A Love Bong. How delicious is the winning Of a kiss at Love's beginning.
When two mutual hearts are sighing
For the knot there's no unitying!

Yet remember, 'midst your woo'ng, Love has bliss, but Love has rueing; Other smiles may make you fickle; Tears for other charms may trickle Love he comes, and Love he tarries, Just as fate or fancy carries; Longest stays when sorest childen; Laughs and files when pressed and bidden. Bind the sea to slumber stilly;

B nd its odor to the lily; B ad the aspen ne'er to quiver— Then bind Love to last forever!

- Thomas Campbell. AT Woman, in her sphere, as wife, mother, companion, is the poblest thought of God, ever expressed on this earth, but thrown out of her sphere, she is the most wretched thought ever expressed on this side of perdition. Standing erect in her virtue, is there any. thing nobler than woman? Man is said to have been made a little lover than the an gels. Woman needs no such comparis u. for she is fully their equal.

A woman, in the family circle, as wife or mother, is filling her sphere, though unfortunately, by their own fault, or without their fault, there are thousands who remain single. Woman can do little for herself. and by herself, that is lucrative, because she is not taught. We expect our boys to do everything-to turn to any occupation. to dig or cobble shoes-but we educate wo men to be married, and first, she is taught

Thank heaven, sewing is nearly over. The needle is nearly gone-ruled our by the machine. Needles have done more injury to women and the world than ever the sword has done, and though their abolition may for a time afford injury to women, it will in time be better for them .- Beecher.

TALMUDICAL PARABLE. -- THE MAN AND THE SERPENT .- Man :- Why, serpent, dost thou bite! The lion rushes upon his prey to devour it, the wolf tears his victim, in order to satisfy his hunger; you alone, wound for the sole purpose of killing.

Serpent:-Is it not my destiny so to do ! Man :- But why must your poison rage through the whole body-why do you not attack one single limb!

Serpent:-Is not a man a great deal worse than myself? Even when in Syria, his tongue often wounds one that is in Rome; and being at Rome, its venom may wound one in Syria.

LOCKE'S OPINION OF THE NEW TESTA-MEST .- A short time before the death of this celebrated philosopher, on being asked what was the surest way for a young man to attain true knowledge, he replied: "Let him study the Holy Scriptures, especially the New Testament; therein are contained the words of eternal life,"

To Day. - Enjoy the blessings of this day, if God sends them, and the evils bear patiently and sweetly-for this day only is ours. We are dead to yesterday, and we are not born to morrow.

How to TELL 'EM .- The way to judge of a woman's character at first sight is to ascertain the color of her petticoat. A black petticoat indicates low spirits, a batred of washtubs and activity, and a taste ticonts, and never wears any other, is an institution to which young gentlemen of connubial proclivities should lose no time in paying due attention. The red petti-coat, however, is something of which mankind should beware. It is an insignia of Xantippes-a style of females who cut their toe-nails with their husband's razors.

Ar 'Do you believe in second love, Misther McQuade ?'

Do I belave in second love! Humph! if a man buys a pound of sugar, isn't it swate ! and when it's gone don't he want another pound, and isn't that swate too !-Troth, Murphy, I belave in second love,
