We have heard it said, and have no doubt of the fact, that the following beautiful passage by Bishop Heber, suggested to the lamented Cole his series of pictures entitled "The Voyage of Life;"

"Life bears on like the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides swiftly down the narrow channel, through the playful murmurlags of the little brook and the windings of its grassy borders; the trees shed their blossoms over our young heads, and the flowers on the brink seem to offer themselves to our young hands; we rejoice in hope, and grasp eagerly at the beauties around as; but the stream burries us on, and still our hands are copty."

It has long been a most important desideratum in the practice of medicine, to obtain a remedy similar to this, and accordingly we find it reserted to almost universally in all those formenting diseases of the skin so trying to the patience, and injurious to the health. It is a tonic, aperient, and disinfectant. It acts simultaneously upon the STOMACH, the CTRUCK CTION, and the ROWELS, and thus three processes, which are ordinarily the result of THARK different kinds of medicine, are carried on at the same time through the instrumentality of rms one remedial agent. Its great ment is that it meets and neutralizes the active principle of disease itself, and when that is gone, the symptoms necessarily disappear. The ra-pidity with which the patient recovers health and strongth under this triple influence is surprising.

Messts, A. B. & D. Sands, New York: Gentlemen,—In the spring of 1853, while on our way from Indiana to this place, our eldest, boy was and with a swelling and severe pains in the legs seined with a swelling and severe pains in the legs which day by day grew worse, until his legs contracted, and became so painful that he could not walk, and we had to carry him about like an infant. We reached Albany on the 3d of October, completely worn out by fatigue. By this time, he was reduced to a perfect skeleton. Here we were enabled to consult a physician (Dr. Hill), who honestly confessed he could not cure him, although, he could give him medicine that would rethough be could give him medicine that would re-lieve the pain. In this exigency something must be done, or death was inevitable. Being recom-mended to try your Sarsaparilla, I procured a hotthe. After taking some, he appeared worse; but persevering with it, I obtained a second bottle, which seemed to grapple with the disease, and caused a marked improvement; the sweiling and pair in the legs were reduced, his appetite im-proved, and his color began to return. Thus en-couraged, I purchased a third bottle; while takthe swellings in his legs broke, and some pieces of bane one eighth of an inch long came out, after which his legs straightened and healed up. He is now perfectly recovered has no appearance of being a cripple, and can perform Theophilus N. Read, Analytical and Manufacturmost kinds of common labor, as all our neighbors rhubarb, jumper berries, and other vegetable re-medial agents, skillully combined, and in such minute and exact quantities as to constitute a small or homeopathic dose of each remedy; which when combined form an innocent, harm-less, yet active, tonic, alterative, anti-dyspeptic, diaretic, anti-febrile, and sedative beverage, pleasant to the taste.

The inventor, in calling the attention of the public (especially the Californians who know the excellence of the California grape) to these preprations, does so with pride and confidence; pride in praving the excellence of our native graps, and confidence in their remedial virtues adapted for the following diseases:

Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Ha-bitual Constipation, Acidity of, or Sour Stomach, Diseases of the Kidney, Gravel, Disarders of the Urinary Organs, Remittent and Inter-

THE high and envied celebrity which these pre eminent Medicines have acquired for their invariable efficacy in all the diseases which they profess to cure, has rendered the usual practice of puffing not only unnecessary, but unworthy of them. They are known by their fruits; their good them. They are known by their fraits; their good works testify for them, and they thrive not by the faith of the credulous. In all cases of asthma, acute and chronic rheu-matism, affections of the bladder and kidneys, bilious fevers and liver compaints.—in the south and west, where these diseases prevail, they will be found invaluable. Planters, farmers, and oth-ers, who once use these Medicines, will never afrwards be without them.

Dyspepsia.--No person with this distressing disease should delay using these medicines imme-diately. Eruptions of the skin, crysipelas, flatulency, fever and ague—for this scourge of the western country, these medicines will be found a safe, speedy, and certain remedy.
