Anecdote of Jackson.

the following interesting anecdote of Jack- the Tribune : son. The scene of it was in the Tennessee Annual Conference held at Nashville, and to which he had been invited by a vote of the brethren that they might have the pleasure of an introduction to him :

being too small to accommodate the huncalled to order by the Bishop, sented in a large chair in the altar, just before the pul- eries. pit. After prayers the committee retired, in a suit of jeans, arose and came forward. Few seemed to know him. He had always been on circuit, on the frontier; and though always at Conference, he never troubled it with long speeches, but kept his sent, and said but little-that little, however, was always to the purpose. Mr. T. came forward and was introduced to Gen. Jackson. He turned his face towards the General, who said, 'It seems to me that we have met before.' The preacher, apparently embarrassed, said: 'I was wish you through the Creek campaign-one of your body guard at the battle of Horse Shoe-and fought under your command at New Orleans.'-The General rose slowly from his seat, and throwing his long, withered, bony arms around the preacher's neck, exclaimed :-'We'll soon meet where there's no warwhere the smoke of battle never rolls up its sulphurous incense!"

"Never before, or vince, have I seen so many tears shed as then flowed forth from the eyes of that vast assembly. Every eye was moist with weeping.

"Eleven years have passed away since that day. The old hero has been more than ten in his wilent and narrow home .-The voice that cheered the drooping fight, and thundered in the rear of routed armies, is silent forever. The old preacher, too, has fought his last battle, laid his armor by, and gone home to his eternal rest."

HENRY CLAY AND HIS ENEMIES .- The New York Herald, alluding to the Clay festival at Slash Cottage on Saturday, 12th of April, and to the fact of so many distinguished Democrats being present, and outvicing even Whigs in their praise of HENRY CLAY, now that he is dead and out of their way, makes the following pertinent reflections, which we have no doubt suggested themselves to many others in contemplating the great and wondrous change which has come over the opinions and feelings of the ancient enemies of the lamented statesman and patriot :

"It was a very interesting affair, and very remarkable from the fusion on the occasion of the distinguished politician and statesmen of all parties who were there .even John Minor Botts himself, it would the total aggregate of copies of the Scripcertainly have led the "noble Harry of the tures issued through the medium of Bible or am I not !- if I am, I was sadly belied Of this number a proportion of about one in my lifetime among these gentlemen-if fifth has been published by the American I am not, then some other HENRY CLAY has Society, and about three-fifths by the appropriated my history.'

"What a pity that the sinking of all personal and political asperities against a great and deserving man should come too late to do any good. As long as Mr. Clay was in the full possession of his strength and faculties, he was denounced from one end of the country to the other as a very danger. have been about 300,000—the bloodiest ous and really despicable character-when he became superannusted from the infirmities of age, and stood in nobody's way, he was discovered to be a deserving patriot; tiful of flowers, emits no fragrance; the alt him and his services, his virues and his the finest of trees, yields no fruit. glorious name to the skies."

> A GREAT A RTESIAN WELL .- A new arte sian well is being bored in the Avenue Charles X, at the angle of the Avenue St. Cloud and Petit Pare, near Paris, for the purpose of supplying the ornamental lake of the Bois de Boulogne. An interesting paper has been communicated to the Academy by M. Dumas on the subject, from which it appears that Mr. Kind the engineer has undertaken to bore a well 20 inches in diameter, and continue the sinking, if ne cessary, to the depth of 2,500 feet, and thus obtain a daily supply of 10,000 cubic metres of water, being nearly equal to the volume of water delivered by the Seine through the Pont de la Tournelle, at Paris. The boring was commenced on August 2nd last, with a diameter of about 41 inches. For sometime when the operations were through marl and chalk, the average daily progress was 161 feet; then, through sand, it was reduced to 84 to 10 feet; and now having reached another stratum of chalk, containing boulders, the speed is 5 feet, and by May 1st it is expected that the enormous depth of about 2,350 feet from the surface will be attained, being more than 490 feet deeper than the Artesian well at Grenelle. The motive power is a steam engine of twenty-four horse power.

TURKEY .- A memorial has been presented to the Sultan, in which his ministers are accused of having sacrificed the national honor, and the interests of religion, on the occasion of the late concessions made to his Christian subjects. They are accused of having granted to the allies the same privileges which were demanded by Russia, and the withholding of which was one of the chief causes of the war. The memorial (the authors of which are said to be known) was presented to the Sultan by his grand Chamberlain, Jezzet Bey. As to the effect it produced upon the monarch, nothing is known further than the fact that Jezzet Bey has just been dismissed from office, Nichet Bey, an inferior chamberlain, having been promoted to his post.
