

To the Virgin to Make Much of Him.
Gather ye rose-buds while ye may,
Old time is still a flying,
And this same flower that smiles to-day,
To-morrow may be dying.

This glorious lamp of heaven, the Sun,
The higher he's a setting,
The sooner will his race be run,
And nearer he's to setting.

That age is best which is the first,
When youth and blood are warmer;
But being spent, the worse, and worst
Times still succeed the former.

Then be not coy, but use your time,
And while ye may, your youth employ;
For having lost, you'll lose your prime,
You may forever tarry.

—Herick's Hesperides, 1633.

INFLUENCE OF A HOLY LIFE.—There is an energy of moral suasion in a good man's life, passing the highest efforts of the orator's genius. The seen but silent beauty of holiness speaks more eloquently of God and duty than the tongues of men and angels. Let parents remember this. The best inheritance a parent can bequeath to a child is a virtuous example, a legacy of hallowed remembrances and associations. The beauty of holiness beaming through the life of a loved relative or friend, is more effectual to strengthen such as do stand in virtue's ways, and raise up those that are bowed down, than precept, command, entreaty, or warning. Christianity itself, I believe, owes by far the greater part of its moral power, not to the precepts or parables of Christ, but to his own character. The beauty of that holiness which is enshrined in the four brief biographies of the Man of Nazareth, has done more, and will do more, to regenerate the world and bring in everlasting righteousness, than all other agencies put together. It has done more to spread his religion in the world than all that has ever been preached or written on the evidences of Christianity. —Chalmers.

TEARS AND LAUGHTER.—What makes laughter, determines whether laughter is good or bad. If it is the expression of levity or vanity, it is frivolous. If it be the expression of moral feelings—and it often is—it is as reverent as tears are, in a natural state, for tears and laughter go hand in hand; for they are twin-born.—Like two children sleeping in one cradle, when one wakes and stirs, the other wakes also.

Woman is the type of civilization; in savage life a slave, in refined a queen! What distinguishes this nation most, what impresses the noble of other lands that the American is the more delicate, the higher refinement, is our veneration for woman.—She can go, unharmed, through all our vast country—her guardian angel, the spirit of the people.

Fanny Fern says that if one half of the girls knew the previous life of the men they marry, the list of old maids would be wonderfully increased; and the Boston Post adds, that if the men could only look into the future life of the women they marry, the number of old maids would be still greater.

Nothing is so dangerous as to pretend to fall in love with a woman—the reality is sure to follow.

It is the good cause, not the stake, that makes the martyr.

Another Cure of Scrofula.
Tracy, N. Y., Sept. 1, 1854.
Messrs. A. B. & D. SANDS: Gentlemen,—I have for nearly three years been troubled with the scrofulous disease, which is so much to be dreaded, and which has done more to ruin me than any other disease. I have tried every medicine that I could get, but without any effect. One of my neighbors, who had been cured of a similar complaint by your Sarsaparilla, advised me to make a trial of it, and I can truly say that it has done me a world of good, having completely cured me. Hoping that my cure may induce others similarly afflicted to adopt the same remedy, with the same satisfactory results, I remain, gentlemen, yours,

DR. JACOB WEBBER'S SANGUIFER,
Or Invigorating Cordial.

What though the sun in beauty shine,
And you have countless hoards of wealth;
What though the world—all, all was thine,
If you but want the blessing, Health.
An Honest Appeal!
To all with bad or failing health.
ARE you languid, inanimate, restless, appetite poor, digestion bad, and pains in the limbs, body, back, and head? Read, much of this is caused from cold caught unwittingly, or in seven cases out of ten, the richness of the liver and blood, and want of natural perspiration, indigestion in the use of food and drink, or from a dryness in the atmosphere—which is a very unhealthy part of this climate—many of the awful, violent, and sudden deaths that occur here must be attributed to this. Now, reader, I have made this my study for many years, and I do assure you that my DR. WEBBER'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL SANGUIFER will cure these causes—it will insure animation of the liver, blood, and brain—it strengthens the nerves, and gives to the sufferer a lightness of spirits, a mental and bodily feeling of strength that is delightful. The many respectable persons who have been benefited by and certified to its extraordinary qualities in curing any of the following diseases, must satisfy all but the self-will and ignorant skeptic—dyspepsia, or indigestion, loss of muscular or bodily strength and mental energy; fever, ague, or chills; rheumatic, neuralgic, or other pains; depletion and weakness of the natural functions, debility from disease, desipation, too much doctoring, debauchery, and other causes; in case of excitement from constant intemperance, and where delirium tremens has occurred, I have seen it change the sufferer in half an hour from the most horrible state to calmness and placidity. It can, indeed, be conscientiously recommended to all suffering, and the proprietor regrets deeply that it is unnecessary thus to advertise it, in order that its merits may be known.
