Florence Nightingale.

There's a name by mothers spoken
In the lonely hour of prayer;
There's a name—in accents broken
Utter'd—and by lips of care:
Sisters in their tears have breathed it,
Hearts have sobbed that spoke the word;
Soldiers as in pride they've wreathed it,
Praised the hour that name was heard.
While the wintry midnight falleth,
And the western star grows pale,
England on that one name calleth—
Nightingale! dear Nightingale!

From the couch where wealth reclineth,
To the camp where anguish lies,
Where the bleeding warrior pineth,
Where the brave heart sinks and dies—
Seeking, finding the neglected,
Pouring comfort o'er the heart—
Onward moves the God-directed,
God assisted, for her part!
As the wintry midnight falleth,
And the western star grows pale,
Britain on that one name calleth—
Nightingale! dear Nightingale!

Other names shall Fame be pealing,
Other names may upward start—
Not like thine, to last while feeling
Throbs within a human heart;
Not like thine—whate'er the station;
Nothing can that name efface;
If forgotten by the nation,
What could hide its deep disgrace?
While the sand of centuries falleth,
While the stars of years grow pale,
Time shall hear a lip that calleth
God to bless thee—Nightingale!

—Charles Swain.

MEASUREMENT OF TIME.—The day began to be divided into hours from the year 293 B. C., when L. Papirius Cursor erected a sun-dial in the temple of Quirinus, at Rome. Previous to the invention of water-clocks, (158 B. C.,) the time was called at Rome by public criers. Water-clocks were the first instruments used to measure time independently of the sun. They were probably vessels of water with a small hole at the bottom, so contrived that the water ran out in a certain time, possibly an hour, after which the vessel was again filled, to be emptied as before. This was a tedious process, no doubt; but it was an improvement upon the sun-dial, the perpendicular gnomon of which gave hours of different lengths at different seasons of the year. The Chinese divide the day into twelve parts, of two hours each. The Italians reckon twenty-four hours round, instead of two divisions of twelve hours each, as we do. In England, the measurement of time was in early days alike uncertain and difficult; one expedient was by wax candles, three inches burning an hour, and six wax candles burning twenty-four hours. These candles were invented by Alfred the Great, A. D. 882, a period at which clocks and hour-glasses were not known in England.

INCREASE OF JEWS.—An intelligent writer in the North American Review supposes that no class of immigrants has increased more rapidly in this country than the Hebrew. In 1850, a man might count upon his fingers all the synagogues in the land; now there are at least a quarter of a million of Jews, from eighty to ninety synagogues, and a multitude of smaller communities where a nucleus exists which will soon grow into a synagogue. The city of New Yoak alone has twenty synagogues and thirty thousand Jews; about one twentieth part of the population being such. There are synagogues in all the chief cities of the seaboard; two in Boston, five in Philadelphia, five in Baltimore, three in New Orleans, two in Charleston, and four in Cincinnati.

APPLES FOR EXPORT.—Owing to the failure of the apple crop in Europe, there is a large demand here for exportation, and at least 10,000 barrels of Newton pippins, embracing the best of the crop, will be sent out this fall. One firm already has contracts for England to the amount of 6,000 barrels. This variety of apples has the preference over all others, though Baldwins and Russets are exported to some extent. Shipments this year have commenced early; and all the first quality fruit received in this market up to the 1st December, of the varieties mentioned, will be readily purchased to send of—New York Journal of Com.

NOT A CANDIDATE.—A Buchanan man, lately riding on the cars in Indiana, determined to test the truth of the fusion reports, took the vote on the train himself. He hurried through the cars with a paper and pencil, asking this one and that one for whom the voted. Some said Buchanan, some said Fremont, and some said Fillmore. At last he came to a white-cravated, black coated, demure looking individual.

"Sir," said he, "who do you go for?"

"My friend," answered the saintly personage, "I go for Jesus Christ."

The Democrat looked over his paper.

"Sir," said he, "there is no such candidate running. If there is, I will bet you a hundred dollars he don't get fifty votes in Indiana!"

FORTY-NINE YEARS IN BED.—An English paper, the Doncaster Gazettee, in announcing the death of William Sharpe, at Werlds, says that he went to bed in 1801 a still life of 49 years passed in a chamber scarcely nine feet square, the window of which had not been raised for the last 38 year—and passed uninterruptedly in bed. When he was thirty, he went one bright morning to the church to be married. His affianced came not—her father having an invincible repugnance to Mr. Wm. Sharpe as a son-in-law. The mortified groom went home, undressed, got in bed, pulled the blankets over his head, and for forty nine years obstinately refused to get up, and clothe himself and go to work. It is remarkable that he has never at all been seriously ill, during this marvellously protracted incumbination over his shame. He was sick but for a week before his death. His body was perfectly sound, in spite of its great age and great abuse.

