Sing o'er the bier! The beil is swing ag in the time-worn tower;

He's gone who late was here. As fresh as manhord in its lusticat hour. A song to each brief season,
Winter and shining summer, doth belong,
For some sweet, human reason—
O'er cralle or the coffin, still a song.

Earth and Beaven.

Flowers that bloom to wither fast; Light, whose beams are soon o'creast; Friendship, warm, but not to last— Such by earth are given. Seek the flowers that ne'er shall fade; Find the light no cloud can shade; Win the friend who ne'er betrayed— These are found in Heaven.

LIFE.-Life is no speculative venture with those who feel its value and duties.-It has a deeper purpose, and its path be comes distinct and easy in proportion as it is earnestly and faithfully pursued. The rudest or the most refined pursuit, if adapt ed to the wants and capacities of the pursuer, has a truth, a beauty and a satisfaction. All ships on the ocean are not steamers or packets, but all freight bear ers, fitted to their tasks, and the smallest shallop nobly fulfills its mission, while it pushes on towards its destined port, nor shifts its course because larger crafts career to other points of the compass. Let man right himself on the ocean of time .-Let him learn whether he is by nature a shallop or a ship-a coaster or an ocean crosser; and then, freighting himself according to his capacity and the market he should seek, fling his sail to the breeze. riding with wind and tide, if they go on his course, but beating resolutely against them if they cross his path. Have a wellchosen and defined purpose, and pursue it faithfully, trusting in God, and all will be

"BE SURE YOU'RE RIGHT."-A ludierous incident took place at the Junction Hotel. Lufavette, In., upon the arrival of a train of cars. Agentleman and lady, inspired with sudden recognition, were observed to rush frantically into each other's arms. and the fun of it was, that after a hearty embrace, they discovered that both " had the advantage." They were strangers; but the lady, mistaking him for her "dear cousin Charlie," had embraced him, while he, with a half defined recollection of hav ing seen her before, " went in lemons" and "got squeezed." Their mutual embarrass. ment on the discovery can well be imagined.

07 An athletic specimen of a man from the Emerald I-le called in the counting room of one of our merchants. He took off his hat to make his best bow.

"The top of the morning to ye, Misther Perot, I've been told ye're in want o' help." "I've but little to do," replied Mr. Perot, with mercantile gravity.

"I'm the boy for yees. It's but little ! care about doin'-sure it's the money I'm afther."

There is an inscription on a tombstone at La Point, Lake Superior, which reads as follows :

"John Smith, accidentally shot as a mark of affection by his brother." This reminds us of one on a tombstone near San Diego, which runs as follows:

"This yere sakrid to the memory of William Henry Skraken, who came to his deth by bein shot with colt's revolver-one of the old kind, brass mounted, and of such is the kingdom of heaven."

OF A pointed discussion is now going on as to " whether the Bible should be re vised or left slone." There may be some propriety in revising it, but we think it is sufficiently "left alone" already.

In the museum at Hifalurin, is a flea skin containing seven misers' souls, seven rich men's consciences, the " principles" of seven leading politicians, seventeen old bachelors' hearts, the fortunes of twenty three editors, and all the remaining sweetness of seventy old maids.

go "Did you ever go to a military ball I" inquired a lively girl of an old soldier. "No, my dear," replied the old warrior; "in my days the military bails always came to us."

( An Indian being in a large city on a public occasion, was looking upon a display of fireworks, when he was asked if he had ever seen anything so extraordinary. "Ugh!" was the response, "Indian seen burning prairie!"

00 Wit resembles a coquette: those who most eagerly run after it, are the least favored.

05 In ancient days, the celebrated precept was, "Know thyself," In modern times, it has been supplanted by the far more fashionable maxim: "Know thy neighbor, and everything about him."

BY A girl who had become tired of sin gle blessedness, wrote to her intended, thus; " Dear Jim, cum rite off if you are cummin at al, Ed Helderman is insisting that I shall have him, and he hugs and kisses me so continually that I can't hold out much longer."

05 " Will you have me, Sarah ?" said a young man to a shy young lady. " No, John," said she, "but you may have me. if you like."

OF Gentility is to be defined in the next edition of the American dictionary-"Eating meat with a silver fork, neither being paid for."

A witness was called to the stand to give his testimony. Having taken his place, he turned to the counsel at the bar, and, before testifying, very earnestly made the inquiry, "Say, stranger, which side am
