DO IT NOW.

Wise Bros., the Famous Portland Dentists, Advise People Not to Neglect the Teeth.
"Do it now," said Dr. W. A. Wise, the great dentist of the failing building, Portland, Or., the other day speaking of getting one's teeth attended to.

The doctor used the widely famous saying of the late Rev. Dr. Maltbie V. Babcock, who put all fashionable New York in a fever of immediate intention to do right by simply repeating his sound advice to always "do it now," when anyone thought of performing a good act.

"The many obstacles that long prevented people from taking proper care of their teeth have been almost entirely removed by modern methods," continued Dr. Wise. "The expense is very moderate. The pain is absolutely nothing. Prosperity reigns everywhere and there is scarcely anyone too poor to afford having bad teeth extracted and serviceable new ones put in. False teeth, as we make them, cannot be told from natural ones, and the wearer can eat about as well as ever after a little practice. Everybody with good teeth should offer up a prayer of thankfulness and go immediately to a good dentist and have the teeth examined so as to be sure there are no beginnings of decay apparent. Take the troubles at their inception and only a little work is necessary. And at all events, no matter how far teeth troubles have gone, go immediately and once have your teeth put in perfect order. After that it is an easy matter to watch them and keep them permanently in good order.

"The whole sermon is well summed in Dr. Babcock's words 'do it now.' "We claim that there are no facilities for dental work in the Northwest superior to what we offer at our office in the failing building, Portland, Or. We have thousands of patients and are ready to welcome thousands more."

Too Strong a Negative.
"It's pretty hard to select a wife nowadays," remarked Mr. Con Sest; "the average girl of today doesn't know enough."

"I've found," replied Mr. Mittens, "that they 'No!' entirely too much." —Philadelphia Record.

To Form a Habit.
"Poverty is uncomfortable, as I can testify," said James A. Garfield, "but nine times out of ten the best thing that can happen to a young man is to be tossed overboard and be compelled to sink or swim. In all my acquaintance I have never known a man to be drowned who was worth the saving."

Standing Up for His Rights.
"Get out of here!" growled the larvae in the cheese rind, as the weevil sought to make an entrance. "But why," protested the weevil, "there is plenty of room for us both!" "Where's your skipper's license?" asked the larvae, haughtily.—Judge.

French Like a Native.
Merritt—Why, I speak French like a native. In conversation with one of them the other day, he asked me if I wasn't born in France. Cora—Doesn't that go to prove, my dear, that the French are the politest people in the world?—New York Times.

THE HUMBLE BEGINNING
Of Washington and Jefferson College in Pennsylvania.
The cabin here shown is the humble beginning from which has sprung Washington and Jefferson College, one of the prominent educational institutions of Western Pennsylvania. The cabin was built in 1780, and was intended to be used as a Latin school. It is situated in Canonsburg. As the number of scholars increased, the facilities to accommodate students grew inadequate, and a larger academy was built, from which the present "W. & J." college has developed. The Rev. John McMillan, D. D., father of Presbyterianism in Western Pennsylvania, taught in the old log cabin, which still stands, a cherished reminder of days long past.

Roentgen Rays in Dentistry.
The X-ray is being used in dentistry with considerable success. It sometimes happens that the permanent, or "second," teeth are not properly cut. The mouth is thus disfigured by the loss of the first set of teeth and the nonappearance of the second teeth. With the X-ray the dentist can determine whether the second tooth is in the gum, and if so why it has not appeared. The obstruction is removed, a passage opened and the tooth works gradually down to its place.

Veterans in the Business.
"Are you in favor of capital punishment?" asked the Judge of the prospective juror. "Of hanging a man if he's found guilty?" "Well," was the drawing reply, "I has most indignantly hung 'em when they bothered me too much!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Silence is golden. Large fortunes have been made from stills.

GOOD Short Stories

Of Gladstone, Henry Labouchere once remarked: "I do not object to Mr. Gladstone's occasionally having an ace up his sleeve. But I do wish he would not always say that Providence put it there."

The Buffalo Commercial relates that an American woman, belonging to the nouveau riche, recently met an acquaintance on the deck of an outgoing steamer, and announced, with great éclat, that she was going abroad to have the dear girls' (her two daughters') portraits painted. "Why not in America?" queried the acquaintance. "Oh, I've tried all the American artists in vain. Now we're going over to see what the old masters can do."

