

The Golden Sunset.
The golden sun its mirror spreads
Beneath the golden sky
And but a narrow strip between
Of land and shadow lies.

The cloud-like rocks, the rock-like clouds,
Dissolved in glory float.
And, midway of the radiant flood,
Hangs silently the boat.

The sea is but another sky,
The sky a sea as well,
And which is earth, and which the heavens,
The eye can scarcely tell.

So when for us the evening hour
Soft-fading shall descend,
May glory, torn of earth and heaven,
The earth and heavens blend!

Flooded with peace the spirit float,
With silent rapture glow,
Till where earth ends and heaven begins
The soul shall scarcely know.

THE BIBLE.—The Bible is a venerable book—the most venerable. For four thousand years, as a part or a whole, it has been "a road through the mazes of time," upon which men have walked as if upon a level. It is the only bridge spanning the gulf, buttressed and upheld by Divine veracity. Beneath it lie yawns. Faith goes up upon it singing; rainbows of hope and promise hover over it; everlasting joy and blessedness beckon at the end. There always is light when everywhere else is darkness; ever and anon God's smile breaking through; death itself no longer dreadful—

"Only a gray eve 'twixt two shining days," a comma betwixt this and that, betwixt two existences, yet one; betwixt time and eternity, betwixt earth and heaven. Receiving it as God's Gift Book, Keepsake, Souvenir, how delightful to turn its pages filled with testimonies of his love, odorous with his breath, musical with his voice!—How the soul leaps up to meet the parental stoop of Divine condescension when imparting to us "the spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father!" Apprehensive, trembling, filled with remorse, falling into despair, how sweet to know that there is "forgiveness with God"; that he "can be just, and yet the justifier of him that believeth in Jesus!" When tossed, tempted, and afflicted, how calm and safe this anchorage! What equanimity and equipoise it gives to the soul! What fortitude; what patience; what moral strength; what elevation; what grandeur; what happiness! How it fills, satisfies, and blesses! How adapted every way to the wants of man! Not light is so suited to the eye, nor sound to the ear, nor food to the taste. The evidence of its truth is within. He needs no chemist to tell him that it is sweet, wholesome, beneficent in its operation; for has he not experienced it a thousand times? How can he doubt it? When the sun shines, does he not know it, having eyes to see? What horror in the thought could he once imagine that the curtain thus lifted between God and man might fall again, and this awful apocalypse and revelation of Divine mercy be shut out for ever! How thank you, then, most! He feel when He sees Atheistic men madly wishing and working for this very thing! How melancholy to know that the audacious attempt will not wholly fail! In his last illness, a few days before his death, Sir Walter Scott asked Mr. Lockhart to read to him. Mr. Lockhart inquired what book he would like. "Can you ask?" said Sir Walter; "there is but one," and requested him to read a chapter of the gospel of John. One Sun, one Bible. The place which the first holds in the natural world the last holds in the moral; blot either, and what were our state then!

"O dark, dark, irrepressible day,
Total eclipse, without all hope of day."
Although no power of malice can do this, yet it can do that which is tantamount to it. There is the sight which, being

"To such a tender ball as the eye confined,
Is obvious and easy to be quenched."

Who robs me of my faith puts out the eyes of my soul, and exiles me from light.

"To live a life half dead, a living death,
And buried; but, oh yet more miserable,
Myself my sepulchre, a moving grave."

makes me the "dungeon of myself" and "reserves me under chains of darkness against the judgment of the great day."—Medical and Surgical Reporter.

"Napoleon said in early days—"the only victory that costs no tears is the victory over ignorance."

"Happy are they," says Goethe, "who soon detect the chasm that lies between their wishes and their powers."

When Fenelon's library was on fire, "God be praised!" he exclaimed, "that it is not the dwelling of some poor man!"

A woman is either worth a good deal, or nothing. If good for nothing, she is not worth getting jealous for; if she is a true woman, she will give no cause for jealousy.

Woman is an exquisite production of nature, between a rose and an angel, though we have heard various other definitions.

The pleasure of love is loving.—We are happier in the passion we feel than in that which we exercise.

It is not what the eye sees, but what the mind reflects on, that supplies the human race with wisdom.

THE GRAEFENBERG COMPANY.
THIS INSTITUTION (incorporated by the Legislature of the State of New York, capital $100,000), was founded for the purpose of supplying the people with the celebrated GRAEFENBERG MEDICINES. The series comprises remedies for nearly every disease, adapted to every climate. For families, travelers, seamen, and miners' use, they are unequalled. All the medicines are PURELY VEGETABLE, and warranted to cure the diseases for which they are severally recommended.

