KING OSCAR'S MEMOIRS.
King Oscar's memoirs ought to prove interesting reading. His Majesty is a man of great knowledge and an author of acknowledged eminence. As a general thing it is quite dangerous for a king to wield his pen and express his opinions, but King Oscar seems to be an exception to the rule. Apart from his literary skill the King of Sweden has many other attractive gifts. He is a man of boundless courage, and many authentic instances of his fearless deeds of valor are related. In every pursuit his motto is "thorough," reminding strongly of our own President's "strenuous" tendencies. All the world knows that King Oscar never desired the crown, and when that responsibility could not be evaded he was unprepared for the great office. A king must of necessity be a good horseman, which Oscar was not. A course of riding lessons lasting through seven years made him a master in the art of horsemanship. His speeches are entirely his own, and he is not only eloquent, but concise and epigrammatic and knows what elements are necessary in a successful address. To the outsider his accessibility and affability are even more remarkable than his many natural talents. He dislikes royal tinsel and senseless ceremonies, and any foreigner can obtain an interview by simply sending in his visiting card. King Oscar's receptions strongly bring to mind the simple days of our forefathers. No special attire or formality is necessary to appear before this king. All sorts and conditions of men may approach him, and a merry crowd often gathers about him. King Oscar's favorite recreation is music, but he also interests himself in athletic sports and exercises. He takes pleasure in letter-writing and keeps in close touch with many men of science and learning.

WHAT THE LAW DECIDES.

Marking, staking or cleaning ice not yet of sufficient thickness for harvesting is held, in Becker vs. Hall (Iowa), 56 L. R. A. 573, not to amount to a legal appropriation of it.

A condition in a life-insurance policy that if, within three years from the date of the policy, the insured should die by suicide, sane or insane, the liability of the company should be limited to the amount of the premiums paid, is held, in Scherer vs. Prudential Insurance Company (Neb.), 56 L. R. A. 611, to be valid.

In a proceeding to require a receiver to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt for permitting the carrying away of property committed to his care, an affidavit is held, in Oster vs. People (Ill.), 56 L. R. A. 462, not to be necessary, where the facts have all been brought to the attention of the court by testimony taken under a petition, filed in the cause in which he was appointed, to have the property restored.

A statute permitting the assessment of property to the one to whom it was last assessed, in the absence of notice of change of ownership, is held, in Morrill vs. Lovett (Me.), 56 L. R. A. 634, not to apply in case the change of ownership arises from the death of the owner to whom the taxes were assessed, where the general policy of the tax legislation is to create a personal liability, as well as a lien on the property, and another statute provides for the taxation of decedents' estates. The assessment of taxes on property of decedents' estates is considered in a note to this case.

The owner of land on a public navigable river, who has obtained a grant from the State of a portion of the river bed in front of his land, but who has made no improvements thereon for commercial purposes, is held, in Slingerland vs. International Contracting Company (N. Y.), 56 L. R. A. 494, to have no right of action against a contractor for the dredging of the river who, with the consent of the State and federal governments, places the dredgings behind dikes on State land adjoining his, although the result is that they are washed on to his submerged land, impairing his access to navigable water and interfering with his fishing and gathering ice therefrom.

A Sea Garden.
On board the Japanese ship Asama, now in British waters, there is a garden plot of exquisite giant chrysanthemums and iris in pots, which have been made out of paper by the stokers. Nothing could be more admirably natural than the flowers of this sea garden.

A man is painting a woman to represent "Anxiety," and will take for his subject a woman who has gotten up a church social, and is watching the door from her corner near the ice cream table to see if any one is coming in.

A PRETTY POSTMISTRESS NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH

Was Given Up to Die—Eight Doctors Felled—Po-ru-na Saved Her Life.

Thousands of women suffer from systemic catarrh. This is sure to produce such symptoms as cold feet and hands, sick headache, palpitation of the heart and heavy feelings in the stomach.

