The Oregon Argus.

A Weekly Newspaper, devoted to the Principles of Jeffersonian Democracy, and advocating the Side of Truth in every Section of the Country.

Vol. II. OREGON CITY, OREGON, MARCH 21, 1857.

No. 49.

MR. EDWARDS.

The last of the list of the names of the Argus is Numbers of 2, and it seems to me a duty to pay a proper share of attention to the subject of the last week, to the list of the names of the Argus. It is not in my power, nor I hope in my power, to give it any more than I have done, but at the same time, it will not be disagreeable to me to pay a proper share of attention to the subject. It is not in my power, nor I hope in my power, to give it any more than I have done, but at the same time, it will not be disagreeable to me to pay a proper share of attention to the subject. It is not in my power, nor I hope in my power, to give it any more than I have done, but at the same time, it will not be disagreeable to me to pay a proper share of attention to the subject.