A Chicago woman can whistle like a fife and her husband cackles about it like a speckled hen.—Macon Telegraph.

Naturally enough, Admiral Schley is being criticised for telling some more truth about the naval battle.—The Commoner.

It seems the only really safe place for the poor, persecuted automobilist is in the British diplomatic service.—Atlanta Journal.

Five telephone girls resigned in Pittsburg in order to marry. The rush for their places was terrific.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Carnegie is writing a book, but his greatest fame arises from what he has written in his checkbook.—Newport News Times-Herald.

Joaquin Miller has drowned his muse with $1,000,000 worth of oil. His retirement comes high, but may be it is worth it.—Washington Times.

"New York has a boy who is not happy unless he is whipped every day." He ought to join the Russian army.—Richmond News-Leader.

Dr. Dowle will have a hard time to find 12 fakirs as adroit as himself to complete the roster of his new spots.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Dowager Queen Margherita, of Italy, has a lace handkerchief worth $10,000. Very few ladies can afford to blow in that much.—Nyack Star.

"Why do the Japanese win?" asks the London Times. Well, one reason is because the Russians lose; but there may be others.—Washington Post.

There is a school in Philadelphia which teaches brides the chafing dish habit. And still we wonder at the increase of divorces.—Chicago Journal.

There are so many new fashions this fall that it will take three or four meetings of the missionary society to try out all of them.—Bristol (Va.) Courier.

Dowle may claim to be an apostle, but he will have to offer better security than that at a bank if he wants to borrow money.—New York Commercial.

Mrs. President Dressmakers urge all ladies to make their belts dippy. "The dippier the better." At last we have heard the worst.—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Mexican worth $300,000,000 is visiting the United States, and it never occurs to any of us to think that the Mexican dollar is below par.—Atlanta Constitution.

A contemporary asks, "Does spell-binding pay?" There is quite a prevalent impression that in a good many cases it pays the spellbinder.—Richmond News-Leader.

The missionaries have been killed by the natives in German New Guinea, and with this sacrifice civilization will probably take another step forward.—Indianapolis News.

A new use for trading stamps has been found in Philadelphia. A Sunday school in that city gives them out for regularity of attendance. This is putting a premium on godliness.—Providence Journal.

The Mayor of Baltimore complains because he has to sign about 300 checks a day. How much worse it would be, though, if they were all against his private bank account.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The packers estimate that the meat strike has cost them $7,000,000, but they look upon this simply as a loan to the consumers, to be paid back on the installment plan, with interest.—Washington Post.

May Irwin has two new songs—"Nothing But Talk," and "Taint No Use in Lovin' That Way"—either one of which seems to be a sufficient answer to the story that she is going to marry David B. Hill.—Kansas City Star.

The increasing number of fatal accidents upon our railways calls for more than passing comment. "Nobody to blame" is a plea that should not be accepted, for in nearly all cases these catastrophes are preventable.—New York Herald.

Canadian train robbers are beginning to take refuge in the United States. How many American swindlers and bank breakers have found an asylum in Canada? It is but the law of compensation that is now working.—Deseret Evening News.

Mayor Collins, of Boston, has recommended to the School Committee of that city that it shall make an entire overhauling of the school system, with a view to returning to only essential and useful studies and the practice of economics that will greatly reduce the present expenditures for school purposes. And this in Boston!—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

It is astonishing how much time some people have to spare for the supervision of other people's business, and how well they do it—in their minds.—Binghampton Press.

THE WASHINGTON--SEATTLE

THE SCENIC HOTEL OF THE WORLD. This magnificent tourist hotel is Seattle's most prominent architectural feature—being situated upon the highest point of land in the downtown district—300 feet above sea level. It is, however, easy of access by private tramway, by regular hotel conveyance, by street car or by carriage. The scenery from The Washington is the most superb to be found on the Pacific coast. The appointments and furnishings of The Washington are entirely modern and high-class; the cuisine and service are most satisfactory. The rates are exceedingly reasonable for a fashionable tourist hotel.

The Washington is situated in the midst of six acres of beautiful grounds, which with the broad driveways, green lawns, and a profusion of roses and carnations, make the location an ideal one. The scenery from The Washington and grounds is unsurpassed in the West—no other point in Seattle giving such a magnificent view as can be had from this hotel. President Roosevelt was charmed with the scene that met the eye, from the verandas and grounds of the hotel, and so expressed himself. Thousands of others, in public and private life, have come and gone since the opening of this grand hostelry, who have added their tribute to the many expressions of pleasure and satisfaction derived from a glimpse of the Puget Sound country from this vantage ground, including as it does a view of mountains, lakes, Sound, harbor and all Seattle.
