

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

State Ticket.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE TO CONGRESS, J. R. McBRIDE, of Yamhill. FOR GOVERNOR, JOHN DENNY, of Marion. FOR SECRETARY OF STATE, LEANDER HOLMES, of Clackamas. FOR STATE TREASURER, E. L. APPLIGATE, of Umpqua. FOR STATE PRINTER, D. W. CRAIG, of Clackamas.

The present number closes the III. volume of The Argus. Sincerely thankful for past favors, we ask our friends to renew their efforts in our behalf. We are conscious of many defects and errors of the past, and enter upon this volume with a desire to improve upon suggestions offered by experience. We are receiving daily evidences of public approval from every direction, and as long as our friends continue to sustain us, we shall continue to fight for truth and the rights of the people, till victory perches on our banner.

Republican Convention.

On the outside of this paper will be found the proceedings of the Republican State Convention held in Salem last Friday. The Convention embraced a larger number of delegates than we expected, owing to the lateness of the call from the Central Committee and a somewhat prevalent opinion in certain localities that a Republican organization was premature. The Convention was marked by a unanimity and harmony seldom seen in like bodies. Upon the imperative necessity of a full and thorough organization of the party immediately, the Convention was unanimous. That the present is the most auspicious time we shall ever see for digging deep and laying the foundation for the noble edifice that must ere long serve as a refuge for all the patriots of our young State, seemed to be the firm conviction of all those intelligent Republicans who were sufficiently awake to duty to send up delegates to the Convention. The Convention was marked by a unanimity of purpose and feeling—concord reigned throughout its deliberations, and all seemed actuated with a desire to advance the interests of the glorious cause in which they are enlisted. As intelligent, moral and sober a body of men we have never seen meet in so large a convention before, and we certainly have seen none where the delegates were so fully imbued with a love for the cause and a fraternal feeling towards each other.

The ticket nominated we have run up at our mast head to day, and we intend to work for it, fight for it, and vote for it. We have no apologies to offer for it. It is a better ticket by far than any yet in the field, so far as persons are concerned, intellectually and morally, and our candidates stand upon a platform of principles as much superior to any that either wing of the black democracy can bring out as the heavens are higher than the Black Swamp. If the Republican ticket is elected, no man who votes for it need have any fears of being sold to a caucus of rotten demagogues, of seeing the treasury plundered by lazy, inefficient, dishonest officials, or of being misrepresented by those too much the tools of party to regard the interests of the whole people, and too mean to resign their offices.

Our nominee for Governor, although a plain farmer, is a man of much experience, of large and liberal views, of good natural talents, and of a sterling integrity that is a sufficient guaranty against all corrupting influences. He served honorably as State Senator for several years from one of the most populous and intelligent districts in Illinois, having beaten by a handsome majority our old loco friend McMurry, who was afterwards elected Lieutenant Governor of the same State. Mr. Denny has more than once been put upon the course in Marion county for the legislature, where, although beaten by the force of party drill and popular prejudices among his opponents, he has always run considerably ahead of his own ticket. If elected Governor (which we hope he will be) he will be an honor to the post and a faithful public servant.

Mr. McBride, who is nominated for Congress, though only twenty-six years of age, is a young lawyer of clear perception, logical turn of mind, well posted in political history, and as firm for right principles as the rock of Gibraltar. He can neither be swayed by popular applause, befogged by sophistry, nor bought by either British gold or Administration patronage. He stands head and shoulders above the tool of the clique he is running against, morally and intellectually, and every vote given to him will be like fastening a nail in a sure place.

Of the rest of the candidates we shall take occasion probably to speak more hereafter.

The steam ship Commodore reached Portland last Monday night. The Panama, bringing the mails, on Tuesday. We are under obligations to the ever-attentive J. W. Sullivan of San Francisco for full files of States papers.

