

The Years Glide By.
A child sleeps under a rosebush fair,
The buds swell out in the soft May air;
Sweetly it rests, and on dream wing flies
To play with the angels in Paradise;
And the years glide by.
A maiden stands by the rosebush fair,
The dewy blossoms perfume the air;
She presses her hand to her throbbing breast,
With love's first wonderful rapture blest;
And the years glide by.
A mother kneels by the rosebush fair,
Soft sighs the leaves in the evening air,
Sorrowing thoughts of the past arise,
And tears of anguish bedim her eyes;
And the years glide by.
Naked and lone stands the rosebush fair,
Whispered are the leaves in the evening air,
Withered and dead they fall to the ground,
And silently cover a new-made mound;
And the years glide by.
—From the German.

PROSPERITY'S FRIENDS.—One of the hardest trials of those who fall from affluence and honor to poverty and obscurity, is the discovery that the attachment of so many in whom they confided was a pretense, a mask, to gain their own ends—was a miserable sham. Sometimes, doubtless, it is with regret that these frivolous followers of the world desert those upon whom they have counted; but they soon forget them. Flies leave the kitchen when the dishes are empty. The parasites that cluster about the favorite of fortune, to gather his gold and climb by his aid, linger with the sunshine, but scatter at the approach of a storm, as the leaves cling to the tree in summer weather, but drop off at the breath of winter, and leave it naked to the stinging blast. Like ravens settled for a banquet, and suddenly scared by a noise, how quickly at the first sound of calamity, these superficial carthlings are mere specks on the horizon!

But a true friend is in the center, and is for all times. Our need only reveals him more fully, and binds him more closely to us. Prosperity and adversity are both revealers, the difference being that in the former our friends know us, in the latter we know them. But notwithstanding the insincerity and greediness prevalent among men, there is a vast deal more of esteem and fellow-feeling than is ever outwardly shown.

There are more examples of unalloyed affection, more deeds of silent love and magnanimity, than is usually supposed. Our misfortunes bring to our sides real friends, before unknown. Benevolent impulses, where we should not expect them, in modest privacy, enact many a scene of beautiful wonder and disinterested loveliness amidst plaudits of angels. Such are rarely recorded above—North American Review.

SELF-ESTEEM.—We cannot conceive a more pitiable and unhappy circumstance than persons having too high an opinion of their own merit.—They are always conceiving some affront offered to them when such a thing was never intended. Instead of passing through life with a smile upon the lips and sunlight on the brow, they are invariably fretful, moody individuals, clamoring loudly at the slightest ill which crosses their path, and imagining themselves insulted if every one does not appear to hold them in the same estimation in which they regard themselves.

When Colonel L.—was a candidate for Congress in one of the North-western States, he was opposed by a gentleman who had distinguished himself in the war of 1812. Discovering in the course of the canvass that his opponent's military reputation was operating strongly to his own prejudice, he concluded to let the people know that he was not unknown to fame as a soldier himself, and accordingly in his next speech he expatiated on his achievements in the tented field as follows: "My competitor has told you of the services he rendered the country in the last war. Let me tell you that I, too, acted an humble part in that memorable contest. When the tocsin of war summoned the chivalry of the West to rally to the defense of the national honor, I, fellow-citizen, animated by that patriotic spirit which glows in every American bosom, hired a substitute for that war, and the bones of that man lie bleaching on the banks of the River Raisin."

A country editor, speaking of a member of Assembly, says: "The first year he went to Albany he was so conscientious that he utterly refused to receive his allotment of stealings, in the shape of books and stationery. The next year he did not hesitate—and finally came home unable to tell the truth, even under the most favorable circumstances."

The Hartford Courant says a Dictionary is soon to be published which will contain 10,000 more words than any of its predecessors. We are rather disposed to regret this. It would, says the Albany Journal, be better to have fewer words and more ideas. "Words" have more than quadrupled since the days of Addison and Steele, and yet they expressed their ideas quite as clearly as the writers of the present day.

TO PREVENT FRUIT BURNING TO THE KETTLE.—There is a difficulty in stewing fruit, making apple sauce or sweetmeats, as well as cooking apples, pumpkins, potatoes for starch, about its burning and sticking to the kettle. To prevent this difficulty, it is suggested by a writer in the Home-Steak, to place clean rye straw in the bottom of the kettle under the fruit. That used for domestic cooking should be whole straw, cut at the joints and divested of husks. It is easily separated from the fruit after it is cooked, and will save it from all burned taste. It is a new, valuable plan.

