the first object was a charitable one, for which a charitable trust would be valid, the second object, for which the testator expresses his preference, was not charitable, and hence the bequest was void. 48 At. Rep. (R. I.) 671.

An attorney employed to prosecute a suit against a street railway for a street accident employed one P. to find witnesses. Two girls, 15 to 17 years old, testified that the attorney came to them in company with P., and induced them to swear for plaintiff, though they stated to him that they knew nothing of the case. Their testimony was corroborated by P. and the mother of one girl; and another witness testified that the attorney attempted to get him to swear to having seen the accident, although he had told him that he had not seen it. Held, sufficient evidence of subordination of perjury to authorize the disbarment of the attorney. 60 N. Y. Supp. 524.

Aspired to Higher Honors.
Rear Admiral J. A. Howell of the United States navy, popularly known as the "father of the modern torpedo," because of his invention of that engine of war, is credited by the Toronto Saturday Night with knowing why he married, a piece of knowledge which some unmarried persons seem to regard as uncommon.

It was generally believed that he was wedded to the science of warfare, and it was a surprise to the entire navy when a married a charming woman.
A number of years after his marriage a fellow officer visited Admiral Howell, and saw the children of the distinguished sailor playing about the house.
"It's like a dream, old man!" said the visitor. "We never thought of your getting married. How did you happen to think about it?"

"Oh," replied Admiral Howell, glancing affectionately at his children at play. "I got tired of being referred to merely as the 'father of the modern torpedo.'"

How Rochefort Hurled Ridicule.
Rochefort, even more than Hugo, was the natural butt of those caricaturists devoted to the destinies of Louis Napoleon. But none of the cartoons directed against him could hit deeper or leave a more lasting sting than his own sallies in the columns of the Lanterne. His favorite method of attack was one which either made prosecution impossible or else made the prosecutor ridiculous. In the Lanterne one found apparently innocent squibs which ran something like this:
"The Emperor sat yesterday for his portrait, which is being painted by M. M. — has won wide distinction as a painter of animals, and it is expected that the Emperor's portrait will prove a great success."—The Bookman.

An Irresistible Bait.
A Chicago merchant who knows his business and human nature established a miniature park and playground on the third floor, where children may be left by their mothers to play on the grass, dig holes in the sand, and sail boats on the pond. Toys are lent free of charge, and that is where the profit comes in, for when the mother comes for her offspring there is always a difficulty in effecting a parting with the toy, and as the toy department is quite handy the American child and the American shopkeeper are together too much for the American mother.

No Row About Row.
"Let me row," said the pretty girl.
"But I would rather row," said he.
"Well, don't let's have a row."
"To avoid a row suppose we row together. Then we can both row and have no row."—New York Times.