A GOOD MEDICINE.—The medicines which we, says the editor of Hall's New York Journal of Health, most unhesitatingly take for all the aches and ills that our flesh is heir to, which is uniformly successful, and which we almost daily recommend with the highest confidence, and which comes next in our esteem to the great remedies of Air and Exercise, and which nobody but a Doctor can be induced to take, except now and then a sensible man among a million, is the Tincture of Time. The reason of its want of proper confidence is, that it costs nothing and has no mystery about it. What a grand thing it is for Doctors that so few people have any sense, not even enough to keep well by doing justly, living temperately, and pursuing moderately the various callings of human life!

THE CHURCH AND GEN. WALKER.—The Vicar General and Administrator of the Diocese of San Salvador, addresses a circular to his curates, in which, after declaring William Walker the enemy of the Catholic Church, for which he intends to substitute Protestantism, he calls upon the priests to be watchful against the enemy, and to prepare a vigorous resistance.

SAYING GRACE.—An anonymous correspondent mentions an anecdote of a very worthy old farmer, who having several men engaged to assist him in his "haying and harvesting" assembled them in the morning, as was his invariable custom, for family prayers; after which, as the breakfast was not quite ready, he directed them to be seated at the table, and in order to save time, said "grace" in anticipation, in this wise; "Oh! Lord, we have nothing on the table, but bless what we expect to have! Amen—sit down men!"

A BATTLE FIELD FOR SALE.—The battle field of Marengo, with its palatial monuments, its rich museum of precious objects, and its richer historic souvenirs, is now offered at public auction in the streets of Paris!

The domain of Marengo is situated near Alexandria in Piedmont, on the line of the railroad between Genoa and Turin, and contains about two hundred and fifty acres of ground, vines, woods, and fields, watered by the Servia. The monumental palace, destined to perpetuate the memory of the glorious battle of Marengo gained in 1800 by Napoleon, was built by the Chevalier Delavo in 1845, and is a large and handsome palace. It contains furniture, objects of art, paintings and statues commemorative of the battle, and a museum composed of objects which belonged to Napoleon and Desaix, and arms found on the field of battle. This museum is collected in the old tavern which stood on the ground before the battle, and around which the palace is built.

For the information of foreigners, ambitious for Italian residence and for Bonapartist souvenirs, I should add that the upset price of the whole property is 600,000 francs, and that there is a good mill privilege on the premises.—Cor. N. Y. Times.

THE LADY'S MAN.—His face is eternally wreathed with unmeaning smiles, and when he addresses a lady it is always in a strain of absurd nonsense, so that we have often been surprised that a lady armed with a fan, and so addressed, did not brain the animal on the spot. If a lady's man does by any possibility possess the least degree of common sense, he takes special pains to conceal it, for somehow or other he has taken it into his wise head that empty sentimentality and absurd nothings are the only offerings to a female mind. In order to be true to what he conceives to be the entertainment and amusement of the ladies, he turns traitor to manhood, and so becomes epicene himself without a just claim to be classed with either the male or female sex. His best qualities are those which he possesses in common with certain kind of dogs—to fetch and carry.

Ladies who laugh in their sleeves at the fool may not object to the attention of the servant, and so, out of mere commiseration, may allow him to carry a fan, or escort them to the opera, when the men of their acquaintance are not accessible. The lady's man is sufficiently rewarded for attending them through a whole evening's entertainment, if they will only drop a smile into his hat at parting. With this substantial blessing he is encouraged to future exertions in the wide field of masculine ambition.—If a man's duty to a lady consists in picking up dropped handkerchiefs and fans, twirling her round to giddiness and exhaustion in the waltz, we should perhaps, envy the accomplishment of the mere lady's man.—N. O. Delta.

INTERMARRIAGE OF COUSINS.—The Norfolk Reflector says that the assessor's return of Huron county shows 11 blind, 12 deaf and dumb, 12 insane, and 12 idiotic persons in the country. The parents of five of these were by relation cousins before marriage. Three of the five (2 blind and 1 idiotic) were so afflicted from birth, and one (idiotic) from infancy. The fifth was deaf and dumb for a time not ascertained, probably from birth. It is probable that the number of parents so related to each other is larger, as there was no information obtained as to part of them.
