

The Atlantic Cable.

What is the cable? Surely it is remarkable. What mystic wonders stretch along this cable?

A BOLD, BUT BEAUTIFUL FIGURE.—During the delivery of a sermon, last Sunday, in St. Patrick's Catholic Church in this city, says the Washington Union, the eyes of the congregation were suddenly riveted upon the speaker, Rev. Francis X. Boyle.

The eloquent divine spoke in terms of glowing panegyric of this wonderful triumph of human science, and dilated upon the revolutions which the grand achievement will accomplish in the commercial, political and social conditions of the two hemispheres.

What is it, after all, exclaimed the speaker, when compared with the instantaneous communication between the Thrones of Divine Grace and the heart of man? Offer up your silent petition for grace. It is transmitted through realms of unmeasured space more rapidly than the lightning's flash.

Yet this telegraph, performing its saving function ever since Christ died for us on Calvary, fills not the world with gladness and shouts of exultation—with illuminations and bonfires and the booming of cannon.

The reason is, one is the telegraph of this world, and may produce wonderful revolutions on earth; the other is the sweet communion between Christ and the Christian's soul, and will secure a glorious immortality in Heaven.

A GENTLE BOY.—"Be very gentle with her, my son," said Mrs. B., as she bent over her little girl's bonnet, and sent her out to play with her elder brother.

They had not been out very long before a cry was heard, and presently J. came in and threw down his hat, saying, "I hate playing with girls! there's no fun with them; they cry in a minute."

"What have you been doing with your sister? I see her lying there on the gravel walk; I have torn her frock, and pushed her down. I am afraid you forgot my caution to be gentle."

"Gentle! Boys can't be gentle, mother. It is their nature to be rough and hardy; they are the stuff soldiers and sailors are made of. It is very well to talk of a gentle girl; but a gentle boy—it sounds ridiculous!"

And yet, J., a few years hence, you would be very angry if any one were to say you were not a gentleman!

A gentleman! I had never thought of dividing the word that way before. Being gentle always seems to me like being weak and womanish."

This is so far from being the case, my son, that you will always find the bravest men are the most gentle. The spirit of chivalry that you so much admire, was a spirit of the noblest courage and the utmost gentleness combined. Still I dare say you would rather be called a manly than a gentle boy."

"Yes, indeed, mother."

"Well, then, my son, it is my great wish that you should endeavor to unite the two. Show yourself manly when you are exposed to danger, or see others in peril; be manly when called on to speak the truth, though the speaking of it may bring reproach upon you; be manly when you are in sickness and pain. At the same time be gentle, whether you are with females or men; be gentle toward all men. By putting the two spirits together, you will not so greatly object to."

"I see what you mean, dear mother; and I will endeavor to be what you wish—a gentlemanly boy."

"Be just and fear not."—This is a motto which our very soul loves. It is a noble, manly and encouraging motto—adapted to all classes and conditions; to the young, to the middle-aged and the hoary-headed. Young man, we would persuade you to adopt it as yours; it will be a source of comfort—a stay and prop to you through all the troubles, turmoils, and anxieties of life. When you are convinced that you have done right—that you have acted justly—you can confidently trust the result to the all-wise Ruler.

A MOTHER'S ANCHOR—A babe is a mother's anchor; she cannot go far from her moorings. And yet a true mother never lives so little in the present as when by the side of the cradle. Her thoughts follow the imaged future of her child.—That babe is the bulwark of piety, and guides her fearless thoughts down through the scenes of coming years.

Farm for Sale for $1,500.

I OFFER for sale a half-section of land situated about six miles east of McDonald's ferry on Forks Southam, Linn Co., and about twenty miles from Salem.

The shape of the land suits it well for ordinary farming, and it is also one of the best stock farms in the country. The improvement includes one hundred and twenty apple trees of improved fruit; also peach, plum, and cherry trees, all of which will soon be in plentiful bearing.

These will be given on a part of the money at moderate interest, or good stock taken for a part. For further particulars call on me at the "Union Store," Salem, or address by letter. Information concerning it can also be had by calling on W. L. Adams of the Oregon Argus.
