

I-Have and O-Had-I.
OR, A BIRD IN THE HAND'S WORTH TWO IN THE BOWL.
There are two little songsters well known in the land,
Their names are I-Have, and O-Had-I;
I-Have will come tamenly, and perch on your hand,
But O-Had-I will mock you most audly.
I-Have, at first sight, is less fair to the eye,
But his worth is by far more enduring.
Than a thousand O-Had-I's that sit far and high,
On roots and on trees so alluring.
Full many a golden egg this bird will lay,
And sing on, "Be cheery! be cheery!"
Oh, merrily then will the day glide away,
And sweet shall your sleep be when weary.
But let O-Had-I but once take your eye,
And a longing to catch him once more you,
He'll give you no comfort nor rest all you die;
Life-long he'll torment you and tease you.
He'll keep you all day running up and down hill,
Now laying, now panting, now creeping,
While far overhead, this sweet bird, as he will,
With his bright, golden plumage is sweeping.
Then every wise man who attends to my song,
Will count his I-Have a choice treasure,
And when'er an O-Had-I comes flying along,
Will just let him fly at his pleasure.
—From the German.

MOTHERS.—If anything in life deserves to be considered as at once the exquisite bliss and pre-eminence of a mother, it is this—to watch the dawning disposition and capacity of a favorite child; to discover the earliest buds of thought; to feed with useful truths the inquisitiveness of a young mind; to direct the eyes, yet unswayed with the waters of coarition, to a bounteous Benefactor; to lift the little hands, yet unstained with vice, in prayer to the Father which is in Heaven. But so it is; the child, as soon as it is released from the bondage of the nurse, and needs no longer a careful eye to look after its steps and guard it from external injury, is too often surrendered to instructors, some of whom are employed to polish the surface of the character, and regulate the motions of the limbs; others to furnish the memory and accomplish the imagination; while religion gets admission as she can—sometimes in a Saturday's task, or a Sunday's peculiarity, but how rarely as a sentiment! Their little hearts are made to flutter with vanity, encouraged to pant with emulation, persuaded to contract from parsimony, allowed to glow with revenge, or reduced to absolute numbness by worldliness and care, before they have ever felt a sentiment of devotion, or beat with a pulsation of sorrow for an offence, or gratitude for a benefit, in the presence of God. Believe me, mothers, you have no right to expect that the sense of religion will be infused by the labor of others. When parents have ceased to be teachers, religion has ceased to be taught.

Women who are charming to men are common enough; a far safer test of true beauty of character is, that a woman should be admired and loved by women.

Salt and vinegar held in the mouth will relieve the severest toothache in a short time, unless it proceeds from the stomach.

It has been urged as a reason for a second marriage with one's wife's sister, that you avoid having more than one mother-in-law.

Law is like a sieve; you may see through it, but you must be considerably reduced before you can get through it.