Correction. An error occurred in making up the secretary's report of the proceedings of the Republican State Convention as published on the outside of this paper, in which Mr. Holmes is made to suggest the propriety of withdrawing the name of Mr. George as Secretary of State. We learn that the suggestion was made by Mr. Applegate and not by Mr. Holmes. The error occurred in making up our report from a meagre outline of the evening session furnished by the clerk, a part of which we filled up from memory. Mr. Applegate made the suggestion before we reached the house, and was probably seconded by a delegate from Linn county before the remarks of Mr. Holmes, who had the floor when we entered the house.

Czapkay's organ publishes the Republican platform, and treats the Republican party with much more respect than one would suppose it capable of doing—if there were no Nationalists in the field. It is all "Republican," without the "black" as a prefix. Some think that the paper is preparing to fall into the Republican ranks upon the downfall of the "dynasty," while others think that Lane's nigger has so overdone the blackguard business that Czapkay's agent blushes under a consciousness of his inability in that line whenever he approaches the vocabulary that contains the only pure democratic thunder.

His report of the "secret caucus" of the Republicans, in conveying the idea that he was either secreted in the stove (as in Leland's once when he abstracted the Culver letter), or was wallowing in tobacco juice under one of the benches, has produced only this conviction in the minds of the most rantankerous bushites—that, although he wasn't there, he plainly indicates that he would like to have been if he had dared to. Their belief in the whole "report" merely embraces the fact of his willingness to occupy a very sneaking position,—no more, no less. Of course Republicans will not fall out with them when their faith goes only this far.

Municipal Election.

Our election for city officers went off last Monday very quietly. Little or no interest was manifested and less than seventy votes were polled. The following officers were elected: For Mayor, A. Holbrook; Councilmen, F. Barclay, Dr. Steele, Cris Taylor, Wm. Dierdorff, A. Warner; Assessor, J. M. Bacon; Recorder, W. C. Johnson; School Superintendent, F. Barclay.

Portland Election.

The municipal election in Portland last Monday resulted in a complete rout of the caucus-severignites. The "Nationalists" went into the fight with zeal and came out with flying colors. The following is the result:

For Mayor—A. M. Starr was elected over G. W. Vaughn by 166 majority. Recorder—A. Leland, over A. L. Davis, 108 majority. Treasurer—H. W. Corbett, over A. B. Efeldt, 142 majority. Assessor—J. M. Breck, over T. G. Robinson, 104 majority. Marshall—S. R. Holcomb, over J. McCoy, 112 majority. Port Warden—G. N. Stansbury, over Henry Hoyt, 80 majority. The following Councilmen were elected by handsome majorities—G. C. Robins, A. P. Ankeny, C. P. Bacon, T. M. Lakin, R. Porter, T. J. Holmes, J. C. Carson, Wm. King, C. S. Kingsley. All of the bushite ticket was defeated. Things look bad down this way for Mr. Wain's success as judge. We really fear he will have to wait a while longer for that office.

We hear that poor Burbank who ran on Hibben's ticket for Alderman in Portland last Monday but was badly defeated, is whining since the election about Judge Williams, Delazon Smith, Bush, and the leaders of the clique having been the means of causing the split in the party by persisting in heading it to the exclusion of others who want a chance at the pap. Burbank will flop over to the Sofa as soon as he thinks it will pay.

The last Standard comes to hand with its face and hands washed clean, bright and smiling as a May morning. Instead of such reading matter as Buchanan messages and Black letters in favor of the Lecompton swindle, (national Democracy) it contains a speech of Judge Douglas, with Pennsylvania and Indiana resolves denouncing the Administration policy and supporting Douglas. Does the Standard fore-shadow a Eugene platform?

We have not heard from the Eugene convention, but we predict they have had a nice time of it in making a platform on which the fire eating, anti-State Sovereign, Lecompton swindle wing of the party can sit down in fellowship with such as loathe and abhor such nigger driving despotism and declare their determination to bolt if the platform goes so far as to endorse Buchanan. The fact is, it is simply ridiculous for a man to try to be anything else than either a Republican or a dirt eater.

