

The Sabbath.
With silent awe I hail the sacred morn,
Which slowly wakes, while all the fields are still;
A soothed calm on every breeze is born—
A grave murmur gurgles from the rill,
And echo answers softer from the hill,
And soft sings the limer from the thorn—
The skylark warbles in a tone less shrill.
Hail! light scene! hail! sacred Sabbath morn;
The gales that lately sighed along the grove,
Have hushed their downy wings in sweet repose;
The hovering rank of clouds forgets to move;
So smiled the day when the first morn arose.

GOLD AND SILVER.—An able writer in Hunt's Merchant's Magazine denies the assertion that "there is not gold and silver enough in the world to furnish a sufficient currency." He says: "The time has been when this was often and loudly asserted. The discovery of the mines of California and Australia, which bid fair to flood the world with their rich products, have done much to silence this argument; it never had any foundation, in truth. It was never sustained by any facts or reasonable theory; it was, nevertheless, once the most popular and potent of all the arguments in favor of paper money. We shall not attempt to disprove the position, it seems unnecessary. If we have not already shown the fallacy of such an assumption, by the explanation we have given of the nature and functions of money, it would be impossible for us to do so now. The whole amount of gold and silver in Europe and America in 1851, was estimated to have amounted to $1,500,000,000. There have since been added $1,500,000,000; making a total of $6,000,000,000. Of this amount there is used as currency about $2,400,000,000; leaving $3,600,000,000 to be used as plate, jewelry, etc." From this it would appear that only two-fifths of the precious metals now in the countries mentioned, are used (or needed, for if needed they could certainly be used) for currency. All estimates of this kind are doubtful, only approximations, but the statisticians of this country and Europe agree in the results we have stated. We present these considerations and statistics, not because they are necessary to our argument, but to meet the popular but fallacious idea that there is not enough gold and silver in the world to furnish a sufficient currency for the wants of commerce.

De Bow's mortality statistics show that the people of the United States are the healthiest on the globe. The deaths are three hundred and twenty thousand per year, or one and one third per cent. of the population. In England the ratio is over two per cent., and in France nearly three per cent. Virginia and North Carolina are the healthiest of the States, and have six hundred and thirty-eight inhabitants over one hundred years of age.

A SIMPLE REMEDY.—A writer in the Baltimore Sun, who has been afflicted severely in his family by that appalling disease bronchitis, has found relief from the following remedy: "Take honey in the comb, squeeze it out and dilute with a little water, and wet the lips and mouth occasionally with it. It had never been known to fail, in cases where children had threats swollen as to be unable to swallow. It is a simple, and may be an efficacious remedy."

HOW TO GET TO CONGRESS.—The following story is told by the Mobile Tribune of Judge Hawkins, the present Representative to Congress from the State of Florida—a man, by the way, brimful of genuine wit. During the war with the Florida Indians, he commanded a volunteer company. On one occasion they fell upon a party of the enemy concealed in a swamp. The Captain sprang upon a log (with more valor than discretion), waved his sword, and cheered his men to the charge. Just then he was shot down. One of his officers ran to ask if he was much hurt. "Not very badly," said Hawkins; "just about enough to send me to Congress!" The prediction has been verified.

SEVEN DEADLY SINS.—Refusing to take a newspaper. 2. Taking a newspaper and not paying for it. 3. Not advertising. 4. Getting married and not sending the printers any of the wedding cake. 5. Making a printing office a loafing place. 6. Reading the manuscript on the composition case. 7. Never paying your subscription until the printer has to send four or five times, becomes disgusted, and makes a present of it.

LATE ENGLISH PAPERS.—Late English papers mention that a wife was recently sold by her husband, at Worcester, for a shilling and a quart of ale.

MORAL EDUCATION.—Moral education is a better safeguard of liberty than a standing army.—If we retrench the wages of the schoolmaster, we must raise those of the recruiting sergeant.—Erevert.

TO RENDER SHOES WATER PROOF.—Warm a little beeswax and mutton suet until they are liquid, and rub some of it slightly over the edges of the sole where the stitches are.
