Correspondence of The Argus WASCOPAM, June 2, '56.

Ed. of Argus-DEAR Sin : I have some news worth relating, and hasten to improve consistent temperance man. We hope the opportunity of sending it. An express the Expositor won't think we want any conjust reached here from Col. Wright's en- troversy with it. The sentiments expressed campment on the Nachez. Wright has constructed a rude fort and is now building good Baptists in this vicinity. a bridge across the Nachez river, in order to get at the Indians who are encamped on the north side. Col. Wright is said to have proficed to treat with Kamaiakin if ha proffered to treat with Kamaiakin if he would deliver up all the property hitherto stolen from the whites, and the murderers of Bolon and other white men. Kamaiakin peremptorily refused to enter into negotiations except with a concession on our part, that, the whole country east of the Cascades is to be immediately evacuated by the "Bostons." Wright of course under his present instructions from his government, refused to accept this as a "basis" of peace. Kamaiakin says that Lookingglass, the head of the Nez Perces tribe, has, up to this date, encouraged him to continue hostilities with the assurance of his sympathy, and of his assistance if absolutely necessary. This is to be looked upon as extremely doubtful, but at all events Kamajakin has gone as a special envoy, to the dominions of Lookingglass, to see whether he intends to renounce his neutrality and become a faithful ally according to the provisions of the original protocol, now said to be filed away in Pandozy's breeches pocket, for safe keeping. Kamaiakin says that if the assurances he has received from the Spokans and Nez Perces dignitaries are such as ought to come from the heads of the departments of such powers, he shall forthwith notify Wright of a close of the armistice now existing, and proceed to drive all the "Bostons" from the principalities east of the Cascades. He says, for his part, he would as soon fight them as to pitch into so many women, and if Lookingglass will just say the wool, the word shall fly. He also affirms, that Lookingulass had agreed to capture Gov. Stevens, on his return through his dominions, but owing to the presence of Col. Kelly's command, the tumtum of the great chief became slightly quash, and thinking, like other great heroes, that "discretion was the better part of valor," he dissembled friendship for Stevens,

This is all to be set down as clonas. The miners are here from Colville, (some of them.) and bring a "right smart" of gold dust. They are after supplies, and report that as high as $30 per day were dug out of July next, to commence at 9 A.M. by some of the excavators last winter. CUNTUX. In great haste yours,

POLK COUNTY, May 30, '56 Mr. Argus-DEAR SIR : As the white washing resolution endorsing the States man, which was passed by the democratic convention in Polk, may wrongfully give the people an idea that our people are a very low class, of Pike and Poseyites, I thought I would state the truth about this movement, so as to remove misapprehension. When the convention was called, and Baiss both wanted to g will drop a few remarks.

1st. On its face it declares itself to b devoted to the advocacy of Baptist principles, and that these and these only are Christian principles, and then tells us that as there are no grog-shops in Polk county he shall give himself no trouble about the temperance question. Now if I can under-stand this, his boasted Baptist principles are all trarrowed down to Polk, or else out side of this it is such a woollen-yarn kind of stuff that it can stretch around the run suckers, doggery keepers, and the temper ance men, and bind them into an unholy band of Baptist brotherhood.

Again, he tells us that the slavery question is "a political question," and so formno part of Baptist principles. So these gumelastic principles can stretch around the lordly holder, the bloody driver, the anti-slavery man, and the ultra abolitionist. so that whether standing with the foot on the neck of the oppressed, pleading the cause of the down trodden, or married to a nigger, it is all one with these stretchy principles; they can bind them all into one heterogeneous bundle, harmoniously. I am inclined to the opinion that we shall be obliged to have a new Bible, (a new translation wont do,) before it can be made to appear to as dull a mind as mine, that the church that has no batter principles than these, has any very great claims to being the exclusive church of Christ. YONCALLA, May 30, '56. Ed. Argus-In haste I snatch up my en to give you a few lines. I learn by friend just up from the Coast, that Palmer and Olney had gone up Rogue River under an escort of Regulars and friendly Indians, to meet the bostile bands, who were coming down from the meadows in order to make peace. I have nodoubt but peace is now agreed upon, and you may look for a great rush to the new mines which have turned up near the Meadows. H. No more at present.

back to the House, and Nesmith wished to go to the Council. They all logrolled true, but the taking them by force from with untiring zeal to bring this about, till him is false. That the female was violated there was nothing to corroborate such a conclusion. Wasco. Boise discovering their cake was dough, withdrew their claims. Nesmith however had impudence and egotism enough to induce him to send his name and claim into the convention. Here he was beat by a man having no more principle than Nez, but who was looked upon as an anti-Bushite and not expable of doing quite so much harm by way of bolstering up the clique .-The people in this county, are at length about satisfied with such characters as Nez, Waymire, and Boise, and they are now en joying, so far as I know, the contempt of POLK. the people of BALD KNOB, POLK Co., May 27. Friend Adams - As I believe your paper is open to all articles in defense of justice I have concluded to call your attention to n fact in reference to the injustice of part of an act passed by the Legislature last winter.

The wrong is found in a section of the act providing for the payment of the ser-vices of the Volunteers. It provides for the payment of two dollars per day to each volunteer, and the same for his horse. But in case his horse should die or be lost, he can only claim the appraisement value of the horse-that is, the volunteer must lose services of the horse up to the time of its death or loss.

In order to show the injustice of this. I will suppose a case, in which A hires a horse of B, but A not being able to return the horse, is compelled not only to pay the price of the horse but the hire also. It is evident that the wages of the borse are justly due before he dies; that being the case, how, I should like to know, can this just debt be canceled by the death of the horse, an accident over which the volunteer had no control I

This is certainly a case of the most man ifest injustice. It will defraud the volunteers out of some thirty thousand dollars. I have made these suggestions, hoping that somebody will look into the matter and see that our next Legislature makes some reparation for the wrongs done by the last. JUSTICE. Respectfully yours,

Read all the advertisements over to day. There is no part of a paper so interesting to some, and nothing generally pays better to the man in pursuit of merchandize.
