

From Kansas.

Sr. Louis, May 23.—The correspondent of the Democrat says that a force of dragoons and artillery led Fort Leavenworth a few days since to fight the Cheyennes, who are reported concentrated at Republican Fork, Kansas and Blue Rivers.

The Republican publishes a letter from Brown, editor of the Herald of Freedom, to Brewerton, correspondent of the New York Herald, which shows that a serious difficulty has occurred between Gov. Robinson and Brown. The former charges the latter with an attempt to sell the Free State party to Gov. Shannon, upon condition of being released from prison.

Brown denies it and calls Robinson an unmitigated liar, and requests Brewerton to represent him so.

Gen. Harney and Mr. Orr, of South Carolina, have arrived in the Territory.—The latter has declined a complimentary dinner.

The New York Sun has the following just and pertinent remarks on the prevailing method of composing juries. The practice in question has as little warrant in sound law as it has in sound sense:

"Had an opinion," is the objection on which a long list of gentlemen were set aside as incompetent to serve as jurors on the trial of Mrs. Cunningham. We recognize at once the justice of the principle of law which excludes persons whose minds are prejudiced from serving on juries—but prejudice and opinion differ widely. It is one thing to prejudice a person accused of crime—for prejudging implies that the mind has reached definite conclusions—and quite a different thing to form an opinion of published statements without the mind receiving the strong personal bias which constitutes what we call prejudice. Intelligent men cannot read evidence without forming an opinion of its value, or its appearance of conclusiveness; and we have but little respect for the judgment of men who can read without thinking of what they read, or without questioning its accuracy or credibility.

The men who are capable of forming an opinion without prejudice, or of judging of the evidence and its coherence, are just the kind of men who should sit as jurors to try grave accusations.

Struck by the Comet.—The good people at Indianapolis were thrown into a state of alarm on Tuesday evening, May 26th, that is described as "perfectly awful," by seeing the moon rise from behind the eastern hills, as red as blood, and looking like the great head of a fiery dragon. They thought it was the Comet—that it was about to strike—that the end of all earthly things was at hand, and they set themselves to work, with prayers and tears and supplications, to "make their peace," and to be ready to "go up."

So frightened were they, says the Lafayette Journal, that the alarm bells were rung, and the fire engines brought out, and the excitement and confusion for a few moments was indescribable. The idea of calling out the engines under such circumstances was worthy of the genius of Dame Partridge, who undertook to repel an invasion of the Atlantic with her mop. The appearance of the full orb above the horizon soon restored the people to their senses and converted their shrieks of affright and frenzied appeals to Heaven, into a general guffaw.

The Lafayette Journal hopes that Gov. Willard is by this time fully convinced of the necessity of an extra session of the Legislature to vote an appropriation to keeping up the Insane Asylum.

Iowa News.

Prices Our West.—At Council Bluffs, Flour is $5 per hundred; Corn Meal, $1.50 per bushel; Corn, $1 a 1.10; Potatoes, $2; Oats, 80 cents; Onions, 86; Beans, 85; Pine Lumber is $125 per M; Cotton-wood, $40; and Walnut and Oak, $50.

A new hotel is about to be erected at Burlington, on Main street, 161 feet, by 117 on Columbia, and 69 feet high from sidewalk to cornice top. It is to be erected by a stock company at an estimate cost of $85,000 to $75,000.

At Pleasant.—Our sister city is enjoying its wonted prosperity; striving hard to overtake Iowa City. We learn from the Home Journal, that Senator Harlan is about to put up a fine residence there.—Bishop Hamline has also concluded to make that place his permanent residence.

The Mormons and Indians.—Both continue with us. The former, to the number of several hundred, are encamped on the west side of the river, awaiting the coming of several hundred saints, now on the ocean.—Iowa City Republican.

High Prices.—The following is the price of some of the leading articles in the flour keeping line in this city, to wit: Flour $7 per barrel; corn meal $1 per bushel; potatoes $1.50; hams 16 cents per pound; butter 40 cents; lard 15 cents; eggs 12 cents per dozen; fresh meat 10 to 12 cents per pound; sugar 14 cents; coffee same; molasses $1 to $1.20 per gallon; fire wood $4 per cord; or other articles in proportion. Some of our "prophets" say that flour will go up to $10 per barrel; if it should, we'll be ready for the comet.—Bur. Gazette.

