

Alarmingly state of Affairs in Kansas.

From the New York papers we learn that the affairs of Kansas are assuming a menacing aspect. Resistance to the execution of the laws of the Territory is anticipated, and the United States troops are in readiness at the call of Governor Shannon to aid the Sheriff in making a great number of arrests. If the Free State party do not submit, the consequences will be disastrous. The Kansas Investigating Committee of the House will be thus furnished with a new subject for inquiry, and in fact, as eye-witnesses, will be themselves competent witnesses.

From the New Orleans papers of May 22d we have the following telegraphic dispatches from St. Louis and Louisville.

St. Louis, May 16—Robinson having been indicted by the Grand Jury for high treason, the Marshal and two deputies have gone to Missouri with Gov. Shannon's requisition for him. Brown, editor of the Herald of Freedom, was arrested while attempting to escape from the Territory. Reader has fled, but it was thought he would be captured. Sheriff Jones is convalescent. Judge Fane, of Georgia, has been appointed Sheriff during Jones' illness, and has been shot at twice while discharging his duty. Fifteen hundred men, with two pieces of artillery and Sharp's rifles, have fortified themselves at Lawrence, and mean to resist all attempts to arrest the indicted person.

About one thousand men responded to the Governor's proclamation, and are encamped in the vicinity of Lawrence and Leavenworth, for the purpose of compelling the people of Lawrence to acknowledge the organic laws of the Territory.

Late from Kansas—BATTLE EXPECTED—GREAT EXCITEMENT.—St. Louis, May 20th. Late intelligence from Kansas states that the people are responding to Governor Shannon's proclamation in great numbers.

Six hundred men, armed and equipped, have assembled at Leavenworth, and five hundred more at Franklin. The greatest excitement prevails throughout the country, and a battle is expected shortly. Louisville, 21.—A correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, writing from Leavenworth, on the 19th inst., says that Wednesday is fixed upon as a day to make the attack on Lawrence. Col. Burdick's company have been furnished with United States arms by Governor Shannon. The Free State men want arms and ammunition.

The Kansas correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat says that Mr. Cox, of Lawrence, had walked on Marshal Donelson to ask his ultimatum. The Marshal replied that every person against whom process had been issued should be surrendered, and all munitions of war at Lawrence's should be given up, and that the citizens of Lawrence must pledge themselves implicitly to obey all existing laws. The citizens held a meeting and promised to comply. The Marshal replied that he did not believe in promises, and that he considered them traitors and rebels.

LATE FROM EUROPE.

THE CRIMEA.—Letters from the camp have been received to the 8th of April.—The preparations for the departure of the army continue active. A despatch from Gen. Peleissier, dated Sebastopol, April 18, is as follows: "Yesterday, I reviewed the entire army of the Crimea. Gen. Ledera, a considerable number of Russian officers, Gen. Cotrington, and De La Marmorata, were present at the military feté."

The epidemic had ceased in the Crimea. Asia.—The arithmetic was established in Asia. The last mail from the East states that the insurgents against the Porte in Arabia have suffered so much from cholera as almost to put down the insurrection.—Reports affirm that thirteen thousand have died out of an insurgent tribe of forty five thousand.

FRANCE.—At the sitting of the Corps Legislatif, on Friday last, M. de Montalembert made a remarkable speech on the freedom of the elective franchise. He denounced the Court of Cassation as an accomplice with the government to render universal suffrage a mockery, and called for an alteration of the law on the monstrous subject.

The French provincial papers speak of an inundation in many parts, caused by the late heavy rains. By a decree lately passed, iron knees and pieces of bent iron for ship building are admitted duty free.

A letter from Vienna states that the commission for the organization of the Principality will commence its labors in the course of this month. Russia.—Count Orloff has been appointed President of the Council of State.

The Government has authorized the importation from Prussia and Poland of sheep skins, meat, oxen, horses, hogs, brandy, spirits, ropes and hay.

TURKEY.—The Paris correspondent of the London Times says the Treaty of Peace with Russia contains a clause that the Allies shall evacuate the Ottoman territory on the exchange of ratifications, and that the evacuation shall take place as soon after as possible.

A letter from Constantinople states that Omer Pasha's army will be formed into movable columns, who would scour the country and enforce the execution of the new laws.

The Central American Question.

The London Morning Star, an organ of the Manchester party, says: "We are told that at the meeting of the Cabinet on Tuesday, the 22d April, at which Lord Clarendon was present for the first time since his return from Paris, the answer to the United States was agreed upon. On some of the points connected with the Central American question the British Government are prepared to give way, but they will not recall Mr. Crumpton, and they are prepared to communicate to the United States that they are unanimous in their determination to continue him in his present position as British Minister at Washington."

STELLA, W.T., June 10, 1856.

FRIEND ARGY.—Dear Sir: Arriving at Portland, I fell in with an old friend; we had served in the wars together, and also on the bloody field of Walla-Walla. Many a long and harrowing tale we could relate respecting that long-to-be-remembered campaign. Methinks I now see those poor old Cayuse horse bones, rising up as if in judgment against me. Poor old horse! how came you here? You have carried a swish for many a year—but it's no use to be sentimental now; it's past and gone. Once more we are permitted to luxuriate on the dainties of life, but, in spite of all visions of the past occasionally disturb my slumbers. Sometimes a headless trunk of a swish rises to my view; at other times my way seems choked by endless heaps of paper. Once in my slumbers I picked courage to examine the contents of a piece which I took from the heap. Oh, horrible! what did it say? Why, that I promised to pay Mr. — for a roan Cayuse horse, (supposed to be a half-breed) $150. With a deep drawn anaethem on all paper wars I awoke, and by great exertions drove the phantoms from my mind. But away with the past.

