The Oregon Argus.

SOUTHDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1857.

The Constitution.

We have to-day published the third and last part of the report of the constitutional convention. This part contains the text of the proposed constitution in full. It is designed to be as compact, as intelligible, and as convenient to the use of the people as possible.

The Constitution is thorough and complete. It is designed to be as compact, as intelligible, and as convenient to the use of the people as possible.

The Constitution is thorough and complete. It is designed to be as compact, as intelligible, and as convenient to the use of the people as possible.

The Constitution is thorough and complete. It is designed to be as compact, as intelligible, and as convenient to the use of the people as possible.

The Constitution is thorough and complete. It is designed to be as compact, as intelligible, and as convenient to the use of the people as possible.