

Happy Love.

What is the meaning of the song
That rings so clear and loud,
That lark above the cloud?
What says thy song, thou joyous thrush,
Up in the walnut tree?
"I love my love, because I know
My love loves me."

What is the meaning of thy thought,
O maiden, fair and young?
There is such pleasure in thine eyes,
Such music on thy tongue;
There is such glory on thy face—
"I love my love, because I know
My love loves me."

O happy wretch! at Beauty's feet
We sing them ere our prime;
And when the early summers pass,
And Care comes over with time,
Still be it ours, in Care's despite,
To join the chorus free—
"I love my love, because I know
My love loves me." —Charles Mackay.

THE BIBLE.—How comes it that this little volume, composed by humble men in a rude age, when art and science were in their childhood, has exerted more influence on the human mind and on the social system than all other books put together? Where comes it that this book has achieved such marvelous changes in the opinions of mankind—has banished idol worship—has abolished infidelity—has put down polygamy and divorce—exalted the condition of woman—raised the standard of public morality—created families that blessed things, a Christian home, and caused its other triumphs by causing benevolent institutions, open and expansive, to spring up as with the wand of enchantment? What sort of a book is this, that even the winds and waves of human passion obey it? What other engine of social improvement has operated so long, and yet lost none of its virtue? Since it appeared, many boasted plans of amelioration have been tried, and failed—many codes of jurisprudence have arisen, and run their course. Empire after empire has been launched upon the tide of time, and gone down, leaving no trace upon the waters. But this book is still going about doing good, leaving a society with its holy principles—strengthening the torn with its consolations—strengthening the tempted—encouraging the penitent—calming the troubled spirit—and smoothing the pillow of death. Can such a book be the offspring of human genius? Does not the vastness of its efforts demonstrate the excellency of the power to be of God?

THE GOLDEN RULE.—Hear the story of the child who went forth into the mountain ravine. While he wandered there, he called aloud to break the loneliness, and heard a voice which called to him in the same tone. He called again, and, as he thought, the voice mocked him. Flushed with anger, he rushed to find the boy who had insulted him, but could find none. He then called to him in anger, and with abusive epithets, all of which were faithfully returned to him. Choking with rage, the child ran to his mother and complained that a boy in the woods had abused and insulted him with many vain words. But the mother took her child by the hand and said, "My child, these names were but the echoes of thine own voice. Whatever thou didst call was returned to thee from the hill-side. Hast thou called out pleasant words, pleasant words had returned to thee. Let this be thy lesson through life. This world will soon be an echo of thine own spirit. Treat thy fellows with unkindness, and they will answer with unkindness; with love, and thou shalt have love. Send forth sunshine from thy spirit, and thou shalt never have a cloudy day; carry about thee a vindictive spirit, and even in the flowers shall lurk curses. Thou shalt receive whatever thou givest, and that alone." Always is that child in the mountain passes; and every man and woman is that child.

AN ADIEU TO GREECE.—Bayard Taylor, in his last letter from Athens, thus bids a beautiful farewell to the land of colonial heroes and mighty memories:

"Let me not lose the pensive sweetness and sadness of this last evening in Athens. The sun is sinking in clear-splendid light beyond the pass of Daphne, and a purple flush plays all along the high, barren sides of Hymettus. Before me rises the Acropolis, with its crown of beauty, the Parthenon, whose snowy front the sunbeams of two thousand years have led their golden stans. In the distance is the annual, Zeus, dancing with light-shining rays to fill the rock-hewn sarcophagi of Themistocles. Plato's olive send a silver shimmer through the dusk that is creeping over the Attic plain. Many an evening have I contemplated this illustrious landscape, but it was never so lovely as now, when I look upon it for the last time. Every melodious wave in the long outline of the immortal mountains—every sacred marble in the august piles of ruin—every blood-red anemone on the banks of the Ilissos, and every ephebe that blossoms on the hill of Colonos—know them and they know me. Not as a traveler, eager for new scenes; but with the regret of one who knows and loves the sacred soil, to whom it has been at once a sanctuary and a home."

THE POWER OF MONOSYLLABLES.—To one whose attention has not been drawn particularly to the subject, it will be surprising to call to mind how many of the most sublime and comprehensive passages in the English language consist wholly or chiefly of monosyllables. Of the sixty-six words composing the Lord's Prayer, forty-eight are of one syllable. Of the seven words composing the Golden Rule, fifteen are of one syllable. The most expressive idea of the creative power of Jehovah is expressed entirely in monosyllables—"And God said, Let there be light: and there was light." One of the most encouraging promises of Scripture is expressed in fifteen words, all but one of which are monosyllables: "I love them that love me, and those that seek me early shall find me."

A SECRET.—I will tell you a secret: The way to make yourself pleasing to others is to show that you care for them. The whole world is like the hill at Mansfield, who "cares for nobody, nobody cared for him." And the whole world will serve you so, if you give them the same cause. Let people see, therefore, that you do care for them, by showing them the small courtesies of life, in which there is no parade, and whose voice is too soft to tease, and show themselves by all courteous and kind looks, and little acts of attention; giving others the preference in every little enjoyment, in the field, walking, sitting, and standing—Wm. Ward's Letters to his Daughter.