The Graefenberg Company does not profess to cure all diseases with one or two medicines. Our series consists of ELEVEN different kinds, adapted to the various diseases incident to the temperate and tropical climates. The following comprise the series of Graefenberg Medicines:

The Graefenberg Vegetable Pills
Are considered the standard Pill of the day, and are infinitely superior to any Pill before the public. They operate without irritation on all the excretions, purging the blood by the bowels, liver, kidneys, and skin.

Marshall's Uterine Catholicon.
An infallible remedy for all diseases of the womb and urinary organs, weakness in the back, pain in breast, nervousness, debility, etc. In California and Oregon, out of more than a thousand cases where this medicine has been used, it has in no single instance failed to give permanent relief or to effect a certain cure.

GRAEFENBERG SARSAPARILLA.
A powerful extract. One bottle equal to ten of the ordinary sarsaparilla for purifying the blood. A sure cure for scrofula, rheumatism, ulcers, dyspepsia, skin eruptions, mercurial diseases, cutaneous eruptions, &c.

The Green Mountain Ointment.
Invaluable for burns, wounds, sprains, chilblains, sores, swellings, scrofula, etc. As a pain extractor, it cannot be excelled, affording immediate relief from the most excruciating pains.

THE GRAEFENBERG PILLS.
A powerful extract. One bottle equal to ten of the ordinary sarsaparilla for purifying the blood. A sure cure for scrofula, rheumatism, ulcers, dyspepsia, skin eruptions, mercurial diseases, cutaneous eruptions, &c.

GRAEFENBERG CHILDREN'S PAINEXTRACT.
A powerful extract. One bottle equal to ten of the ordinary sarsaparilla for purifying the blood. A sure cure for scrofula, rheumatism, ulcers, dyspepsia, skin eruptions, mercurial diseases, cutaneous eruptions, &c.

GRAEFENBERG PILE REMEDY.
Warranted a certain cure for this painful disease. With the Ointment, there are very few cases which cannot be radically and permanently cured. A surgical operation for Piles and Hemorrhoids never resorted to until this ointment has been thoroughly tried. It never fails.

GRAEFENBERG EYE LOTION.
For diseases of the eye, this Eye Lotion has equal. It is a speedy and positive cure for inflammation of the eye, weakness, dimness and failing of sight. It will always be beneficial in acute inflammation of the eyes and also as a wash on inflamed surfaces.

GRAEFENBERG FEVER AND AGUE PILLS.
A speedy and positive cure for this distressing complaint. These Pills are composed principally of quinine, with other vegetable tonics, anti-spa-smic and febrifuge articles. Thousands have been permanently cured by their use.

GRAEFENBERG CONSUMPTIVE'S BALM.
Sovereign in all Bronchial and Pulmonary Disease. It is, beyond all question, true that consumption is a curable disease, and the Consumptive's Balm is the best curative ever used.

GRAEFENBERG Health Bitters.
These Bitters are skillfully and elegantly prepared from a number of invigorating, healthy roots, barks, herbs, and vines. An invaluable tonic and health restorer.

GRAEFENBERG Manual of Health.
A handsomely printed volume of 300 pages, containing concise and extremely plain descriptions of all manner of diseases, their symptoms and treatment. Every family should have one. Price only 25 cents. It will be sent, post paid, to any post office in California or Oregon, on the receipt of 25 cents by mail or express.

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN.
PROSPECTUS.
VOLUME FOURTEEN BEGINS
SEPT. 11, 1858.

MECHANICAL INVENTIONS.
MANUFACTURERS AND PATENTMEN.
THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has now reached its Fourteenth Year, and will enter upon a New Volume on the 11th of September. It is the only weekly publication of the kind now issued in all the States of the Union. It is not, as some might suppose from its title, a dry, abstract work on technical sciences; on the contrary, it deals with the great events going on in the scientific, mechanical, and industrial world, as to please and instruct every one. If the mechanic or artisan wishes to know the best machine in use, or how to make any substance employed in his business—if the housewife wishes to get a recipe for making a good cake, or—if the inventor wishes to know what is going on in the way of improvements—if the manufacturer wishes to be kept posted with the times, and to enjoy the best facilities in his business—if the man of leisure and study wishes to keep himself familiar with the progress made in the chemical laboratory, or in the construction of telegraphs, steamships, railroads, reapers, mowers, and a thousand other machines and appliances, both of peace and war—all these desiderata can be found in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, and not elsewhere. They are presented in a readable and interesting form, adapted to the comprehension of all minds unacquainted in the higher branches of science and art.