From Portland we arrived safely at Rainier; from thence, by the aid of four lusty Indians, were poked up to the Cowitz landing. We there took "Zekle's" horses and started a northerly course, over prairie, through timber, mud, and mire, until we arrived in the vicinity of Puget Sound.— We stopped a day at a place called Olym- pion, situated on a clam flat, and there took a boat for Stellacoom, and arrived there the same day. We found it quite a thriving place, situated on high ground, and having a good harbor. It has also most beautiful water scenery, and no doubt will soon be considered as the head of navigation.— There is a military road running from here to Colville, and if those mines should prove as rich as many suppose, no doubt this place will be the main depot for that country. As for the Sound, it is rich in resources, independent of the goldmines.— There are coal beds, inexhaustible forests of fir, cedar, spruce, and hemlock timbers, and fish of nearly all kinds and in large quantities; there are also oyster beds near the head of the Sound.

As I have but just arrived, and as yet not had much time to look around, I will close for the present; but be assured you will soon hear from me again.

Yours truly, S. ANTHELM.

SALEM, June 10 56.

Mr. Editor—I am an emigrant of '43. I drove the foremost team that broke the heaviest sage on Green and Bear rivers. I was at that time fifty years old. I purchased the place where I now live in 1844, and went to work to try to build up Oregon.— My claim was marked off before I bought it; it is a long, narrow claim bordering on the Willamette river two miles north of Salem. As early as 1846 there was a law passed for a territorial road through my lands: I told the commissioners to lay the road to the best advantage for the public good, and they came into my land near the S.W. corner, and ran through to my N.E. corner, making two V's of my land. I gave the road gratis to the public, which is now the stage route to Champoug.

Up to the year 1850 we were a happy people. Peace and friendship prevailed in the community. We met together on public occasions, from one to two hundred strong, halting as we did from all parts of the world, and among us were half-breed Indians, whose mothers a few years before had been wild in the Rocky Mountains.— We all got along peaceably and well, treating each other as friends and citizens.— Envy and spite were hardly known among us; we traded upon honor, without taking each other's notes. Neighbors did not try through sly craftiness to damage each other and elevate themselves by pulling down others, but tried to befriend each other, and render all as comfortable as possible. But, alas, what a change! Honor seems now hard to find, even amongst men and our oath; at least my experience with men has led me to this conclusion. It is well known to all of us of this section how my farm has been haunted with Territorial roads for the last five or six years. Laws have been passed for no less than four running parallel with the one I gave. I have had to spend money at law to keep these roads from ruining my place, but the treachery and hypocrisy that were used last winter caps the climax of what had gone before. Some of the members of the Legislature, whom I believed were my friends, told me there was a desire to have a road from Salem to Doak's, and they wanted it to run on Doak's and I. John B. Keizer and John Ford, saying that John Ford offered half the road, and if J. B. Keizer would give the other half, it would be perfectly satisfactory to all parties. I told them that I would vouch for J. B. Keizer's giving half the road, and making the lane gratis, and if he wanted any damage I would pay it myself. They expressed themselves as perfectly satisfied. Well the road law was passed, and commissioners appointed, one of whom was a head to say in substance, "We will have a road through them Keizer farms or sink the country." They met and surveyed the road, John B. Keizer met them with two witnesses, and told them to run the road on the line between him and Ford. They replied that Ford would not agree to it, and the law said "parties must agree." John told them he would give all the land himself. They told him the law said "parties." We then went home and they ran the road quartering through J. B. Keizer's farm near the center, and ruined the farm in the most ridiculous manner you ever saw. They then ran up the river through my farm, and also through Cicero Keizer's farm, causing me and my two sons to make nearly three miles of fence, and cutting us completely off from the river, the only stock water we have. One of the commissioners tells me coolly, "You have still got a chance to apply for damages, and if they won't give you damages, you can appeal to court." Sympathetic, indeed, this information that they have laid a good foundation for a lawsuit for us.

Now, Mr. Editor, I want some of your knowing ones to read the 13th chapter of Revelations, and tell us if that mantrous "Beast" did come up out of the sea in 1850; also tell us something about the "Beast" with two horns exercising all the power of the first Beast, in short tell us whether we now live under the reign of the Beast, and whether depriving us of stock water is equivalent to forbidding our buying and selling, because we have not the "mark of the Beast" branded on the forehead. I do not wish to be understood as casting reflections on the honorable portion of the members of the last Legislature, for I think there were some honorable men there who voted in good faith, believing that the road was to run on the line between Keizer and Ford; but I believe as the old saying is, "the cards were stacked on them" without their knowing it. Several have told me they voted for the bill, with the express understanding that the road was to run on the line.

I send you a copy of the law asking you to publish it, so that the honorable members of last winter may see it and as a warning to members of the next Legislature, so they will be cautious how they get the cards "stacked on them." I want you to show it to my friend Straight, and ask him if that is the bill he voted for last winter.

No more at present. Yours Truly, W. KEIZER.

We publish the foregoing as an act of justice to an injured man. Mr. K. seems to have been an object of hate and persecution, ever since he stopped the Statesman, and quit voting for the clique. It would not have astonished us if the last Legislature had passed a law, depriving him of water, as well as his stock.

Don't fail to sow a few turnip seeds about now.