There are four good habits which a wise and good man earnestly recommended to his disciples, and also by his own example, and which he considered especially necessary for the management of temporal concerns: these are punctuality, accuracy, regularity, and dispatch. Without the first of these, no business can be transacted; without the second, it is the most painful to our credit and interests; and that of which, can be committed; without the third, nothing can be well done; and without the fourth, opportunities of great advantage are lost, which it is impossible to recall.

What is earthly happiness? That phantom of which we hear so much and see so little; whose promises are constantly given and constantly broken, but as constantly believed; that eludes us with the wind, instead of the substance, and with the blossom instead of the fruit.—Cotton.

Philosophy of Conviction.—A friend complained to a clergyman of the length of his discourse. "Yes," said the preacher, "but then you see I had no time to make it shorter."

Many a man's virtues have at first been more than good qualities run wild.

Family Medicines

THE GRAEFENBERG COMPANY.
THIS INSTITUTION (incorporated by the Legislature of the State of New York, capital $100,000), was founded for the purpose of supplying the public with the celebrated GRAEFENBERG MEDICINES. The series comprises remedies for nearly every disease, adapted to every climate. For families, travelers, seamen, and miners' use, they are unequalled. All the medicines are PURELY VEGETABLE, and warranted to cure the diseases for which they are severally recommended.
The Graefenberg Company does not profess to cure all diseases with one or two medicines. Our series consists of ELEVEN different kinds, adapted to the various diseases incident to the temperate and tropical climates. The following comprise the series of Graefenberg Medicines:
The Graefenberg Vegetable Pills
Are considered the standard Pill of the day, and are infinitely superior to any Pill before the public. They operate without irritation on all the excretions, purging the blood by the bowels, liver, kidneys, and skin.
Marshall's Uterine Catholicon.
An infallible remedy for all diseases of the womb and urinary organs, weakness in the back, pain in breast, nervousness, debility, etc. In California and Oregon, out of more than a thousand cases where this medicine has been used, it has in no single instance failed to give permanent relief to effect a certain cure.
GRAEFENBERG SARSAPARILLA.
A powerful extract. One bottle equal to ten of the ordinary sarsaparilla for purifying the blood. A sure cure for syphilis, rheumatism, ulcers, dyspepsia, salt rheum, mercurial diseases, cutaneous eruptions, &c.
The Green Mountain Ointment.
Invaluable for burns, wounds, sprains, chilblains, sores, swellings, scalds, &c. As a pain extractor, it cannot be excelled, affording immediate relief from the most excruciating pains.
THE GRAEFENBERG DYSENTERY SYRUP.
This extraordinary article is a speedy and infallible remedy for dysentery, dysentery, cholera morbus, cholera infantum, and the Asiatic cholera, if taken with the first symptoms of the disease. It is purely vegetable in its composition.
Graefenberg Children's Panacea.
For summer complaint, and most diseases to which children are subject. Its true worth can never be set forth in words, but it can be felt and appreciated by parents whose children have been saved. No mother should be without it.
Graefenberg Pile Remedy.
Warranted a certain cure for this painful disease. With the Ointment, there are very few cases which cannot be radically and permanently cured. A surgical operation for Piles and Fistula should never be resorted to until this ointment has been thoroughly tried. It never fails.
GRAEFENBERG EYE LOTION.
For diseases of the eye, this Lotion has no equal. It is a speedy and positive cure for inflammation of the eyes, weakness, dimness and falling of sight. It will always be beneficial in acute inflammation of the eyes, and also as a wash on inflamed surfaces.
GRAEFENBERG FEVER and AGUE PILLS.
A speedy and positive cure for this distressing complaint. These Pills are composed principally of Quinine, with other vegetable tonics, anti-spaedic and febrifuge articles. Thousands have been permanently cured by their use.
Graefenberg Consumptive's Balm.
Sovereign in all Bronchial and Pulmonary Diseases. It is, beyond all question, true that consumption is a curable disease, and the Consumptive's Balm is the best curative ever used.
Graefenberg Health Bitters.
These bitters are skillfully and elegantly prepared from a number of invigorating, healthy roots, barks, herbs, and vines. An invaluable tonic and health restorer.
Graefenberg Manual of Health.
A handsomely printed volume of 300 pages, containing concise and extremely plain descriptions of all manner of diseases, their symptoms and treatment. Every family should have one. Price only 25 cents. It will be sent, post paid, to any post-office in California or Oregon, on the receipt of 25 cents by mail or express.
Address Redington & Co., San Francisco.
The Graefenberg Medicines are for sale by all Druggists and apothecaries throughout the country.

jelle Orat Hoyt's Wharf-boat, Portland.

New Arrangements.
I HAVE bought out the BAKERY establishment of Charman & Warner, which I have now opened under the most favorable circumstances to all old patrons, and as many new ones as may choose to give me a call. My shop will be well supplied with Bread, Cakes, Pies, Crackers, Nuts, Candies, Raisins, Figs, Cigars, Toppings, and almost every other variety of back-slash yet invented by Yankee ingenuity—all of which will be afforded.
AT THE LOWEST POSSIBLE RATES!
I shall occasionally receive supplies from the tropical islands, which will be duly announced upon arrival. All are invited to give me a call.
