Alone with God.

The New York Home Journal says: "The enclosed devout utterance, entitled 'Alone with God,' by Mary Clenmer Innes, is the sweet heart-breath of a young woman, formerly of this city, now in the far West; the devoted wife of a Christian minister."

Alone with God ! day's craven cares Have crowded onward unawares ; The soul is left to breathe her prayers

Alone with God ! I have my breast, Come in, come in, O holy guest ! Give rest-thy rest, of rest the best !

Alone with God ! how calm a culm Steals o'er me, sweet as music's balm, When seraphs sing a scraph's psalm.

Alone with Gol! no human eye Is here, with eager look to pry Into the meaning of each sigh

Alone with God ! no jealous glare Now stings me with its torturing stare ; No human malice says-beware !

Alone with God! from earth's rude crowd, With jostling steps, and laughter load, My better soul I need not shroad. Alone with God ! He only knows

If sorrow's ocean overflows The silent spring from whence it rose.

Alone with God ! He mercy lends ; Life's fainting hope, life's meagre ends Life's dwarfing pain He comprehends.

Alone with Gol ! He feeleth well The soul's pent life that will o'erwell; The life-long wants no words may tell !

Alone with Gol! still nearer bend ; Oh, tender Father, condescend In this my need, to be my friend !

Alone with God! with suppliant mien, Upon thy pitying breast I lean, Nor less because Thou art unseen.

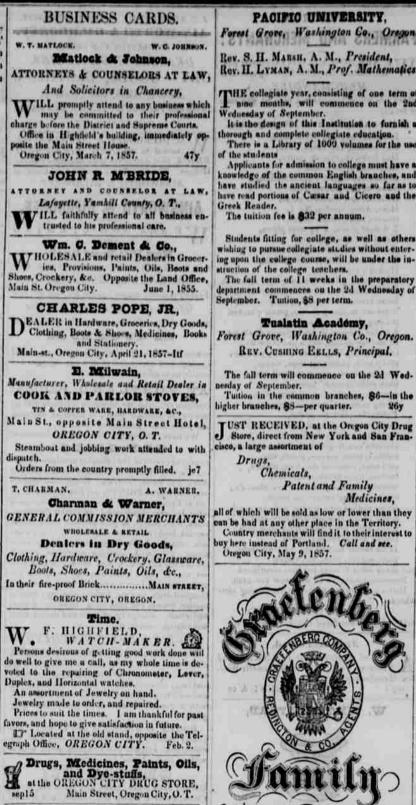

Alone with God ! safe in thine arms O shield me from life's wild alarms, O save me from life's fearful harms,

Alone with God ! my Father, bless With thy celestial promises, The soul that needs thy tenderness.

Alone with God ! O, sweet to me This covert to whose shade I flee. To breathe repose in thee -- in thee !

IMPROVE THE BETTER PART.-We live in a mechanical age-an age of wonderful discoveries and industrial progress; but in the pursuit of those arts which minister only to the gratification of the bodily comforts, man may be too eager, whilst he neglects the pure streams of intellectual and spiritual knowledge that would refresh and cheer the weary desert of life. We know, thanks to the glorious energy of the " Teeming, wonder-working Press," that the people are daily progressing in knowledge; that intellect and intelligence are diffusing widely abroad, and that a taste for art and a love of the beautiful have sprung up in the cottage as well as in the hali-in the humble home of the laborer, as well as in the regal dwellings of wealth and luxury. And we would have the mechanics and laborers, who produce the world's wealth, secure to themselves the blessings which this progress in material, moral, and intellectual development should bestow, which it is intended to bestow, and which if properly sought and applied it will bestow on every human being. We would have them more alive to the promptings of the immortal spirit within, urging them forward to laudable objects of ambition .-We would counsel all to investigate patiently and conscientiously the gifts and mental powers with which we are personded a boun-

OLD FRIENDS .- Old friends are the blessings of one's latter years. Half a word conveys one's meaning. They have memory of the same events, and have the same mode of thinking. * * I have young relations that may grow upon me, for my nature is affectionate, but can they grow old friends? My age forbids that. Still less can they grow companions. Is it friendship to explain half one says ? One must relate the history of one's life and ideas; and what is that to the young but old stories !-- Horace Walpole.

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN.

PROSPECTUS.

VOLUME FOURTEEN BEGINS SEPT. 11, 1858.

MECHANICS, INVENTORS, Manufacturers, and Farmers.

THE SCHATTER ASERICAN has now reached its Fourteenth Year, and will enter upon a New Volume on the 11th of September. It is the only weekly publication of the kind now issued in this country, and it has a very extensive circulation in all the States of the Union. It is not, as some might suppose from its title, a dry, abstrase work on technical science ; on the contrary, it so deals with the great events going on in the scientific, mechan-tical, and industrial worlds, as to please and instruct every one. If the mechanic or artisan wishes to know the best michine in use, or how to make any know the best michine in use, or how to make any substance employed in his business—if the house-wife wakes to get a recipe for making a good color,  $&c_{e_{m}}$ —if the inventor wishes to know what is going on in the way of improvements—if the manufac-turer wishes to keep posted with the times, and to enjoy the best facilities in his business—if the man of leave and study wishes to keep himself familiar with the uncoress mode in the channel the set. with the progress made in the chemical laboratory, with the progress made in the chemical informaty, or in the construction of telegraphis, steamships, railroads, respers, movers, and a thousand other machines and appliances, both of peace and war-ali these desiderata can be found in the Setur-TIPIC AMERICAN, and not elsewhere. They are here presented in a reliable and interesting form adapted to the comprehension of minds unlearned in the higher branches of science and art.