At a dinner during the Russian intimidation of Turkey, Lord Beaconsfield was once seated near an inquisitive hostess, who, after the political situation had been discussed at length, inquired of her distinguished guest in a thrilling whisper: "What are you going to do?" "I am waiting," quietly replied the prime minister of England. "What are you waiting for?" pressed his hostess. "I am waiting for you to pass the mustard," said Beaconsfield, and he placidly continued his dinner.

Once, in the course of a speech which was punctuated by interruptions, in Parliament, John Bright was saying: "Personally, I do not feel disposed to wage war against these Philistines," when an unruly member of his audience shouted, "Hee-haw!" "If, however," Mr. Bright continued without pause, "my friend at the back of the hall will lend me one of his jaws I shall be encouraged to reconsider my attitude, in view of the historic success of Samson when provided with a similar weapon."

At a London dinner, General Horace Porter was once referred to by the chairman in the following way: "We have here to-night General Horace Porter, and I call upon him for a speech; the gentleman is like a slot-machine; you put in a dinner and out comes a speech." The witty general rose, and replied with a quick fire of satire: "The chairman has thought fit to liken me to a slot-machine; may I return the compliment, and say that he is like one also? He puts in a speech, and up comes your dinner."

An admirer once wrote to Lowell, describing his autograph collection, and concluding with the remark: "I would be much obliged for your autograph." The reply came, bearing with it a lesson on the correct use of the words "would" and "should," which deeply impressed itself on the mind of the recipient. The response read: "Pray, do not say hereafter, 'I would be obliged'; if you would be obliged, be obliged, and be done with it; say 'I should be obliged,' and oblige yours truly, James Russell Lowell."

Dear Sirs:—Something like a rising came on my instep, very small at first, not at all painful, but as it grew larger and began to pain me I consulted a doctor, but in spite of all he could do the sore got worse and began to discharge; then other sores came until the whole top of my foot was one large mass of sores and I could not walk. Then my husband, who had been cured of Scrofula by the use of S. S. S., said he believed it would cure me. I began taking it and eight bottles cured me; my foot healed up nicely. I believe I would have been a cripple for life but for S. S. S.

MRS. G. E. KING.

S. S. S. reaches these old chronic sores through the blood. It goes to the very root of the trouble and counteracts and removes from the blood all the impurities and poisons, and gradually builds up the entire system and strengthens the sluggish circulation, and when the blood has been purified and the system purged of all morbid, unhealthy matter the healing process begins, and the eating ulcer or chronic sore is soon entirely gone.

S. S. S. contains no mineral or poisonous drugs of any description, but is guaranteed a purely vegetable remedy, a blood purifier and tonic combined and a safe and permanent cure for chronic sores and ulcers. If you have a slow-healing sore of any kind, large or small, write us about it, and our physicians will advise you without charge. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases free.

Naggem (wearily) — I don't know; I've never had the chance.

The Truth.
If we did not think Monopole Spices to be purer, stronger and more fragrant than any other kind, we would not say so. It is because we have examined and compared very closely the Monopole with every other brand that we are so positive in our statement. All we care to have you do is to give them a fair trial. The quality of the spices will do the rest. Your grocer handles Monopole goods or can get them for you. Wadhams & Kerr Bros., packers, Portland, Or.

One More.
The conversation turned upon people notorious for telling falsehoods. "In all my life," says the hostess, "I have never told a fib three times." "Well, that makes the fourth," said her husband, skeptically.—Judge.

Woman's Benevolent Association of Chicago.
Mrs. Henrietta A. S. Marsh, President
Woman's Benevolent Association, of 327 Jackson Park Terrace, Woodlawn, Chicago, Ill., says:
"I suffered with la grippe for several weeks and nothing helped me until I tried Peruna. I felt at once that I had at last secured the right medicine and kept steadily improving. Within three weeks I was fully restored."—Henrietta A. S. Marsh.

Independent Order of Good Templars, of Washington.
Mrs. T. W. Collins, treasurer I. O. G. T., of Everett, Wash., has used the great catarrhal tonic, Peruna, for an aggravated case of dyspepsia. She writes:
"After having a severe attack of la grippe, I also suffered with dyspepsia. After taking Peruna I could eat my regular meals with relish, my system was built up, my health returned, and I have remained in excellent strength and vigor now for over a year."—Mrs. T. W. Collins.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.