Then begins a series of experiments with medicine. They take medicine for sick headache. They take medicine for nervous prostration, for palpitation of the heart, for dyspepsia. None of these medicines do any good because they do not reach the cause of the complaint.

Peruna at once mitigates all these symptoms by removing the cause. Systemic catarrh is the trouble. Systemic catarrh pervades the whole system, deranges every organ, weakens every function. No permanent cure can be expected until the systemic catarrh is removed.

This is exactly what Peruna will do. Miss Alma Cox, assistant postmistress of Orum, S. C., writes:

"I have been a great sufferer from chronic disease and dyspepsia for five years. How I suffered no tongue can tell. I tried eight or ten of the best physicians without receiving much benefit, also tried lots of patent medicines, but still I suffered with sick headache, cold feet and hands, palpitation of the heart, and such a heavy feeling in my stomach and chest. At times I would be so nervous I could not bear any one around me. I had been given up to die.

Dr. S. B. Hartman, president of the Hartman Sanitarium, of Columbus, O., gives advice to women free during the summer months.

"One day a friend sent me one of Dr. Hartman's pamphlets, and I decided to write to him. He advised Peruna and Manalin, and after taking the medicine two weeks I felt greatly relieved. My head did not pain me any scarcely, and my stomach was relieved of its heavy feeling. I am so thankful that I can say after using several bottles of the Peruna and Manalin I am restored to perfect health.

"Before using your remedies I could not eat anything. I lived on darley water and Panopeptin for two years. Now I can eat with pleasure. Everybody is so surprised at my improvement. Everyone says I am looking like a rose. I would advise all suffering women to take your remedies. I know if it were not for Peruna and Manalin I would have been in my grave today. I cannot thank you enough for the kind advice you have given me."

Rheumatism

The liniment bottle and flannel strip are familiar objects in nearly every household. They are the weapons that have been used for generations to fight old Rheumatism, and are about as effective in the battle with this giant disease as the blunderbuss of our forefathers would be in modern warfare.

Rheumatism is caused by an acid, sour condition of the blood. It is filled with acid, irritating matter that settles in the joints, muscles and nerves, and liniments and oils nor nothing else applied externally can dislodge these gritty, corroding particles. They were deposited there by the blood and can be reached only through the blood. Rubbing with liniments sometimes relieve temporarily the aches and pains, but these are only symptoms which are liable to return with every change of the weather; the real disease lies deeper, the blood and system are infected. Rheumatism cannot be radically and permanently cured until the blood has been purified, and no remedy does this so thoroughly and promptly as S. S. S. It neutralizes the acids and sends a stream of rich, strong blood to the affected parts, which dissolves and washes out all foreign materials, and the sufferer obtains happy relief from the torturing pains.

S. S. S. contains no potash or other mineral, but is a perfect vegetable blood purifier and most exhilarating tonic. Our physicians will advise, without charge, all who write about their case, and we will send free our special book on Rheumatism and its treatment.

Oysters.
If you want to try a can of the finest, largest, plumpest and most delicious canned oysters you ever saw, ask your grocer to send you a can of Monopole. There is only one packer in the United States who puts up as fine goods as Monopole and therefore they are not to be had under any other brand. Under the Monopole brand we also have packed a full line of canned fruits and vegetables, spices, coffee, baking powder and the like. They are packed under a beautifully embossed blue and gold label. The label is fine, but the goods are finer. Your grocer handles them or can get them for you. See that he does it. Wadhams Kerr Bros., Packers, Portland, Oregon.

Why Syrup of Figs is the best family laxative

Because

Its component parts are all wholesome. It acts gently without unpleasant after-effects. It is wholly free from objectionable substances.

It contains the laxative principles of plants. It contains the carminative principles of plants. It contains wholesome aromatic liquids which are agreeable and refreshing to the taste.

All are pure. All are delicately blended. All are skillfully and scientifically compounded.

Its value is due to our method of manufacture and to the originality and simplicity of the combination. To get its beneficial effects—buy the genuine.
