Polk, Mr. Buchanan, as Secretary of State, surrendered to England a large slice of Oregon. (Hisses) You know that out West he went in for "54 40 or fight." Ohio we were all ready to fight. (Applause) But the slave power, led by Mr. Calhoun, came in growling-they feared a war, and so Mr. Buchanan came down to 49 and no fight. (Laughter and hisses.) No, we don't want a man of that kind. We want a man fresh from the people—not grown gray and fessiled, and one who after forty years in public life, has done nothing at all.
Fremont will do something. On the part of Ohio I can safely say she will give her vote for Fremont. (Loud cheers.) I believe that every electoral vote in the Great West will be cust in the same manner .-(Loud and long continued cheering.) The steadfirst American and the honest German will be found voting for him side by side (Applause.) In Ohio we will give a ma jority that will astonish the native -. (Laugh ter and applause.) We intend to do even better than our 70,000 majority last year. The nomi-(Cries of "Good," and cheers.) nation of Fremont has driven all the opponents of the border ruffian democracy into a solid united body. (A voice, "Hold'em there.") The crisis is one that demands the attention of every freeman of the North. We are fighting for a principle-not for office-and I trust in God that we shall be successful. (Loud cheers, during which the speaker retired.)

Trial of Free State Prisoners in Kansas for Trussa.-Three remanded, and five ac-

LAWRENCE, Kansas, June 23. I have already told you that eight pris oners (Free State men) who were arrested near Ossawatomie had been taken to Te cumseh for trial. The trial came off last weck, and five of them were released, and are now in town on their way home. I have learned many interesting facts connected with the affair that should go upon the record.

After they had been kept near when they were taken about two weeks, guarded by United States troops, who were ordered to keep them in irons the most of the time, they had orders to remove them to Tecumseh. A scene then followed which has no parallel in a Republican Government -They were chained two and two by taking a common trace chain and using a padlock at each end, which was so fixed as to make a close clasp around the ankle. Like a gang of slaves, they were thus driven on foot the whole distance, at the rate of twenty five miles per day, dragging their chains after them. The last part of the journey was most torturing to them. They were unaccustomed to traveling-their chains had worn upon their ancles, until one of them became quite exhausted and was put in a wagon. What a humiliating, disgusting sight, in a free government-to see a chained gang of men, who had committed no crime whatever, driven sixty-five miles by their mercides persecutors to attend a trial, then have granted them an unconditional release, and no provision for when the testimony was general, against missaria, by a special staff stail ished for them all alike, with few exceptions. One of the prisoners, named Jacob Benjamin. they could find nothing whatever against, -the witnesses did not even know him, and the proceedings tooked as sidiculouagainst him, that the Court has struck his name from the warrant and other legal (or illegal) papers, as you will see hereafter in the report.

They have their chains here with them, and their exhibition excites much curiosity. The one worn by John Brown, Jr - who is insane in consequence of his inhuman treat ment-is polished thoroughly by his constant exercise while raving to be released, and is easily selected by its bright appear.

While they were at Tecomsch, they witnessed the examination of Dr. Tucker, of Topeka, on a charge of horse-stealing, before Edward Hongland, Esq., United States Commissioner, before whom they were also examined, and although the Doc sor proved an alibi, by five or six reliable witnesses, he was convicted without any show of evidence against him. He even said before the trial commenced, that if he proved an alibi, by 150 of the best men in Topeka, he would still convict him. This Hougland is from Dundee, New York, and is a capital specimen of a Northern dough-

A CHAPTER ON NOSES .- A little turned up nose suggests at once a childish and imperfect character. Little stumpy noses among men are rare in the higher races, and, when they occur, selden fail to indicate weakness of mind, or imperfect moral development. If they are short and thick, we may safely presume a strong sensual disposition. A turned up nose, with wide open nostrils, is a rarely di-covering sign of empty, pompous vanity. A large strongly marked nose is rare in the fairer sex, and where found, is a sure sign of musculine temper, or undue development of the less refined sensations. Great, general leanness the excessive use of snuff, and the frequent use of the finger in deep meditation, may reduce a nose to a pitiful shadow, and give it a most marvellous sharpness. When coupled with pale, thin lips, such a nose is certain warning against the narrow mind that dwells within, or speaks of melancholy temper. Faces of far-fumed beauty, in art or in life, show mostly a nose approaching the Greek ideal, which, perfect as it is in theory, still does not convey to us the feeling we most prize, of a highly devoted mind and vigorous character. It may please the senses, but it can not content the heart.

Louis Napoleon is taking steps to have the Empress appointed Regent for her son.

The project of a law on the subject has been sent to the Senate, and debated with closed doors. The project proposes that on the Emperor's demise the Empress should reign, assisted by the Council of the Regency, whose names the Emperor will leave under a sealed envelope-meanwhile the government papers are writing up the pro-