The Nationals burnt several kegs of powder last Monday night in Portland in rejoicing over their victory. Flour is worth from $15 to $17, in San Francisco.

Revels in the Churches. Eight columns of the N. Y. Tribune of March 8th. are devoted to a description of an unusual religious interest that is now being felt in the northern and western States. The interest is not confined to any particular section or church but pervades all Protestant denominations, and extends itself from the Atlantic to the Mississippi. The like has not been known since the celebrated revivals in the days of Johnathan Edwards, and the interest manifested among the people in religion, excels, if possible, that which followed the efforts of Whitfield. It is impossible to arrive at any correct estimate of the number of conversions; but one religious journal noted from its exchanges seven thousand in one week, and the Tribune thinks that fifty thousand a week would be a moderate estimate. The revival is said to sweep over the country like a prairie fire, and no sooner does it enter one church in a given city than it operates like a contagion, and soon reaches every congregation. The interest is said to be entirely different from that which is often productive of wild frenzy and indecent confusion,—manifesting itself in a deep emotion and firm resolve that work reformation and generally mark a new era in private character.

The Tribune thinks the revival has probably been superinduced by the late remarkable money pressure which has ruined so many families, involved the people generally in trouble, and directed the public mind to objects of permanent interest. We have made a careful survey of the whole field, and find the revival confined almost exclusively to those vineyards cultivated by what loco fero editors call "political parsons." Henry Ward Beecher's congregation, for instance, has been so enlarged by it that it will probably be necessary to enlarge his meeting house. These "political parsons" have been charged with driving religion out of the land by their political (anti-slavery) preaching, and we suggest to the black democracy whether the present unparalleled accession to the flocks isn't meant as a token of the Divine approval of their "political preaching."

Of one thing we are sure, if any of the loco fero editors are really converted, they will be lost to the Latter Day democracy.

Map of Oregon.

Mr. Pownall has exhibited to us a map of the State of Oregon, with boundaries as designated by the Constitution, except, perhaps, a small portion the Convention took from Washington Territory. Mr. Pownall's map is compiled from the most accurate Government surveys, and is a great improvement over Preston's map. It contains the boundaries and names of all the counties, the water courses and mills, as well as the cities and towns of the State. It will be completed and ready for sale some time the coming summer or fall, when we should suppose it will meet with a ready sale.

On our trip to the Salem Convention last week we took passage on the Surprise which left Canemah at 6 o'clock P. M. and reached Salem the next morning at 4 o'clock. The Surprise is a fast boat, and is well calculated by its cabin arrangements to make the traveler comfortable. Its table is all that a good judge of good cooking would desire (of that we profess to be a judge), while the officers of the boat, Capt. Cochrane, Homer Holland, clerk, and Sprenger, steward, are every way calculated to make their boat popular. We returned on the Enterprise, officered by Capt. Jamison, and Mr. Perham as clerk, who are every way worthy of much praise for their politeness and attention to business. We failed to learn the name of the steward, but he is just the man to cater to the wants of those who love to sit down to a good table. We have said this much not for the purpose of puffing these boats, as a matter of course, but because we are proud of our Oregon boats, and know that they are never excelled and seldom equaled on the Mississippi river. We have found the Enterprise, Surprise and Elk to be all number one boats, and we intend to test the virtues of the Clinton some of these days.

The Enterprise made a trip to Eugene City last week for its first time, and brought down a load of freight consisting of flour, bacon, eggs, &c. We hope our Eugene friends will fix for heavy shipments of produce after this, especially of butter.

Marion County Republican Ticket. State Senators—Paul Crandall, E. N. Cooke. Representatives—A. Stanton, Joseph Ingham, T. W. Davenport, Fletcher Denny. County Commissioner—Rice Dunbar. County Judge—Wm. Porter. County Clerk—T. McF. Patton. Sheriff—Warren Cranston. Assessor—Wm. Vandervort.

