High up a lark aung rapturous hymns, Low down, among the rustling stems, His brown mate listened, and the dew Set round her nest with gems.

I laid me down and dreamt, and dreamt Of summer mornings in the land Where you and I, dear love, went forth Each morning, hand in hand.

I thought athwart the tremulous tears I saw your blue eyes gleaming, sweet, Through golden locks: alse! 'twas but The corn-flowers 'mid the wheat! -- Household Words.

PREACHING LIKE "OLD HUNDRED."-The last time I met Dr. Tyler, he was on his way home from Worcester, where he had preached on the Sabbath. It was in the cars, and I was returning to my field of labor after my summer vacation. He never met an old pupil, but he sent him away a wiser man. This time he took for his text a compliment which he had just received from a stranger in Worcester, and enlarged upon it in his peculiarly impressive way. A member of the congregation, whom he had observed as a very attentive listener, stopped after the service, and offering him his hand, thanked him with great earnestness, saying, "Your preaching sounds like the tune of Old Hundred." "It was the best compliment I ever received," said the venerable man. "A man whose preaching has the depth, and sacredness, and power to move the multitude, as that honored tune has, ought to be grateful to his master." From this point he enlarged, as one may easily imagine, upon the superficial, showy, ad captandum preaching which was becoming so popular, for the purpose of impressing upon his former pupil's mind the necessity of seeking for real logical power and strength of thought in his preaching. Preach as near as you can like "Old Hundred." The tune will outlast many jiggery tunes of new masters. That tune wears.

THE CHRISTIAN PALGRIMAGE.-If men have been termed pilgrims, and life a journey, then we may add, that the Christian pilgrimage far surpasses all others in the following important particulars: in the goodness of the road, in the beauty of the prospects, in the excellence of the company, and in the vast superiority of the secommodation provided for the Christian traveler when he has finished his course,-

PHILOSOPHY AND CHRISTIANITY .- Philosophy, in the night of paganism, was like the fire fly of the tropics, making itself vis-ible, but not irradiating the darkness. But Christianity, revealing the Sun of righteousness, sheds more than the full has to sell sun-light of those tropies on all that we need to see, whether for time or eternity. - Coleridge

PRETTY WOMEN. - Of all other views a man may, in time, grow tired; but in the counterance of woman there is a variety which sets weariness at defiance. Junius says the divine right of beauty is the only divine a man can acknowledge, and a pretty woman the only tyrant he is not author

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN. PROSPECTUS.

VOLUME FIFTEEN BEGINS SEPT. 11, 1859. MECHANICS, INVENTORS,

Manufacturers, and Farmers. MAUUTACTURERS. AND FARMERS.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has now reached its Fourteenth Year, and will enter upon a New Volume on the 11th of September. It is the only weekly publication of the kind now issued in this country, and it has a very extensive circulation in all the States of the Union. It is not, as some interest where the property of the p might suppose from its title, a dry, abstruse work on technical science; on the contrary, it so deals with the great events going on in the scientific, mechan-ical, and industrial worlds, as to please and instruct every one. If the mechanic or artisan wishes to know the best machine in use, or how to make any know the best machine in use, or how to make any substance employed in his business—if the house-wife wishes to get a recipe for making a good color, &c.,—if the inventor wishes to know what is going on in the way of improvements—if the manufacturer wishes to keep posted with the times, and to enjoy the best facilities in his business—if the man of leisure and study wishes to keep himself familiar with the progress, made in the chemical laborators. with the progress made in the chemical laboratory, with the progress made in the enemical laboratory, or in the construction of telegraphs, steamships, railroads, reapers, mowers, and a thousand other machines and appliances, both of peace and war—all these desiderata can be found in the Scien-TIFIC AMERICAN, and not ciscuchere. They are here presented in a reliable and interesting form, adapted to the comprehension of minds unlearned in the higher branches of science and art.

DR. JACOB WEBBER'S SANGUIFIER, Or Invigorating Cordial.

What though the sun in beauty shine, And you have countless hoards of wealth; What though the world—all, all was thine.
If you but want the blessing, Health.

An Honest Appeal! To all with bad or failing health.

A RE you languid, inanunate, restless, appetite poor, digestion bad, and pains in the limbs, body, back, and head? Reader, much of this is body, back, and head? Reader, finden of the se caused from cold caught unwittingly, or, in seven cases out of ten, sluggishness of the liver and blood, and want of natural perspiration, indiscre-tion in the use of food and drink, or from a dryness in the atmosphere—which is a very unheal thy part of this climate—many of the awful, vio ent, and suiden deaths that occur here must be attributed to this. Now, reader, I have made this my study for many years, and I do assure you that my DR. WEBBER'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL SANGUIFIER will cure these causes—it will insure animation of the liver, blood, and brains—it strengthens the nerves, and gives to the sufferer a lightness of spirits, a mental and bodily feeling of strength that is delightful. The many respectable persons who have been benefit-ed by and certified to its oxtraordinary qualities in ed by and certified to its extraordinary qualities in curing any of the following diseases, must satisfy all but the self-wise and ignorant skeptic—dys-pepsia, or isoligeation, loss of muscular or hodily strength and mental energy; fever, ague, or chills; rheumatic, neuralgic, or other pains; depletion and weakness of the natural functions, debility from disease, dissipation, too much doctoring, de-bauchery, and other causes; in case of excitement from constant intemperance, and where delirium tremens has occurred, I have seen it change the sufferer in half an hour from the most homble state to calmness and placidity. It can, indeed, be conscientiously recommended to all suffering, and the proprietor regrets deeply that it is neces-sary that to othertise ii, in order that its merit may be known.
