

with another vessel and cargo, to make their escape. The Captain and four of the crew were taken to Victoria in the schr. Morning Star, Capt. McKay, and the remainder of the crew are at Noh Bay.

There was a rumor current while the steamer Constitution was at Victoria, that the barque America, which has been due at that port for two months past, had been taken by the Indians somewhere on the Sound and that the crew were in captivity. We would suggest the dispatching of the Revenue Cutter Jeff. Davis, by the Collector, to ascertain whether the report is true, and if so, afford relief. It is lamentable that we are not properly prepared for exigencies of this kind, but such means as we have should be promptly brought into requisition.—Puget Sound Herald.

A BARBAROUS CUSTOM.—An Indian Medicine Man, or Doctor, during the past week, in this vicinity, fell a victim to the vengeance of a superstition and bereaved parent, for failing to restore to health a darling child. Under his treatment the child died, and by the law of his tribe he forfeited his life. Three stars of a knife did the "bloody deed." A lifetime of successful practice of his profession availed him nothing.—Puget Sound Herald.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office has decided that in all cases where lands belonging to the United States have been regularly surveyed and sold—the proprietorship of the Government therein entirely ceasing—it is not incumbent on the Government to cause a re-survey to be made, even if the lines, corners, &c., making the original survey shall become obliterated. The re-survey must be made by the owners of the land, on the basis of the field-notes of the original survey; or the State may order such survey to be made.—The General Government, however, having nothing further to do with the land.

THE FREEDOM OF DEBATE.—The Hon. Joshua R. Giddings lectured in the Tremont Temple, Boston, lately. His subject was, "Twenty Years in Congress." In the course of his lecture, according to the Atlas, he related the following incident, which will be read with interest at this time:

"In Congress, they sometimes had to make speeches under great difficulties, of which Mr. G. gave an amusing illustration. In 1845, there was an unfortunate man in the House, from Georgia, by the name of Black, who regarded himself as the special champion of that State and of the peculiar institution." When the Indian bill was under consideration, he (Mr. G.) took occasion to refer to the old matter of the Creek Indians, and the slaves that had been stolen by the Georgians; Black took fire and made a speech, in which he charged him with stealing negroes, and franking a dress to his wife. The Southern men gathered around and spurred him on. When he had concluded, he (Mr. G.) replied in mild terms, as would be imagined; but Mr. B. did not so regard it, and coming round to within four feet of him, with his heavy sword cane in his hand, said, "Repeat that, and I will knock you down." "Well," said Mr. Giddings, "I never had been knocked down; it would be a curiosity, and so of course I repeated it. [Loud and prolonged applause.] Some members tried to get him away but I told them to let him alone; he was a poor, harmless man."

"Dawson, of Louisiana, a professed duellist, came along, and placing his hand on his pistol, and cocking it, said, 'D—n him, I'll shoot him!' Mr. Giddings did not think he was in any danger, but others did, and a slaveholder from Maryland, armed with bowie-knife and pistol, came over and stood by his side with his arms folded.—John Slidell and other Southern men came over and stood by Black; Kenneth Raynor, (who has been called a Know Nothing since, but who knew something that day,) who was fully armed, came and took up a position on his left; Charles Hudson rose quietly, and put himself on his right; and Solomon Foot, feeling his cold Northern blood stirred somewhat, left his seat, and took up his position at the entrance of the aisle, and then and there they maintained the freedom of debate. [Loud applause.]"

CENSUS OF THE LATE KENTUCKY DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.—The late Democratic Convention at Frankfort (Ky.), consisted of six hundred and seventy-two delegates, subdivided thus:

Ex-Governors,	9
Generals,	14
Colonels, (estimated),	493
Majors,	97
Captains,	35
Squires,	13
Total,	672

The candidates were all Colonels, and half were Old Whigs, "nary a one" of whom—the Old Whigs—received a solitary crumb of comfort in the way of a nomination, although several distinguished Democrats eloquently and pathetically insisted upon the justice of placing some of them on the ticket. A more anxious body of politicians than these same Old Whigs, to get nominations, were never before seen.

