For Representatives—Barthley Carl, Joseph P. Tate, Anderson Decker, and Asa McCuley.

Col. Baker's Speech.—During last week it was announced that Col. Baker would address the citizens of Clackamas county here on Saturday afternoon.

Col. Baker's Speech.—During last week it was announced that Col. Baker would address the citizens of Clackamas county here on Saturday afternoon.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the courtroom was filled with an intelligent and discriminating audience.

H. Winter Davis.—This Southern gentleman, whose vote elected Pennington Speaker, was censured by the Democratic Legislature of Maryland for his vote on that occasion.

Wine.—Messrs. Charman & Warner have lately put up about three hundred bottles of red currant wine of the purest quality.

Tracy & Co. have our thanks for repeated favors.

THE PRESIDENT'S PROTEST.—It is considered somewhat remarkable that the President never protested against the scope of the investigation by the House until he read the testimony given before Messrs. Haskin and Covode's committees.

KELLY FOR SENATOR.—Clackamas Democracy proposed to accede to the demands of Wasco that she should be permitted to name the Senator in the district composed of those two counties.

CITY ELECTION.—At the election in this city last Monday for municipal officers, Dr. A. H. Steels was chosen Mayor.

FLORA'S FESTIVAL.—We learn that Prof. Newell is making arrangements on an extensive scale at Salem for producing this beautiful cantata on the 4th of July next.

Col. Baker and Thos. J. Dryer addressed the people at Aurora last Thursday. There was a large crowd present.

Milk White, of your city, has just returned from the Similkameen perfectly disgusted, after trying it a month.

The body of Peter Clifford, who was drowned off Thompson & Co's barge just below Walla Walla a few weeks ago, was picked up not many days since.

Col. Baker in Yamhill.

LAFAYETTE, May 9, 1860. ED. ARGUS: To-day has been a day of valorous conflict on the political field in Yamhill.

Mr. Dryer set the ball in motion by a brief discussion of local matters, in which he broke a lance with Andy Shuck.

Col. Baker held the audience, most of it standing, enchained for two hours and a half, in which time he exposed the corruptions, the false principles and worse practices of the present Administration.

After Col. Baker closed, by the despairing appeals of Andy and the kindly solicitations of the Republicans, Col. Kelly mounted the platform, and worked harder for one hour and three-quarters than any man I ever saw mauling rails.

1st, That Congress had absolute sovereignty over the Territories.

2d, That niggers are property in the same sense and manner as horses and cattle.

3d, That Congress could not prohibit the introduction of negro slaves into any Territory.

4th, That popular sovereignty in the Territories, in any sense, [I use his words as near as I can remember,] was a very great and very transparent humbug.

5th, That no Territory can prohibit slavery until it becomes a State.

6th, That it is the duty of Congress to protect every man in the possession of his negroes in any of the Territories.

By the way, what do the Douglas men of Clackamas think of such a Democratic candidate for Senator.

It took Col. Baker only half an hour to completely demolish the argument of Kelly, root and branch, at the end of which time he closed amid tremendous enthusiasm and applause.

Logan made a good impression in his bout with Shell here, the other day, but there is a tremendous amount of grumbling among the Democrats because their candidate refuses to define his position on the most vital questions of the canvass.

From Walla Walla. May 5, 1860. ED. ARGUS: I have just received another letter from R. N. White, dated Similkameen, April 20.

It is stated in the Eastern papers that the California and Oregon delegations to the Charleston Convention propose to "camp out" in frontier style during the Convention.

It is in favor of the construction of a Railroad from the Valley of the Mississippi to the Pacific Ocean, under the auspices of the General Government.

Yes, strongly. I not only believe such a road of vast importance as the means of increasing the population, wealth and power of this Great Valley, but necessary, as the means of national defense and of preserving the Union.

Yes, I am for guarding the public lands, as well as possible, from the danger of common trade and speculation—for keeping them for the actual use of the people—and for granting tracts of suitable size to those who will actually inhabit and improve them.

