

Matrimonial Epigram.
"Which is of greater value, riches, say, The bride or bridegroom?" "Must the truth be told?"
"Alas, it must!" "The bride is given away, The bridegroom's often regularly sold!"

As thy days, so shall thy strength be.—What we are to look for, not grace for imaginary purposes, but for real; not grace for future difficulties, but present; or, as the apostle has it, grace to "help in time of need." It does not, therefore, follow that what is formidable in the prospect may be so in the event. You may fear death while living, and rejoice in it at last. "Is this," said Dr. Goodwin—"is this dying so long—now appearing so harmless—and even pleasant?"

A SLIP OF THE TONGUE.—On Saturday, a young lady entered one of our music stores, for the purpose of purchasing a piece of music entitled "When I sleep, I dream of thee," but, by one of those ludicrous mistakes which will sometimes happen in the best of families, she astonished the young gentleman of the store by inquiring if he had the music entitled "When I dream, I sleep with thee." The mistake brought a modest blush to the cheek of the fair inquirer—ditto to the young gentleman.—Norfolk Argus.

There is but a breath of air and a beat of the heart, between this world and the next. When the good and lovely die, then the memory of their deeds like the moonbeams on the stormy sea, lights up our darkened heart and lends to the surrounding gloom a beauty so sad, so sweet, that we would not, if we could, dispel the darkness that envisions it.

Who goes through a land and scatters roses, may be tracked next day by their withered petals that strew the ground; but he who goes through it and scatters seeds, a hundred years after, leaves behind him a land full of fragrance and beauty for his monument, and as a heritage for his sons and daughters.—Theodore Parker.

A clergyman, while engaged in catechizing a number of boys in a class, asked one of them for a definition of matrimony. The reply was, "A place of punishment, where some folks suffer for a time before they can go to heaven." "Good boy," said the clergyman, "take your seat!"

No sublimity is so real as that which makes itself deeply felt in union with beauty; just as the highest moral greatness is that which, whilst it awes by unshaken constancy of principle, at the same time attracts us by the gentleness of love.

An exchange paper says "If you would keep your children in health, give them plenty of fresh air." This is all well enough; but now-a-days children put on so many airs of their own, that it is almost impossible to give them fresh ones every day.

Staying away from Christ's ordinances in bad weather, or under other difficulties, may show me whether I truly love the Master. True love rarely fails to meet an appointment.

He who will eat a nut must crack it.

It has long been a most important desideratum in the practice of medicine, to obtain a remedy similar to Iva, and accordingly we find it resorted to almost universally in all those tormenting diseases of the skin trying to the patience, and injurious to the health. It is a tonic, aperient, and disinfectant. It acts simultaneously upon the system, the circulation, and the bowels, and thus three different kinds of medicine, are actuated on at the same time through the instrumen-tality of this one remedial agent. Its great merit is that it meets and neutralizes the active principle of disease itself, and when that is gone, the symptoms necessarily disappear. The rapidity with which the patient recovers health and strength under this triple influence is surprising.

REMARKABLE CURE.
LINN COUNTY, Oregon Ter., March 11, 1859.
Messrs. A. R. & D. SANDS, New York: Gentleman,—In the spring of 1853, while on our way from Indiana to this place, our eldest boy was seized with swelling and severe pain in the legs which day by day grew worse, until his legs contracted, and became so painful that he could not walk, and we had to carry him about like an infant. We reached Albany on the 3d of October, completely worn out by fatigue. By this time, he was reduced to a perfect skeleton. Here we were enabled to consult a physician (Dr. Hill), who humbly confessed he could not cure him, although he could give him medicine that would relieve the pain. In this exigency something must be done, or death was inevitable. Being recommended to try your Sarsaparilla, I procured a bottle. After taking some, he appeared worse; but persevering with it, I obtained a second bottle, which seemed to grapple with the disease, and caused a marked improvement: the swelling and pain in the legs were reduced, his appetite improved, and his color began to return. Thus encouraged, I purchased a third bottle, while taking it the swellings in his legs broke, and some pieces of bone eight or ten inches long came out, after which his legs straightened and healed up. He is now perfectly recovered, has no appearance of being a cripple, and can perform most kinds of common labor, as all our neighbors can testify. Yours, respectfully, CALEB DAVIS.

JUICE OF THE
GRAPE
MEDICATED WITH
JUNIPER RHUBARB
PERUVIAN BARK
FOR INVALIDS

THIS is simply the fermented juice and the distilled juice of the California grape, judiciously medicated with Peruvian Bark, Juniper rhubarb, juniper berries, and other vegetable remedial agents, skillfully combined, and in such minute and exact quantities as to constitute a small or homoeopathic dose of each remedy; which when continued form an innocent, harmless, yet active, tonic, alternative, anti-syphilitic, diuretic, anti-febrile, and sedative beverage, pleasiant to the taste.

The inventor, in calling the attention of the public (especially the Californians) to the excellence of the California grape to these preparations, does so with pride and confidence; pride in proving the excellence of our native grape, and confidence in their remedial virtues, adapted for the following diseases:

Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, He-morrhoidal Constipation, Acidity of, or Sour Stomach, Diseases of the Kidney, Gravel, Disorders of the Urinary Organs, Rheumatism and Intermittent Fevers, Pains of Ague, Nerve-ache, Weakness, Debility, Drags-ness of the Skin, or want of Perspiration, Pains in the Stomach or Bowels, Cholera, Dysentery, &c., &c.

The proprietor does not pretend that his Medicated California Wine and Brandy is a "wonderful or a miracle" in medical science, but appears to the common sense of the public, and he does not hesitate to avow that he knows from experience that the medicines in this, though small in quantity, will often effect a cure in some of the diseases enumerated, which more violent and powerful remedies have failed in their object.

It is taken by the most delicate of either sex, and in moderation by children.
It is sold by all respectable Druggists and Grocers in the United States, California, and Oregon.
Price—$1 per bottle; six bottles for $5.
Beware of cheap imitations.