"THEY SAY" PUNISHABLE BY LAW.—A woman in Massachusetts, who was recently sued for slander, was defended on the ground that she only repeated without malice what was currently reported. The Supreme Court decided that it was no defense, but that a talebearer who repeated a false and slanderous story, no matter how widely it had been circulated, did so at his peril. The origin of a slander cannot be traced, and its power of mischief comes from its repetition.

CRUZZLED INDIANS.—The Henderson (Min.) Democrat says that many of the Sioux Indians in that State have adopted the habits and customs of civilized white men, and become very respectable Indians. This gratifying change has been brought about through the efforts of the Indian Agent.—Those Indians who have thus given up their old habits have been arranged into one band called "the farmers." They live in comfortable log and frame houses, and last year fourteen of them raised, in the aggregate, 3082 bushels of potatoes, 2427 bushels of corn, and 100 tons of hay; besides numerous garden vegetables raised by each family. Says the Democrat:

"Since their adoption of agriculture, these farmers have been a constant theme of ridicule for the other Indians. They were called the 'diggers,' and 'wood-choppers,' the half-breeds, and other names, all implying that they were no better than women. Yet they bore up under it bravely, and were firm. It was necessary however, in order to bind them more firmly to the customs they had adopted, that a last call should be made upon their moral courage; and accordingly, at the suggestion of Major Brown, it was proposed to them that they should have their hair cut off and adopt the white dress in toto. This was a disaster for them. They could bear the white man's dress, and stand the abuse of the Indian; but this was striking direct at the own hereditary customs and beliefs.—It was a disgrace and a shame! They hesitated—demurred—and all but refused; but finally came up manfully and underwent the ordeal. Sixteen came up and were made white men of in this way. After the ordeal, every encouragement was given them, both by the agent and superintendent, to stand firm to their new customs, both by word and deed. Each one was presented with two new suits of clothes throughout, a yoke of oxen, a cow, and numerous little presents. They were told that the United States would protect them, and that they must hereafter do all they could to encourage others to adopt the same mode of life."

SAN FRANCISCO MARKET.—Feb. 17.—Flour $1.50 to $1.50; wheat $2.50 to $2.75; oats 1 1/2 to 3c; potatoes 2 to 2c; butter 16 to 18c; pork $13 to $14.50.

There will be a meeting of the Young Men's Literary Association at the court-room on Monday evening, March 7, at 7 o'clock. An address may be expected from one of the members.

Clackamas Republican Convention.—There will be a meeting of the Republicans of Clackamas county at the Court-house on Saturday, April 9, at one o'clock p. m., for the purpose of choosing five delegates to represent this county in the general convention to be held at Salem April 21, as also to transact such other business as may come before the convention. All such citizens as have patriotism enough to love their country, respect the constitution, cling to the Union, desire a wholesome Government, who regard freedom as national and slavery as sectional, and who are opposed to the Administration and the Salem clique, are most respectfully invited to participate in the meeting. Let no lukewarmness deter any man from coming. The gathering storm of sectional rage, political fanaticism, dissimulation, and national bankruptcy, evoked by the party falsely called Democratic, ought to stir up an enthusiasm in the breast of every patriot that will result in immediate and determined action. Come, along, friends, and let us have a rousing convention.

Clatsop Co. Republican Mass Meeting.
The electors of Clatsop county, who are in favor of the great cardinal principle of the Republic—namely, the non-extension of slavery, as opposed to the great overbearing dogma of Democratic party—the universal extension of slavery, even against the sovereign will of the people, as exemplified in the decision of the Dred Scott case, and in the Compromise Kansas policy of the present Administration—are requested to meet in mass meeting, at the Court House in Astoria, on Saturday, the 9th of April, 1859, at 1 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing a delegate to the Territorial Republican convention, to be held at Salem on Thursday the 21st day of April, 1859, for the purpose of nominating a delegate to Congress, and a Territorial Prison Inspector, to be elected at the ensuing June election. Other business of the nature of more fully organizing the party may be transacted.

Turn out, and let us have a full attendance!
