It is reported that at the conclusion of a recent trial wherein the defendant was a Negro charged with murder in which the jury failed to agree on a verdict, that one of our public officials made the remark that it was impossible to convict a Negro in Multnomah county, casting by such remark, reflections not only on the jury but on the courts of this county. The truth of the matter is that he had in mind the state of affairs that exists in certain portions of the United States, where it is only necessary to accuse a Negro of any crime from making insulting remarks to a white man to murder or rape to cause the blood of the so-called superior race to bail, so that they are unable to allow him to await the action of the courts and juries selected from amongst themselves, but must take the law in their own hands and burn him to the stake as the proper treatment of his crime, whatever it may be. When such monsters come into a part of the country where a man is looked upon as a man regardless of the color of his skin, they cannot comprehend that such a thing is possible that a judge or jury could ask that a Negro be proven guilty ere they find a verdict to such an effect. The sooner that officers elected to prosecute criminals learn that such is the case in this part of the country the sooner will the country be spared the expense of trying men and women arrested on such flimsy pretenses that it is almost a crime to burden the taxpayers with the costs of these prosecutions and it behooves the colored voters to remember such remarks when called upon to support office seekers for office.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"ON THE STROKE OF TWELVE." "On the Stroke of 12," a realistic drama, will be the offering at Cordray's Theater four nights, beginning with a Sunday matinee, November 2. The story has for its central figure the son of a rich widower. The boy is induced to bet on a horse. Trouble comes when the horse loses, and the plot develops a forgery which is not the son's, but of which his father believes him guilty. Prison scenes follow, but after all the end is happy.

"FINNIGAN'S BALL" COMING.

For three nights only, starting Thursday, November 6, with a Saturday Matinee. "Finnigan's Ball" will be given at Cordray's Theater. A true son of the "ould sod" will tell you that there is only "Finnigan's Ball," and that is "Finnigan's Ball." The reason for this is its absolute fidelity to Irish traditions. Its quaint humor, which is at times spiced with rollicking song, is always attuned to a great heart interest.

On the Ark.

"This is tough luck," said Ham, mournfully, as he leaned over the side of the ark.

"What's wrong now?" queried Shem. "Why, all this water to fish in," replied Ham, "and only two fishin' worms on board."

Jones, who removed with his family to Pennsylvania after the loss of his wife, has returned and opened up a neat establishment at 351 Second street, where he will at all times keep on hand a choice stock of fish, poultry and game. Mr. Jones' success in the past makes any introduction on our part unnecessary.

Geo. W. French cut and seriously wounded another colored man, G. W. Johnson, who was trying to force an entrance into a room on North First street which French and a woman were occupying. French, who is a returned soldier from the Philippines, was arrested and his examination set for November 4th, to await the result of the injuries to Johnson.

Active preparations are being made under the leadership of Mrs. M. Moore for an entertainment for the benefit of Mt. Olivet Baptist church in the near future. The members of this church deserve credit for the fact that in the absence of a regularly installed pastor they are holding regular services every Sunday morning and evening, as well as weekday meetings.

We have been informed that a call has been, or will soon be, issued by Mr. A. Waterford to all the batchelors for the purpose of forming a society of all who have no intention of becoming benefactors in the near future. As we learn it is not the intention to bar representatives of the press we will try and give the public an account of the proceedings and put the young ladies on their mettle.

The receipts of subscriptions due from former residents of this city now located in other parts of the country is gratifying evidence that they appreciate our paper as a means of keeping in touch with the doings of the people in this part of the country. We acknowledge the remittances sent by Mrs. E. N. Le Roy, of Pendleton, also from Mrs. C. C. Mills, now located in Billings, Mont., where she has a large first-class restaurant. Our city subscribers may expect a visit from our collector in the future more regularly than before.

The musically inclined public have been favored on several occasions of late by the appearance before them of the eminent baritone soloist, Mr. Frank T. Morrill. Until recently Mr. Morrill has declined to appear in public, being constantly engaged in studying, with the object of further improving his natural talents. Those who were so fortunate as to hear his rendition of the "Holy City" at the Bethel A. M. E. church were pleased with the announcement that he had agreed to assist with the musical part of the services in the future.

We acknowledge our thanks for a copy of the 23rd report of the principal of the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute. We find that the number of pupils enrolled this year is 1384. There are 112 officers and teachers. There is an indebtedness of $5,887.52 on the school. The new dormitory now being built for girls, when completed, will be one of the most commodious buildings on the ground. It is the object of this school to fit each of its graduates so that they may be able not only to make their own living, but also able to instruct others in the branches that they have perfected themselves in. It is the intention of the superintendent, Booker T. Washington, to visit this coast this winter and we hope to see him in Portland.

The autumn ball given by the Household of Ruth, G. U. O. of O. F., on Tuesday evening was well attended. The hall was tastefully decorated with clusters and branches of handsomely colored autumn leaves. Excellent music had been secured and from 8 to 12 o'clock those present heartily enjoyed every minute of the time and many were the regrets expressed when the orchestra struck up the notes of "Home, Sweet Home." Whilst the entertainment was under the supervision of the ladies of the Household, the members of the Odd Fellows lodge felt it their bound duty to assist them and Mr. Howard Sproull and Wm. Robinson did excellent duty as doorkeepers, whilst such excellent floor directors as Miss B. Crawford and Miss Bonnie Thomas were ably assisted by Mr. Anthony Logan. The refreshment committee consisting of Mrs. H. Redmond, Mrs. Etta Ritter and Miss Susie Crawford, assisted by Mr. Slim Reddy. All the members of the order made themselves a committee to look after the welfare of their guests. The members of the Household are arranging to start a series of entertainments to be given once a month during the winter months.

On the 7th of October the eleventh biennial movable convention of the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows met in New Haven, Conn. Four hundred delegates were present. The grand master, W. H. Morris, of Chicago, called the convention to order and Mayor Studley gave an address of welcome. One special feature of the meeting was the presence of Grand Secretary Geo. Wilde, of England, as a fraternal delegate. The secretary's report showed an increase of 510 new lodges and 335 new households. Forty thousand dollars was appropriated to purchase ground and erecting a building for the headquarters of the order in Philadelphia. The report of the finance committee showed a balance in the treasury August 31, 1902 of $48,036.56. On Friday there was an all day and night session, which adjourned at 6:30 Saturday morning. The following grand officers were elected: J. McHenry Jones, of West Virginia, grand master; Geo. E. Temple, of Missouri, deputy grand master; R. W. Smith, of Virginia, grand treasurer; James F. Needham, of Philadelphia, grand secretary; J. C. Asbury, of Philadelphia, was re-elected editor of the Odd Fellows' Journal. The grand directors elected were as follows: Wm. L. Houston, of the District of Columbia; L. N. Porter, of Arkansas; E. P. Jones, of Mississippi; and N. C. Mitchell, of Boston. Columbus, Ohio, was selected as the next meeting place.
