To Oregonians in Bad Health.

IT is awful to note the haggard, sallow, cadaverous faces and wasted skeletons forms we meet! This is not confined to the old, but we see the young, able-bodied, and those in the prime of life, complain after being here some time of illness, some grow unaccountably fat suddenly; others waste and grow thin; they cannot localize or describe their disease, yet they feel universally unwell, mentally and physically; some have pains and weakness in the breast, limbs, or body; they feel a want of muscular and mental energy, a want of animation, and have fearful forebodings for the future, poor appetite, nervous irritability, and sleeplessness; their skin is dry and occasionally flushed and heated, thin, pallid, and yellow.