Polk County. State Senator—Amos Harvey. Representative—N. Hicklin. County Judge—E. Williams. Clerk—J. Emmons. Treasurer—J. B. Riggs. Assessor—Joseph Downer. Sheriff—W. Baxter. For Territorial Legislature—J. W. Ladd. Joint member for Polk and Tillamook—A. H. Denny.

Butter is selling in this city at ninety cents and scarce at that. The weather has been remarkably rainy for the last ten days. Some think the "rainy season has set in."

The Douglas Democrats of the North are holding enthusiastic meetings all over the country, and denouncing those who support the Administration as "Federalists," "traitors," &c. At a State convention in Indiana a set of resolutions was adopted charging the Administration party with precisely what the "Nationalists" here charge the Sal-mites. Take one of the planks in their platform:

Resolved, That the organization in favor of the Lecompton movement, as its principles and policy are developed, reveals a tendency to the distinctive features of ancient Federalism; that their theory in our opinion involves a complete centralization of the political power of the government.

The Indiana State Sentinel, one of the dirtiest loco fero papers in the Union, which, like Lane's organ, first endorsed Douglasism, and then flopped over to Buchananism, was read out of the party thus: "Resolved, That the Indiana State Sentinel by its prevarications, misrepresentations and inconsistencies, as well as by its betrayal of Democratic faith, and its injustice to members of the party, has placed itself outside of the Democratic organization of the State, and forfeited the patronage of the party."

Scorching letters were read from Gov. Wise and Walker. In Walker's letter he asks the question: "Is this the eighty-second year of our independence, or is it the first year of American monarchy that is now dawning upon us?"

Upon a final vote upon the Army bill in the Senate the bill was lost. A proposition to authorize the President to accept of the services of 3,000 volunteers to serve for two years was adopted as an amendment to the Army bill, and then the bill was voted down by 35 to 16. This defeat of the Administration measure is said to chafe Buchanan sorely, and he will now be compelled to reinforce the Utah army by withdrawing the troops from Kansas.

The Lecompton Constitution is still being debated in Congress. The prospect of its final passage is rather weakening.

The delegates from the 3d judicial district while at Salem nominated Mr. Condon of Linn county for judge, and G. L. Woods of Yamhill county for prosecuting attorney.

We were disappointed in not seeing the "Old Ranger" from Yamhill at the Salem convention. We hope he has not laid off his Republican armor.

That box of "Primer Habana" which came to us from Charman & Warner's through the agency of Col. Taylor, was duly appreciated.

We have a large file of manuscript, consisting of communications, public proceedings, &c., on hand, which we shall overhaul as soon as possible.

New Steamer.

Messrs. Cassedy, Athey, O'Loughlin, Sturterant & Singer, are building a steamboat 100 feet long by 24 feet beam for the trade between this city and Portland. It is designed for crossing the Clackamas rapids all seasons of the year. We hope it may succeed, as such a boat is much needed.

The Legislature of Texas is a remarkable body, and its labors without a parallel. They have a large amount of business on hand, and for some time have been holding three sessions a day—forenoon, afternoon, and at night. To these they have recently added a fourth, a session before breakfast. The Austin Gazette says the House now meets at 4 o'clock, A. M., and goes to work.

PURCHASE OF MOUNT VERNON.—The Grand Lodge of Masons of Virginia have adopted a plan of cooperation with the Ladies' Mount Vernon Association in the purchase of Mount Vernon. It is by a small but adequate assessment on each Mason in the United States, (one dollar each,) with the single condition that they shall have full liberty to occupy the premises one day in each year. There is stated to be an aggregate of 350,000 of the fraternity in the United States. The "Southern Matron," as President of the Ladies' Mount Vernon Association, has gratefully accepted the proposition, and a circular on the subject has been sent to each Grand Lodge in the United States from the Grand Lodge of Virginia.

