"A Buchanan organ in Pennsylvania says that "the Democrats consider themselves in the present political campaign, as doing not only a political but a solemn religious duty." Oh yes, and we presume that, at the close of the proceedings of all their meetings, they fervently exclaim in heart, "Let us prey."—St. Louis Intelligencer.

Another evidence of their piety is found in the fact that they are traveling a very "strait" road.

The Reason Why Choate and Pierce Oppose Fillmore.

"Mr. Choate, it will be remembered, longed ardently for the seat upon the bench of the Supreme Court of the United States which President Fillmore finally gave to Mr. Curtis, not only in the matured conviction that he would be the better appointment, but upon the reluctant yet positive advice of Mr. Choate's most loved and trusted friends. How far considerations arising form this bitter disappointment may have driven Mr. Choate into the Democratic ranks, those familiar with his impetuous and high-wrought temperament and with his quick and burning and inextinguishable resentments, can determine for themselves. It is, however, a matter of no practical moment. Mr. Choate is a brilliant rhetorician, and, upon the wrong side of a case, is a masterly advocate; but as a statesman, or even as a politician, he is an acknowledged failure. His pretensions in this respect exploded disastrously ten or fifteen years ago. His public influence is absolutely nothing. He might die to-morrow, without producing any more sensible void in the political world than the falling of a meteor produces in the physical. He is a gorgeous humbug."—Louisville Journal.

"The above reference to Mr. Choate's unsuccessful application for a seat on the Bench of the Supreme Court, reminds us that Senator Pearce, of Maryland, was also an unsuccessful applicant for a similar position during the administration of Mr. Fillmore, and that his application was rejected for his deficiency in legal learning and experience. If this fact be questioned, we refer to the endorsement on his application in the files of the State Department."—American Organ.

New Orleans Trade—The domestic exports of New Orleans to foreign and coastwise ports, for the fiscal year just closed, amounted to $110,353,436, which is an increase over the year ending the 30th of June, 1855, of twenty-six millions, six hundred and ten dollars. The increase in exports to foreign countries for the year reaches the extraordinary sum of $24,859,411, or within a few hundred dollars of twenty-five millions of dollars, and an increase over the great year of 1853 of $12,749,339.—They are given as follows: New Orleans, $110,549,963; New York, $95,026,244; or over five millions greater from New Orleans than from New York.

☞ According to the communication of the Secretary of War, the standing army, in regiments, numbers over 13,000 men, of whom more than 12,000 are engaged in protecting the frontier against the depredations of hostile Indians.

☞ The Washington Union announces an improvement, by a citizen of Alabama, of a form of projectiles for rifled cannon, which have since been twice submitted, with good results, to the test of actual experiment. These experiments were made with a rifled twenty four pounder, conducted by experienced and competent officers of the United States army. The results were such as to induce the war department to make a third and more extended trial of the new projectile, with a view of its adoption by the government if finally as satisfactory as anticipated. The projectile is of an elongated form, and, it is said, by a simple, yet ingenious combination of cast and wrought iron, secures all the advantage of the Minie ball.

☞ An English sporting magazine gives the following rule to determine the hight a colt will attain when full grown, and says that in nine cases out of ten the rule will hold good: When the colt gets to three weeks, or as soon as he is perfectly strengthened in the limbs, measure from the edge of the hair on the hoofs to the middle of the first joint, and for every inch it will grow to the hight of a hand of four inches when its growth is natural. Thus if the distance be found sixteen inches, it will make a horse sixteen hands high. By this means a man may know something what sort of a horse, with proper care, he is to expect from his colt.

☞ The Newburyport Herald states that both the cod and mackerel fisheries promise to be very successful this season. The early arrivals from Labrador report an abundance of fish. Two vessels arrived at Marblehead, Mass., from a voyage of about three months, one with 15,000 and the other with 10,000 cod, of such as to consume the first 130 hhds., and the latter 120 hhds. of salt. The 15,000 fish make 900 quintals, and the voyage is profitable enough to divide $300 to a man.

Methodistism in Canada.—The Methodist Episcopal Church in Canada has two Annual Conferences, the Niagara, and the Bay of Quinte, both of which have recently held their meetings. The former numbers a membership of 6,470, and the latter 5,887. The total increase during the year has been 1,230, and the total membership is 12,457. The Wesleyans have just closed their thirteenth annual Conference, and show a denominational efficiency.

☞ The limitation of the time of day for marrying in England is fixed by statute. The period between 8 o'clock in the morning and noon is assigned as the legal time for all marriages. In this country the evening is most generally selected for the ceremony. The custom here and the law in England are widely different in this respect.

