

"Bringing our sheaves with us." The time for toil is past, and night has come;— The last and saddest of the harvest-eyes;— Worn out with labor long and warlike, Drooping and faint, the reapers laden home, Each laden with his sheaves.

Last of the harvest they lay down, Lord of the harvest; and my spirit grieves That I am burdened not so much with grain As with a heaviness of heart and brain.— Master, behold my sheaves!

Few, light, and worthless,—yet their triding weight Through all my frame a weary aching leaves; For long I struggled, with my hapless fate, And still and toiled till it was dark and late,— Yet these are all my sheaves.

Full well I know I have more tares than wheat,— Brambles and flowers, dry stocks, and withered leaves; Wherefore I blush and weep, as at thy feet I kneel down reverently, and repeat, "Master, behold my sheaves!"

I know these blossoms, clustering heavily With evening dew upon their faded leaves, Can claim no value not ally,— Therefore shall fragrant and beauty be The glory of my sheaves.

So do I gather strength and hope anew; For well I know thy patient love perceives Not what I did, but what I strive to do,— And though the full, ripe ears be sadly few, Thou wilt accept my sheaves.

Sowing Wild Oats.

Many a young man has been lured from the path of virtue, and enticed into the road that leads, by an easy descent, into the accursed valley of destruction, through the thoughtless speech of some thoughtless persons, talking flippantly about sowing wild oats, as a thing to be expected in youth.

"I had a lesson on this subject from the lips of an aged counselor," said a valued friend to me, not long since, "which has never been forgotten. The timely warning saved me. I was nineteen years of age, and had just entered College. Young men were there from nearly every State in the Union, and some of them already sadly corrupted. I was social, in high health and spirits, and an imagination was forever carrying me beyond the actual and the present. Before I had time for reflection, and before even a consciousness of wrong had reached me, I was about on a dangerous sea, my boat gliding swiftly forward, and the Syren's songs already in my ears.

"One night we had a wine party, in the town, which ended in excesses, the thought of which has called a burning blush to my cheeks a hundred times since. I had not been very well for some days previously, suffering from constant headache and low febrile symptoms.

"The dissipation of a night turned the scale upon the wrong side, and I was so ill on the next day that it was thought best to call in a physician. He was an old man, of the old school gentlemen, and wise, thoughtful, and kind. He commenced, at once, the business of finding out everything in regard to my habits, principles, and modes of thought, and there was something in him that so inspired me with confidence, that I concealed nothing. He looked grave, and offered a remonstrance. "Oh," said I, almost lightly, "young men must sow their wild oats. The ground will be so much better prepared for seeding wheat, after the crop is taken."

"An error of the gravest character," he replied, seriously, "and one that has ruined its thousands and its tens of thousands of young men. Is a garden better prepared for the reception of the good seed, for having first been permitted to grow weeds? I put the question to your common sense. Are there not some soils so filled with all manner of evil seeds, that the gardener, with his utmost toil and care, can scarcely remove the vigorous plants that spring to life in the warm sunshine and rain? It is no mere comparison, that of the human soul to a garden. It is, in reality, a spiritual garden. Truth is the good seed which is sown in this garden, false principles the evil seed, or 'wild oats,' which the enemy's hand scatters, if permitted, upon the virgin soil. Now, is it not an insult to reason to say that a man will be wiser, truer and a better man, for having false principles, leading at once to an evil life, sown upon the ground of his mind in youth, as it would be to say that a garden would be more thrifty in after years, for being first permitted to grow weeds?"

"My stranger friend! I have lived almost the completion of life's earthly cycle, and have known a sad number of young men lost, to the world, lost to themselves, and lost, I fear to the company of God's blessed angels, in consequence of that single idea sown into the earth of their minds. Oh, cast it out at once! Keep yourself pure. Let right principles, chaste thoughts, noble purposes, manly aims, grow in your garden—not the accursed wild oats! Be prudent, temperate, virtuous, obedient to superiors, honorable, and kind. Aim to be a man—not a sensualist. Govern yourself as a man, instead of letting passion, appetite, or any sensual desire rule you as a tyrant. Sow no more wild oats. You will find trouble enough in your after life with the seed already scattered in your fields."

"The scales," said my friend, "dropped at once from my eyes. I saw that the good old physician was right, and that this caution about sowing wild oats involved one of the most dangerous fallacies into which the mind of a young man could fall. It was my last folly of this kind."—T. S. ARTHUR.

"Measure is a rose, near which there ever grows the thorn of evil. It is wisdom's work so carefully to call the rose as to avoid the thorn, and let its rich perfume exhale to heaven, in grateful adoration of Him who gave the rose to bloom."

When I see leaves drop from the trees in the beginning of autumn, says Warwick, just such, think I, is the friendship of the world. While the sap of maintenance lasts, my friends swarm in abundance; but in the winter of my need they leave me naked. He is a happy man who hath a true friend at his need; but he is more truly happy that hath no need of his friend.

"Look not mournfully into the past—it cannot return. Wisely improve the present—it is thine. Go forth to meet the shadowy future without fear, and with a manly heart."

There is no occasion to trample upon the meanest reptile; nor to sneek to the greatest prince. Insolence and baseness are equally unmanly.

Gracfenberg
THE GRACFENBERG COMPANY.
THIS INSTITUTION (incorporated by the Legislature of the State of New York, capital $100,000), was founded for the purpose of supplying the public with the celebrated GRAEFENBERG MEDICINES. The series comprises remedies for nearly every disease, adapted to every climate. For families, travelers, seamen, and miners' use, they are unequalled. All the medicines are PURELY VEGETABLE, and are warranted to cure the diseases for which they are severally recommended.
The Gracfenberg Company does not profess to cure all diseases with one or two medicines. Our series consists of ELEVEN different kinds, adapted to the various diseases incident to the temperate and tropical climates. The following comprise the series of Gracfenberg Medicines:
The Gracfenberg Vegetable Pills
Are considered the standard Pill of the day, and are infinitely superior to any Pill before the public. They operate without irritation on all the excretory organs, purging the blood by the bowels, liver, kidneys, and skin.
Marshall's Uterine Catholicon,
An infallible remedy for all diseases of the womb and urinary organs, weakness in the back, pain in breast, nervousness, debility, etc. In California and Oregon, out of more than a thousand cases where this medicine has been used, it has in no single instance failed to give permanent relief or to effect a certain cure.
GRAEFENBERG SARSAPARILLA,
A powerful extract. One bottle equal to ten of the ordinary sarsaparilla for purifying the blood. A sure cure for scrofula, rheumatism, ulcers, dyspepsia, salt rheum, mercurial diseases, cutaneous eruptions, &c.
The Green Mountain Ointment,
Invaluable for burns, wounds, sprains, chilblains, sores, swellings, scrofula, etc. As a pain extractor, it cannot be excelled, affording immediate relief from the most excruciating pains.
THE GRAEFENBERG DYSENTERY SYRUP.
This extraordinary article is a speedy and infallible remedy in diarrhea, dysentery, cholera morbus, cholera infantum, and the Asiatic cholera, if taken with the first symptoms of the disease. It is purely vegetable in its composition.
Gracfenberg Children's Panacea,
For summer complaint, and most diseases to which children are subject. Its true worth can never be set forth in words, but it can be felt and appreciated by parents whose children have been saved. No mother should be without it.
Gracfenberg Pile Remedy.
Warranted a certain cure for this painful disease. With the Ointment, there are very few cases which cannot be radically and permanently cured. A surgical operation for Piles and Fistula should never be resorted to until this ointment has been thoroughly tried. It never fails.
GRAEFENBERG EYE LOTION.
For diseases of the eye, this Lotion has no equal. It is a speedy and positive cure for inflammation of the eyes, weakness, dimness and falling of sight. It will always be beneficial in acute inflammation of the eyes, and also as a wash on inflamed surfaces.
GRAEFENBERG FEVER AND AGUE PILLS.
A speedy and positive cure for this distressing complaint. These Pills are composed principally of Quinine, with other vegetable tonics, anti-spa-smotic and febrifuge articles. Thousands have been permanently cured by their use.
Gracfenberg Consumptive's Balm
Sovereign in all Bronchial and Pulmonary Diseases. It is, beyond all question, true that consumption is a curable disease, and the Consumptive's Balm is the best curative ever used.
Gracfenberg Health Bitters.
These bitters are skillfully and elegantly prepared from a number of invigorating, healthy roots, barks, herbs, and vines. An invaluable tonic and health restorer.
Gracfenberg Manual of Health.
A handsomely printed volume of 300 pages, containing concise and extremely plain descriptions of all manner of diseases, their symptoms and treatment. Every family should have one. Price only 25 cents. It will be sent, post paid, to any post office in California or Oregon, on the receipt of 25 cents by mail or express.