HOW TO MAKE LARD CANDLES.—The manufacture of lard candles is carried to a considerable extent in some of the Western States, particularly Wisconsin; and being monopolized by the few, has proved very lucrative. The following is the receipt: To every eight pounds of lard add one ounce of nitric acid, and the manner of making is as follows:—Having carefully weighed your lard, place it over a slow fire, or at least merely melt it; then add the acid, and mould the same as tallow, and you have a clear beautiful candle. In order to make them resemble bone vide tallow candles, you have only to add a small proportion of pure beeswax.—Country Gent.

ANTIDOTE FOR CORROSIVE SCLIMATE.—Administer albumen (white of eggs) beat up with a little water, but no delay must be allowed. The only hope of counteracting this deadly poison lies in prompt action. If eggs are not on hand at once, give large and repeated doses of flour mixed with water, or better, with sweet milk. Milk itself is a partial if not complete antidote for corrosive sublimate.

An old lady reading an account of a distinguished old lawyer who was said to be the father of the New York bar, exclaimed, "Poor man! he had a dreadful set of children."

Seedling, says a good-for-nothing old bachelor, is the pepper of matrimony, and the ladies are the pepper-boxes.

Debster reduces everything to mathematics. He got married because kissing saved fifty per cent on his sugar tax. Old bachelors please take notice.

ATTENTION, FARMERS!

THRESHERS, REAPERS,

AND

REAPING MACHINES.

WE have now on the way from the Eastern States,
To Arrive about the last of April,
A SUPERIOR LOT
of the above-mentioned machines. They combine all of the latest improvements, and we have no hesitation in saying that we believe them to be the
MOST PERFECT MACHINES
now brought to this coast. They were constructed under our own supervision, having all the alterations necessary to render them suitable for the country.

The THRESHERS consist of two, four, and six-horse powers (railway and sweep), with elevators and every essential convenience known to the machine.

Our REAPERS and MOWERS are combined machines, suitable for either mowing or reaping. They work from two to four horses, with and without rakes; or, in other words, one is a self-raker.

In Addition to the Above,
We have, to arrive at the same time, the following
AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS,
VIZ:
Peoria Plows, X 8,
Boston Clipper Plows,
Extension Cultivators,
Grapevine Grain Cradles,
Scythes and Snaths,
Straw Cutters,
Hay Forks and Rakes,
Horse Rakes,
Wheelbarrows,
Shovels, Spades,
CIDER MILLS,
BARK MILLS, & TANNERS' TOOLS.
Also, a select assortment of
SMITHS' and CARPENTERS' TOOLS.
With many other articles not here mentioned.

We would say to our customers and the public generally, if they are in want of any of the above mentioned articles, they will do well to call and see us before purchasing elsewhere, as we are determined to sell LOW FOR CASH.

We would also add that our Machines are being rapidly sold to arrive. Better call and secure one of them before too late. If preferred, Machines delivered in Portland, if engaged before arrival.

Farm for Sale for $1500.
I have for sale a half section of land situated about six miles east of McDonald's ferry in Forks Santiam, Linn county, and about twenty miles from Salem. The shape of the land suits it well for ordinary farming, and it is also one of the best stock farms in the country. The improvement includes one hundred and twenty apple trees of improved fruit; also peach, plum, and cherry trees, all of which will soon be in plentiful bearing. The location is favorable to health, is beautiful and pleasant.
Time will be given on a part of the money at moderate interest, or good stock taken for a part. For further particulars call on me at the "Union Store," Salem, or address by letter. Information concerning it can also be had by calling on W. L. Adams of the Oregon Argus.

Now Arrangements.
I HAVE bought out the BAKERY establishment of Charman & Warner, which I have now opened under the most favorable circumstances to all old patrons, and many new ones as may choose to give me a call. My shop will be well supplied with Bread, Cakes, Pies, Crackers, Nuts, Candies, Raisins, Figs, Cigars, Toys, and almost every other variety of kitchen-knackery invented by Yankee ingenuity—all of which will be afforded.

AT THE LOWEST POSSIBLE RATES!
I shall occasionally receive supplies from the tropical islands, which will be duly announced upon arrival. All are invited to give me a call.
FREDERICK CHARMAN,
Oregon City, April 25, 1857. 9

JUST RECEIVED at the Oregon City Drug Store, direct from New York and San Francisco, a fresh supply of DRUGS, MEDICINES, Patent Medicines, Family Medicines, &c., &c., which will be sold as low for cash as they can be procured in the Territory.