Yes, I am in favor of the immediate admission of Kansas under the Wyanottite Constitution.

Position of Edward Bates.

A number of Republicans of St. Louis lately addressed a letter to the Hon. Edward Bates desiring his views on certain questions of national politics, for publication. We give that portion of the Judge's reply embracing the answers to the different questions propounded:

1st. Slavery—Its Extension into the Territories. On this subject in the States and in the Territories, I have no new opinions—no opinion formed in relation to the present array of parties.

It is generally understood that our little barking Harvey Smith will be one of Delusion's nominees for Representative, and 'my son Jimmy' Elkins for County Clerk.

DEATH OF MARSHAL REILLE.—The last arrival from Europe brings us intelligence of the death of one of the few remaining officers who served under the first Napoleon—Marshal Reille, who was among the most prominent men in the wars of the first Empire.

Slavery is a "social relation"—a domestic institution. Within the States it exists by the local law, and the Federal Government has no control over it there.

I answer no. The Constitution of the United States does not carry slavery into the Territories. With much more slow reason may it be said it carries slavery into all the States.

2d. Does the Constitution carry Slavery into the Territories? I answer no. The Constitution of the United States does not carry slavery into the Territories.

I consider it a great misfortune that several of the learned Judges should have thought that their duty required them to discuss and give opinions upon various questions outside of the case, as the case was actually disposed of by the court.

3d. As to the Colonization of the Free Blacks. For many years I have been connected with the American Colonization Society, of which the rising young State of Liberia is the first fruit.

4th. As to any Inequality of Rights among American Citizens. I recognize no distinctions among American citizens but such as are expressly laid down in the Constitution.

5th. Am I in favor of the construction of a Railroad from the Valley of the Mississippi to the Pacific Ocean, under the auspices of the General Government? Yes, strongly.

6th. Am I in favor of the measure called the Homestead Bill? Yes, I am for guarding the public lands, as well as possible, from the danger of common trade and speculation.

7th. Am I in favor of the immediate admission of Kansas under the Wyanottite Constitution? I think that Kansas ought to be admitted without delay, leaving her like all other States, the sole judge of her own constitution.

Thus, gentlemen, I believe I have answered all your inquiries in a plain, intelligible manner, and I hope to your satisfaction.

Alarmingly Indeed, Louis Napoleon's Late Army.

A Paris correspondent of the Boston Traveler tells the following story of Louis Napoleon's military schemes:

Louis Napoleon is about organizing an immense army in addition to the regular army. He knows that before he attains the object he proposes, he must confront Europe in arms.

The National Guard is to be reorganized. No person will be appointed an officer in it except half-pay officers of the regular army, and no person will be allowed to enter the ranks except discharged soldiers of the army, and all discharged soldiers of the army will, upon their discharge, be drafted into the National Guard.

Slavery is a "social relation"—a domestic institution. Within the States it exists by the local law, and the Federal Government has no control over it there.

These figures, even after every allowance is made for invalids, inefficient men, and all the other deductions to be found in military arithmetic, certainly present a force which is sufficient to alarm Europe.

Alarm Europe? Why, I ought to alarm all the world and the rest of mankind.

Parson Brownlow, it is well known does not love the Democracy very well, and it also appears he has but little faith in the power of the clergy to resist temptation.

Our deliberate conviction is that ten of the standards of piety might be selected from each of the four leading Protestant denominations of our country, in all forty men—confide them to the society of the best of an equal number of Democratic leaders, selected from the different States of this Union, and not permit them to keep any other company for ten years, of transpiration of which time let them all die, and we sincerely believe they would go as straight to hell as a bee would fly from a buckwheat patch to its hive.

Davis' services will be held at the Court House in this city on Monday (Sunday) at 10 A. M. and 2 1/2 P. M., by Rev. Mr. MARSH of the Protestant Episcopal Church. May 12.
