Sweating at the forge and bellows, For a little earthly stay, Care has something sad to tell us, Every day!

Roaming in the fragrant lowers,
Where the songsters tell of May,
Thorns are pricking through the flowers,
Every day!

Time is drawing neater—nearer— While our heads are turning gray; Tears are falling on life's mirror, Every day !

Time is closing beauty's pertals, Flowers are blooming to decay; Fate is delving graves for mortals, Every day!

While our pleasure-boat is relling
Over life a eventful spray,
Functal bells are tolling—tolling— Functal bells are tolling-Every day!

While the laurel wreath is shading, O'er this fame-lit brow of clay Sad we see the garland fading, Every day!

Love, then take your promised treasures, Fame is dazzling to betray; Life is fading with its pleasures, Every day! Muse, hang up your harps and lyres, On you weeping willow spray; Care is eating in the wires,

Every day ! Hence, while all things are declaring Death a seeker for his prey, Let us be ourselves rejoicing, Every day!

Funny Fern, in one of her latest newspaper contributions, relieves her mind on the subject of "Good Old-Fashioned Religion" thus:

Real devotion may stroll to church with gilt edged, gilt clasped, velvet prayer book, with a staring gilt cross on the cov-er, held by the daintiest yellow gloves, in conjunction with a cobweb bandkerchief heavily freighted with rich lace: real devotion may do this, but it staggers my faith to believe it. It is a relief to me, at any rate, to look away from such a spectacle to some poor body, in homely but will mended clothes, in company with a well thumbed Bible or prayer book, with the look of having been used; a leaf turned down here, a pencil mark there, perhaps by some dear, toil-hardened hand, cold and white enough now, over which warm tears have dropped, on its pages, during life's great soul struggle upward.

It has long been a most important desiderature similar to t'tis, and accordingly we find it resorted to almost universally in all those termenting diseases of the skin so trying to the patience, and in-jurious to the health. It is a tonic, aperiant, and disinfectant. It nots simultaneously upon the sromacu, the cracciarion, and the nowers, and thus three processes, which are ordinarily the result of THEER different kinds of medicine, are carried on at the some time through the instrumen tality of ruis one remedial agent. Its great ment is that it meets and neutralizes the active principle of disease itself, and when that is gone, the symptoms necessarily disappear. The the symptoms necessarily disappear. The in-pidity with which the patient recovers health and strength under this triple influence is surprising.

REMARKABLE CURE.

Line Courty, Oregon Ter., March 11, 1855.

Messts, A. B. & D. Sands, New York; Gentlemen,—In the spring of 1853, while on our way from Indiana to this place, our eld'st boy was seized with aswelling and severe pains in the legs which day by day grow worse, until his legs con-tracted, and became so painful that he could not walk, and we had to carry him about like an in-fant. We reached Albany on the 3d of October, completely worn out by fatigue. By this time, he was reduced to a perfect skeleton. Here we were coabled to consult a physician (Dr. Hill) who henestly confessed he could not cure him, although he could give him medicine that would rehere the pain. In this exigency something must be done, or death was inevitable. Being recommended to try your Sarespanila, I procured a bot-ile. After taking some, he appeared worse; but persevering with it, I obtained a second bottle, persevering with it, I obtained a second bottle, which seemed to grapple with the disease, and caused a marked improvement; the awelling and pain in the legs were reduced, his appetite improved, and his color began to return. Thus encouraged, I purchased a third bottle; while taking it the swellings in his legs broke, and some pieces of bone one eighth of an inch long came out, after which his legs straightened and healed up. He is now perfectly recovered has no appearance o' being a cripple, and can perform most kinds of common labor, as all our neighbors can certify. Yours, respectfully,

MEDICATED WITH JUNIPER RHUBARB

A distilled joice of the California grape, judi-ciously medicated with Peravim Bark, turkey rhubarh, jumper berries, and other vegetable reun dial agents, slothily combined, and in such minute and exact quantities as to constitute a small or humcopathic dose of each remedy; which when combined form an immeent, harm-less, yet active, tonic, alternive, anti-dyspeptic. diurstic, anti-febrie, and sedative beverage, pleasant to the taste.

The inventor, in calling the attention of the public (especially the Californians who know the exc. l'ence of the California grape) to these prep-arations, does so with pride and confidence; pride in proving the excellence of our native grape, and confidence in their remed al virtues, adopted for the following diseases:
