

The Wind and Stream.
A Brook came stealing from the ground;
You scarcely saw its silvery gleam
Among the herbs that hang around
The borders of that winding stream,
A pretty stream, a placid stream,
A softy gliding, hushful stream.

A breeze came wandering from the sky,
Light as the whispers of a dream;
It put the o'erhanging grasses by,
And gaily stooped to kiss the stream,
The flattered stream, the flattered stream,
The sky, yet unrelenting stream.

The Water, as the Wind passed o'er,
Shot upward many a gleaming beam,
Dimpled and quivered more and more,
And tripped along a livelier stream,
The flattered stream, the flattered stream,
The food, delighted, shy stream.

Away the airy wanderer flew
To where the fields with blossoms teem,
To sparkling springs and rivers blue,
And left all that little stream,
The flattered stream, the cheated stream,
The sad, forsaken, lonely stream.

The careless Wind no more came back;
He wanders yet the fields, I deem;
But on its melancholy track
Complaining went the little stream,
The cheated stream, the hopeless stream,
The ever-murmuring, moaning stream.

INFLUENCE OF WOMAN ON SOCIETY.
From an accurate account of the condition of women in any country, it would not be difficult to infer the whole state of society. So great is the influence they exercise on the character of men, that the latter will be elevated or degraded, according to the situation of the weaker sex. Where women are slaves, as in Turkey, the men will be the same: where they are treated as moral beings—where their minds are cultivated, and they are considered equals—the state of society must be high, and the character of the men energetic and noble. There is so much quickness of comprehension, so much susceptibility of pure and generous emotion, so much ardor of affection in women, that they constantly stimulate men to exertion, and have, at the same time, a most powerful agency in soothing the angry feelings, and mitigating the harsh and narrow propensities which are generated in the strife of the passions.

The advantages of giving a superior education to women are not confined to themselves, but have a salutary influence on our sex. The fear that increased instruction will render them incompetent or neglectful in domestic life, is absurd in theory, and completely destroyed by facts.—Women, as well as men, when once established in life, know that there is an end of trifling; its solicitudes and duties multiply upon them equally fast; the former are apt to feel them much more keenly, and do frequently abandon all previous acquirements to devote themselves wholly to these. But if the one sex have cultivated and refined minds, the other must meet them from shame, if not from sympathy. If a man finds that his wife is not a mere nurse or a housekeeper; that she can, when the occupations of the day are over, converse on a winter's evening; that she can enjoy the pleasures of superior conversation or reading of a valuable book, he must have a perverted taste, indeed, if it does not make home still dearer, and prevent him from resorting to taverns for recreation. The benefits to her children need not be mentioned; instruction and cultivated taste in a mother enhance their respect and affection for her, and their love of home, and throw a charm over the whole scene of domestic life.

"When Tamerlane had finished building his pyramid of seventy thousand skulls, and was standing at the gate of Damascus glittering with steel, with his battle-axe on his shoulder, till his fierce hosts filed out to new victories and carnage, the pale on-looker might have fancied that nature was in her death throes; for havoc and despair had taken possession of the earth, and the sun of manhood seemed setting in seas of blood.

"Yet it might be, on the gala-day of Tamerlane, a little boy was playing ninepins in the streets of Mentz, whose history was more important to men than Tamerlane's. The Tartar Khan, with his shaggy demods of the wilderness, passed away like a whirlwind, to be forgotten forever; and that German artisan has wrought a benefit, which is yet unmeasurable, expanding itself through all time. What are the conquests and expeditions of the whole corporation of captains, from Waterloo to Napoleon Bonaparte, compared with these moveable types of Johannes Faust?"

BOYS OUT AT NIGHT.—Night running is ruinous to the morals of boys in all instances. They acquire, under the cover of the night an unhealthy state of mind, bad, vulgar and profane language, obscene practices, criminal sentiments, and a lawless and riotous bearing. Indeed, it is in the streets after nightfall that boys principally acquire the education of the bad, and capacity for becoming rowdy, dissolute men.

A French writer has said that "to dream gloriously, you must act gloriously while you are awake; and to bring angels down to converse with you in your sleep, you must labor in the cause of virtue during the day."

"I never complained of my condition," says the Persian poet, "but once, when my feet were bare, and I had no money to buy shoes; but I met a man without feet, and I was contented with my lot."

It is not in the triumph of arms, that mankind are to look for the establishment of right and justice—for true national glory—but to the triumph of genius and intelligence over ignorance and superstition.

What is man—unless he has been educated—unless he has faith in himself, as well as in a Divine Providence? It is only by labor and faith in genius, that mountains can literally be removed—and oceans spanned, distances annihilated, and thought exchanged for thought with the velocity of the lightning's flash.—Emerson's Mag.

The Grafenberg Company.
THIS INSTITUTION (incorporated by the Legislature of the State of New York, capital $100,000), was founded for the purpose of supplying the public with the celebrated GRAEFENBERG'S MEDICINES. The series comprises remedies for nearly every disease, adapted to every climate. For families, travelers, seamen, and miners' use, they are unequalled. All the medicines are PURELY VEGETABLE, and warranted to cure the diseases for which they are severally recommended.
The Grafenberg Company does not profess to cure all diseases with one or two medicines. Our series consists of ELEVEN different kinds, adapted to the various diseases incident to the temperate and tropical climates. The following comprise the series of Grafenberg Medicines:
The Grafenberg Vegetable Pills
Are considered the standard Pill of the day, and are infinitely superior to any Pill before the public. They operate without irritation on all the excretions, purging the blood by the bowels, liver, kidneys, and skin.
Marshall's Uterine Catholicon,
An infallible remedy for all diseases of the womb and urinary organs, weakness in the back, pain in breast, nervousness, debility, etc. In California and Oregon, out of more than a thousand cases, where this medicine has been used, it has in no single instance failed to give permanent relief or to effect a certain cure.
GRAEFENBERG SASSAPARILLA,
A powerful extract. One bottle equal to ten of the ordinary sarsaparilla for purifying the blood. A sure cure for scrofula, rheumatism, ulcers, dyspepsia, salt rheum, mercurial diseases, cutaneous eruptions, &c.
The Green Mountain Ointment,
Invaluable for burns, wounds, sprains, chilblains, sores, swellings, scrofula, &c. As a pain extractor, it cannot be excelled, affording immediate relief from the most excruciating pains.
THE GRAEFENBERG DYSENTERY SYRUP.
This extraordinary article is a speedy and infallible remedy in diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus, cholera infantum, and the Asiatic cholera, if taken with the first symptoms of the disease. It is purely vegetable in its composition.
Grafenberg Children's Panacea.
For summer complaint, and most diseases to which children are subject. Its true worth can never be set forth in words, but it can be felt and appreciated by parents whose children have been saved. No mother should be without it.
Grafenberg Pile Remedy.
Warranted a certain cure for this painful disease. With the Ointment, there are very few cases which cannot be radically and permanently cured. A surgical operation for Piles and Fistula should never be resorted to until this ointment has been thoroughly tried. It never fails.
GRAEFENBERG EYE LOTION.
For diseases of the eye, this Lotion has no equal. It is a speedy and positive cure for inflammation of the eyes, weakness, dimness and falling of sight. It will always be beneficial in acute inflammation of the eyes, and also as a wash on inflamed surfaces.
GRAEFENBERG Health Bitters.
These bitters are skillfully and elegantly prepared from a number of invigorating, healthy roots, barks, herbs, and vines. An invaluable tonic and health restorer.
Grafenberg Manual of Health.
A handsomely printed volume of 300 pages, containing concise and extremely plain descriptions of all manner of diseases, their symptoms and treatment. Every family should have one. Price only 25 cents. It can be sent, post paid, to any post office in California or Oregon, on the receipt of 25 cents by mail or express.
Address Redington & Co., San Francisco.
The Grafenberg Medicines are for sale by all Druggists and Apothecaries throughout the country.
