.. Do You Think He is Married ?" Madam!—you are very presing,
And I can't decline the task.
With the sightest git of guessing,
You would hardly need to ask?

Don't you see a hint of marriage

In his rather stooping carriage, And extremely rapid pace? If he's not committed treason, Or some wicked action done, Can you see the faintest reason Why a bachelor should run?

Why should he be in a flurry ! at a loving wife to greet, Is a circumstance to hurry The most dignified of feet! When afar the man has spied her, If the grateful happy elf Does not haste to be beside her,

He must be beside himse f! It is but a trifle, may be -But observe his practiced tone— When he calms your stormy baby, Just as if it were his own!

Do you think a certain mecknes You have mentioned in his hoks, Is a chronic optic weakness. That has come of read ng books. Did you ever see his vision

Peering underneath a heal, Save enough for recognition, Asa civil person should! Coull a Capuchin be colder At a finely rounded shoulder

Or a proudly swelling bust ! Madam! -think of every feature. Then deny it, if you can-He's a fond, connabial creature, And a very married min!

It has been for some time a question in my mind whether there is at this day in America a sincere, conscientious Christian who believes that slavery is right. Christianity, so far as I can judge of its nature, consists in the practice of justice and mercy; the policy unavoidably leads: whole duty of man is thus defined: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and thy neighbor as thyself."-Now, if the slave is admitted to be a human being, and I know of none that disble for a true Christian to be guilty of tnen, by nature their equals only. THE ST. LOUIS CONTESTED ELECTION .-The St. Louis Democrat of Dec. 21st says that the testimony in the contested election case of Blair ve. Barrett, which it has carefully examined, proves that eight hundred and forty-six fraudulent votes were cast for Barrett in the August election .-The names of the fraudulent voters are given, and in a large number of instances their residences are pointed out, and the fact of their laving voted illegally, and that they voted for Barrett, is brought home in a manner so convincing as to leave no room for doubt. In many cases the proof is the admission of the parties themselves; in others the proof is made by persons who know the parties, and the fact of their having voted without having a right to vote. A census taken immediately after the election; afforded the means for developing many cases. But the frands were confined to a comparatively small erca. It was indeed this fact that first attracted the public attention. Mr. Blain's gains over his vote at the preceding election-amounting in the aggregate to about five hundred-were very equally distributed over the whole district. But, in regard to several precincts; the main facts of which are given by the Democrat, that paper says:

"These seven precincts gate Reynolds, the administration candidate in 1856, only 505 votes, and they give Barrett 2,763 votes in 1858, and of this 2,743 votes, Mr. Blair has identified and proven more than 500 to be fraudulent, and has shown such frandulent and corrupt conduct on the part of several of the judges of election, and Barrett's most conspicuous partisans (in many instances proven to be fraudulent voters themselves) as leaves little doubt that almost the entire increase of vote for Barrett in those precincts was illegal and