The following is related of Mayor Foley, of Covington, Ky. Some months since a man was arrested and brought before him, for whipping his wife. The mayor fined him, and let him go, but in a week the chap was again arrested for the same offense; this time, his honor imprisoned him, and after serving out his time, he went home and again abused his better half, and notwithstanding the mayor fined and imprisoned the fellow for each offense, he would persist in his vile behavior. The mayor after trying for months to reform him, had well nigh given up the task, until one morning this "hero of a hundred fights" (with his wife), was arraigned on the old charge. "Well," says his honor,

"I suppose you think I am going to fine you?" "I don't," says the culprit.—"Perhaps you imagine I will imprison you?" continued mayor F. "I expect so," was the answer. "I shall do neither," said the mayor, "I discharge you." The fellow's countenance began to brighten up, when his honor adjourned the court, and after stepping to the door, invited him outside. "Now you mean devil," says mayor F., "I have fined you and imprisoned you till I am tired of it, and yet you persist in ill-treating your wife. I will now tell you, that if ever I hear of your abusing that woman again, I'll whip you within an inch of your life, d—n me if I don't. Now travel." The mayor has never heard from the fellow since.

COFFEE A POWERFUL ANTIDOTE.—A very few persons, and I believe but a small number of medical men, know that Coffee is one of the most important antidotes to many deadly poisons, and to a great many ordinary drugs. This remarkable fact leads to serious considerations, many patients receiving the right remedies, but not being prohibited from taking Coffee, destroy the intended effect of their medicine, become worse, and lead the physician to change the right treatment into a false and perhaps unhappy one—while the simple knowledge of the above fact would have contributed to mollerate their state and save them. But far more important is it to know that the fatal results of many accidental, spontaneous or criminal empoisonments could be stopped almost instantly by administering that simple antidote, Coffee, while the loss of time in calling a physician, &c., is often the only cause of the loss of life.—Dr. Max Langgenschwartz.

BORING OF ARTESIAN WELLS.—A letter in a Charleston paper gives the following description of the manner in which Artesian wells are formed:

This style of well is said to be an invention of a Frenchman, whose name I do not now remember. It is dug, or rather drilled with a heavy steel drill of 1,800 pounds weight, 20 feet in length, and a half foot in diameter. The drill is raised above the surface of the ground, by means of pulleys attached to a wheel, which is worked by a small engine, to the height of forty or fifty feet, and then allowed to drop.

After going to the depth of the drill, strong poles are attached to the upper extremity. In this manner it is raised and allowed to drop. The man who is digging the well informed me that he had drilled through 75 rocks, averaging 38 feet in thickness. He has completed one 1,200 feet in depth. Iron tubes are inserted as he advances, and in this manner casing is prevented. The well now completed, throws a jet of water to the height of 153 feet above the surface. I put my hand into the reservoir into which it fell, and, to my surprise, I found the water quite hot—clearly showing that the intestines of the earth are heated.

The borer is now proceeding with a well ten times as large as the one completed.—The one already completed he intends boring to the depth of 1,800 feet, when the water will be thrown to the height of 300 feet. It is expected that this alone will furnish an abundant supply of water.

A traveller called at nightfall at a farmer's house—the owner being from home, and the mother and daughter being alone, they refused to lodge the wayfarer. "How far, then," said he, "to a house where a preacher can get lodgings?" "Oh, if you are a preacher," said the old lady, "you can stay here." Accordingly, he dismounted. He deposited his saddle-bags in the house, and led his horse to the stable. Meanwhile, the mother and daughter were debating the point as to what kind of a preacher he was. "He cannot be a Presbyterian," said the one, "for he is not dressed well enough." "He is not a Methodist," said the other, "for his coat is not the right cut for a Methodist." "If I could find his hymn book," said the daughter, "I could tell what sort of a preacher he is." And with that, she thrust her hand into the saddle-bags, and pulling out a flask of liquor, she exclaimed—"La! mother, he's a Hard Shell Baptist."

The story that Rev. Mr. Kulloch is about to forsake the clerical profession for that of the law is contradicted, and as a member of the bar we are glad to hear it. We hope he will remain where he is until he has improved a little. Near our former home in New York, a church was investigating certain charges against a member, and, just as they were about expelling him, a document was got up, signed by a large number of sinners, "remonstrating against turning that man back into the world again." We suggest similar action to the bar of Boston.—Hartford (Conn.) Press.

A SYLLOGISM.—Here is one of the prettiest illustrations of the absurdity of most verbal syllogistic reasoning that we remember to have seen: "A sailor is not a sailor when he is a board; a sailor is not a sailor when he is a shore. But he must be either aboard or ashore; therefore he is not a sailor."

A companionable woman is always pretty. Beauty catches fools even if it has no sense with it; but good sense without beauty, and with a sweet spirit, always wins respect, admiration and love. "She looks well until she speaks," is often whispered among men in the very atmosphere of beauty.

A writer in "Blackwood" says that every man who is not a monster, mathematician, or a mad philosopher, is the slave of some woman or other.