METHOD OF SPEAKING.—There is speaking well, speaking easily, speaking justly and speaking sensibly. It is offending against the last to speak of entertainments before the indigent, of sound limbs and health before the infirm, of houses and lands before one who has not so much as a dwelling—in a word, to speak of your prosperity before the miserable. This conversation is cruel, and the comparison which naturally rises in them betwixt their condition and yours, is excruciating.

A LUDICROUS BLUNDER.—The following capital story we find in the columns of the New Orleans Sunday Times:

It is well known to our readers that there appeared in the Sunday Times, some two months since, a very full report of General Walker's speech delivered the previous evening on the Neutral Ground. The editor of a journal that shall be nameless, not having printers in his pay sufficient to fill up his paper, called upon us as a favor to loan him any of our undistributed matter that would occupy his untenanted columns. We readily acceded to his request and furnished him with General Walker's speech and the Rev. Dr. Scott's article on the Efficacy of Prayer, which he had been kind enough to send us from San Francisco. By some strange accident, the political speech and the prayer became wedded together in the pages of our contemporary, so that the readers were led to infer that General Walker, in the midst of his fiery address, became suddenly pious and held forth in prayerful tones worthy of the Rev. Dr. Scott. The one was so beautifully dovetailed to the other that an ordinary person might be easily deceived.

Yesterday morning we received among our exchanges a religious paper of great authority among a certain religious sect, which copies the speech with the interpolated prayer, and supplies its readers with an editorial on the subject. The editor avows his conversion to Walker's Nicaraguan doctrines, as he gathers from the hero's speech unmistakable evidence that the General's peculiar mission is to Protestantize South America. This is not the first time that men have been supposed to sow with grape-shot the seeds of the gospel.

The following is a specimen of sharp shooting between a coquette and her lover: "You men are angels when you woo the maid; but devils when the marriage vow is paid."

The lover, not to be outdone, replied nearly as follows:

"The change, dear girl, is easily forgiven; we find ourselves in hell instead of heaven."

A POPULAR BOOK.—When a book reaches its twentieth edition, it may be said to have reached a popularity rarely attained; and when it is taken into consideration that the book which we now notice is a medical work, which class is not usually suited to the popular taste, it shows it to have had an unprecedented sale. The Graefenberg Manual of Health, twentieth edition, has just been received by the San Francisco Agents, and all who desire a complete medical work should lose no time in securing a copy. Price only twenty-five cents.

Obituary.

DIED.—At Forest Grove, March 24th, 1858, of consumption, Rev. HARVEY CLARKE, aged 51 years.

In the death of Rev. Harvey Clarke, Oregon has lost one of its earliest and most valuable citizens. He came to this valley in the spring of 1841, designing with his associates to devote himself to the welfare of the Indians. Their unsettled condition and their quarrels among themselves prevented his doing them much good. He then commenced teaching and preaching as opportunity offered among the whites. Having been invited to preach at West Taalatin Plains, he removed thither, and made that his home. There he not only performed the duties of a pastor and preacher for ten years, but he began to establish an institution of learning, first called an Orphan Asylum, and now styled "Taalatin Academy and Pacific University." To promote the objects of this school, he gave 200 acres of his claim, and then disposed of 150 acres more with reference to the same object. When one remonstrated, he replied: "I do not wish for much land. I wish the school to prosper." His hospitality was up to the full measure of his strength, and beyond his means. He lived in poverty that he might do good to others. His piety was unobtrusive, but like deep waters, it flowed steadily and with great power. As a preacher, he was popular; presenting but few subjects, he made those impressive.

All who knew him, esteemed him; while some loved him as only a friend and brother are loved. Com.

We are requested to announce W. T. MATLOCK as a candidate for Supreme Judge in the 4th Judicial District. He expects to meet and address his fellow-citizens, in conjunction with Mr. Warr, previous to the June election. April 10.