☞ One of the largest Cotton Factories in the world is in process of erection on the Shetucket river, in the lower edge of Windham county, Conn., on the line of the Hartford, Providence and Fishkill Railroad. A splendid water power is available at all seasons at the site of the mill which is known as Lloyd's Bridge. The mill, which is the largest one in the United States, will be built of granite, and its dimensions are as follows: Length, 950 feet; breadth, about 60 feet; height, 7 stories. The foundation will alone be 30 feet high, and of proportionate thickness and solidity. It will give employment to 1200 looms!

Corsets.—An exchange says "tradition insists that corsets were first invented by a brutal butcher of the thirteenth century as a punishment for his wife. She was loquacious, and they were put on to take her breath away. This cruel punishment was inflicted by other heartless husbands, till at length it became so universal that the ladies in their defence made a fashion of it—so it has continued.

☞ Beware how you address yourself in anger to any one. An angry word is like a letter put into the post—once dropped, it is impossible to recall it.

Another Discovery.—A crusty old bachelor has made the following discovery: "No more women in heaven—they can't get in; their hoops are so large they will have to go the broad road! None of these fashionables can ever crowd through the narrow gate."

☞ Whenever we drink too deeply of pleasure we find a sediment at the bottom which pollutes and embitters what we relish at first.

☞ A late French writer says that the Bostonians are much like his own countrymen, polite, courteous, and lovers of frogs, and that they have a pond in the midst of a public garden, which is kept for the purpose of supplying the city with these animals.

☞ You will never find a friend if you seek one without a failing.

☞ Strong passions work wonders when there is stronger reason to curb them.

☞ A troubled mind is often relieved by maintaining a cheerful demeanor.

☞ We are not so much to regard who speaks, as what is spoken.

☞ Prayer is the weak man's refuge, and the strong man's hope.

☞ Let a man understand you think him faithful and it makes him so.

☞ To be candid—speak of the present as though they were absent: to be charitable—speak of the absent as though they were present.

LINES

To the Memory of Charlotte Eleanor Price, of Linn City, who departed this life on the 5th of May, 1856.

To that happy abode where the bright spirits dwell,
In the spring-tide of life she hath fled;
Swept off from the friends that have loved her so well,
To sleep the deep sleep of the dead.

She is gone—as a cloud passeth quickly away,
On the wings of the rapid wind borne;
Or like a sweet flower which bloometh today,
And tomorrow lies faded and torn.

The home which her presence made joyful and glad,
Is shrouded in darkness and gloom;
And her fond mother weepeth, all lonely and sad,
For her darling lies cold in the tomb.

Yet why should we grieve, while the angels are singing
Around her the songs of the blest,
And their rapturous chorus through heaven is ringing,
To welcome the maid to her rest.

A bright wreath of glory is placed on her head,
And she reigns with the seraphs on high;
Why then should we grieve that the maiden is dead?
Sure this is to live—not to die.

Nursery.

I HAVE now for sale at my nursery, about midway between Oregon City and Milwaukie, several thousand APPLE TREES of thrifty growth, embracing all the CHOICEST VARIETIES OF FRUIT ever brought to Oregon. My trees are from one to two years old, and for size and beauty are unsurpassed. I am now ready to wait on customers, and shall be happy to furnish trees to all such as see fit to give me a call. Come and see my nursery before you purchase elsewhere.

I have also a quantity of PLUMS, and QUINCES for sale. ORRIN KELLOGG.

In Equity.

John McLaughlin, complainant, vs.
Francis W. Pettygrove & Alfred Pettygrove.
Clackamas County District Court, Oregon Territory.

IN this cause it appearing by an affidavit of complainant filed with his bill that both of the defendants are non-residents of the Territory, it was ordered by the Court that the Clerk make an order, and have the same published, directed to said defendants; this is therefore directed to the said Francis W. Pettygrove and Alfred Pettygrove, and they are hereby notified that this suit was commenced against them on the 6th day of September, 1855; that the object of the bill is to quiet the title to lot No. 6 in block No. 28 in Oregon City in favor of the complainant, and for a decree that a certain bond, touching the same, made by the complainant to Alfred Pettygrove on the 13th day of September, 1843, be canceled. The said defendants are required to appear at said Court, on the first day of the next term thereof after the date of this notice, and answer the bill, or that the same will be taken as confessed.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my hand and affixed my official [L. S.] seal, this 15th day of May, A. D. 1856.
