the course it has recently pursued, scarcely deserves a reply. The circulation of the Herald never was so large as it is at this ies which we are at present printing, we would soon reach 100,000.

With regad to the alleged alteration in the character of our circulation, we can state with perfect truth that the recent course of the Herald, instead of diminishing, has rather increased the number of our subseribers in the South. The circulation of the Herald in the South was never but a very small part of its support, as it will always be but a small part of the support of any Northern paper. For the last ten or fiftren years our circulation in Boston and whole of our circulation in the Southern States. The truth is that the Northern States are the great newspaper readers; and ever was. never has an idea of circulation, patronage or support entered our heads in connection with the course which we have pursued in relation to the political or party issues, or governmental questions, of the country .-For the last thirty years we have supported the constitutional rights of the South on the negro as well as on other questions. But we never professed to be a Southern journal, or to support exclusively the rights of the South, or the rights of any section of the Union. Our allegiance has always been given, as it was due, to the constitution, its principles and its compromises; but to and as a beneficent institution, we have always regarded slavery in the South in a favorable light, both as an existing element of society and as an indispensable necessity in warm tropical latitudes. We have lived in the South as well as in the North, and are personally acquainted with the condition of labor in both sections of the country. From experience, we know and believe stitution, is most favorable to health, happiness and comfort than that of Northern free labor, so far as numbers are concerned. We could illustrate this position by philosophical arguments and statistical data, but it is not necessary for our present purpose that we should enter more fully into its States for whom unpaid letters shall have As to slavery in its political aspect, we have always taken the same view of it as that entertained by the framers and founders of the constitution. We have always maintained that in the admission of free States into the Union, an equilibrium of representation should be preserved to the South, more especially in the Senate. If, for instance, Kansas should be admitted as a free State, we hold that another slave State should be carved out of Virginia, Texas, or Florida, so as to preserve the balance

These are some of the views which we have always maintained and which we mean to stick to. These principles and our moral convictions have been the same for thirty years past and are the same yet.

We apprehend that our opposition to Buchanan, Fillmore, or any other candidate with great constitutional principles. We ed Constantinoble, May 12, in which he says: are opposed to the party which supports
Buchanan, not because it is an exclusively Southern party, but because it is a corrupt, vicious and demoralizing party, in whose

Land the interest of the source will act hands the interests of the country will not be safe. We are opposed to Fillmore, because he is supported by the rump of the old whig party, under a false mask, false lit is situated on one of the highest points above professions. false principles and false lead-ers, with no sincere or well defined objects in view. We are inclined towards Fremont, because he is a new man, untrammelled by pledges or antecedents, unimpeachable fixed in his mind in his infancy and childhood were both as regards his personal and political never effaced, and finally character, and opposed to all the corrept parties and politicians who have hitherto had the administration of our affairs. We like the state of the had the administration of our affairs. We look upon him the more favorably because make him feel nothing till he mentioned his mothhad the administration of our affairs. We will be more chance of carrying out those not thy hand." administrative reforms which all must admit are imperatively called for in the present condition of our institutions. We have no doubt that there are persons innumerable in the South who entertain similar opinions to these, and it is an improper use of words to class the Herald, or the persons who think with it, in the same category with Wilson, Lloyd Garrison, Wendell Phillips, Seward or Sumner, Theodore Parker, Henry Ward Beecher, Fred. Donglas and other abolitionists, black republicans and rabid secessionists of the North and South. We are merely using the black republican rascals for the purpose of getting a reform and revolution in the administration of the government.

If we are to judge from the vast influx of subscribers which is pouring in to us from all parts of the country, but more particularly from the South, we should say these sentiments are beginning to prevail generally throughout the country and we believe that before the month of November next there will be a large and influential party in favor of Fremont in the South, which uniting with his supporters in the North, will very much increase the chances of his election. But this party will not be bustle composed of corrupt spoilsmen, intriguing office seekers and insane disunionists .-They will form a firm phalanx of the friends and supporters of the constitution, determined to enery the election of their candidate on high moral and constitutional

In this latitude, we suppose that the planting can be deferred even later than the second week in July. Potatoes planted near the first of July often make a handsome yield.

We invite our friends to try the plan proposed by Mr. Seager .- Itt. Farmer.

UNPAID LETTERS .- The plan put in operation at New York, some weeks ago, for the disposition of unpaid letters addressed to persons within the United States, being found to work satisfactorily, we are authorized to say that the Postmaster General has nothing beyond that. As a positive fact given directions for it to be extended to all other offices as practicable. Blank circulars and notes of instructions have been printed, and will be distributed to postmasters in due course of business. The following copy of this circular and note shows what this plan is:

Woman's Nature.- I should not say, from my experience of my own sex, that a woman's nature is flexible and impressible, though her feelings are. I know very few instances of a very inferior man tling the mind of a superior woman; whereas know twenty-fifty-of a very inferior woman rul-ing a superior man. If he love her, the chances are that she will in the end weaken and demoralize him. If a superior woman marry a vulgar or inferior man he makes her miserable, but he seldom governs her mind or vulgarizes her nature; that in the end she will elevate and refine him.
