

ANTI-MATRIMONIAL CLUBS.—Several anti-matrimonial clubs are forming among the young men of the city, we understand, who are compelled, upon assuming membership, to promise solemnly that they will under no circumstances either marry, or act as aiders or abettors to the "institution." To what is the world coming—or more pertinently, to what will it come if this peculiar way of thinking extends to general conduct?—Cin. Gazette.

"What has brought you here?" said a lone woman who was quite "flattered" the other morning, by an early call from a bachelor neighbor who lived opposite, and whom she regarded with peculiar favor. "I came to borrow matches."—"Matches! that's a likely story! Why don't you make a match yourself? I know what you have come for," cried the exasperated old virgin, as she backed the old bachelor into the corner; "You came here to kiss me almost to death! But you shan't, without you are the strongest, and the Lord knows you are!"

An old bachelor, on seeing the words "families supplied" over the door of an oyster saloon, stepped in, and said he would take a wife and two children.

This is truly a progressive age we live in. There are no "little girls" now. The sex jumps from infancy to young womanhood. They talk of marriage at ten, and at fifteen have families.
