Some of the Difficulties.

Since the day that the Democratic party laid by its old principles, and sold out to the Calhoun faction—in the vain hope of uniting the South as a unit, and gulling enough Northern fools, besides buying enough doughface scoundrels, to render every Presidential election certain for Sectionalism—the 'Democrats,' as they impudently call themselves, have had a tolerably hard road to travel. If there were no newspapers in the North, no common schools, and no stump speakers, to keep the people posted as to the Slave-breeding, Free-Labor-crushing, and Disunion policy of the Southern leaders of that party, it would have been a master-stroke of policy when they tore down the Missouri Compromise, and over its ruins set up a structure emblazoned all over with great capitals announcing "MY GUR-REAT PUR-PRINCIPLE" as the Pole-Star of all the faithful for all time to come. If there had been no newspapers in the North, voters might have voted on in blissful ignorance of the fact that Squatter-Sovereign Democrats in Congress, while professing to give new and enlarged privileges to the people of the Territories, have never been willing to allow them to elect their own officers, nor have they ever been willing that the President should appoint Governors for these Territories stripped, as formerly, of the Veto Power. They might never have found out that the only party in Congress that favored the semblance of sovereignty in Kansas, at the time the Administration shook the Nebraska Bill over the heads of the people of that Territory and told them it was perfectly in harmony with that bill that Slavery should be forced down their throats with United States bayonets, was the REPUBLICAN PARTY, which, in solid phalanx, stood up for the rights of that people, and succeeded, by the help of a handful of Douglas Democrats, in preventing the Democratic party from inaugurating a system of worse than Austrian despotism on the Democracy-damned soil of Kansas! If there had been no newspapers in the North to sift the Kansas-Nebraska Bill, and show that it was a swindle, and contained no fraction of Popular Sovereignty, Northern voters wouldn't yet probably have found out that "my gur-reat pur-principle" that was "ferried over in the Mayflower" consisted in nothing more nor less than an announcement of the falsehood that "a Democrat in a Territory has the right to buy a wench, raise children by her, and sell them to a Louisiana planter for two thousand dollars a-piece—provided no legal authority said you shall not!"

If there had been no public journals in the North, voters might never have been taught that all "rights" are either conventional or natural, and that a right to be perfect, in a human government, must be both natural and conventional or constitutional—a perfect authority, upon which our fathers rested the superstructure of our Government, when they declared that they fought for what "Nature and Nature's God entitled them to," and which they had the power to defend—a perfect authority, announced by ERHAN ALLEN when he demanded the surrender of Ticonderoga "by the authority of the Great Jehovah and the Continental Congress!"

If there had been no public journals in the North, people might not have known that the Republican party holds to the only true, tenable position when they assert that Slavery in States where it exists rests solely for its authority on local law, and that authority being founded on might, and being contrary to nature, is only a legal or constitutional right. The law-making power that makes property of horses in a Territory, has both a natural and constitutional "right" to do so—and the law-making power that governs a Territory has, in our opinion, a constitutional right to declare that men shall be property, but it has no natural right to do so, because the very act of instituting the relation of master and slave is a violation of a natural law—hence no legislative power has a perfect authority or 'right' to establish slavery. This is just what the Chicago Platform asserts—nothing more, nothing less. It asserts a truth that can no more be overthrown by argument than could the sun be plucked from the heavens by Dolf Hannah. The man who admits that any law-making power, in a Territory or elsewhere, has the right to institute slavery, meaning that it has a perfect right—such as is drawn from the Constitution and from Nature's God—and that slave property rests upon the same basis as other property, is either a fool or a scoundrel. A constitutional or legal authority in any government is necessarily nothing more than the authority of might, and when that authority is in contravention of a natural right, it is precisely the same authority upon which pirates plunder the high seas. The great difference between the Republican party and the Democratic party is, the Republicans demand a perfect authority for all legislation—a constitutional and natural authority—while the Democrats, like pirates, ask only for a legal or constitutional authority. Republican law-making power asks, is it constitutional and right to place a given enactment on the statute books?—while Democratic law-making power asks merely, is it constitutional—or have we the power? The former is a characteristic of a high order of civilization, and is a rule that obtains among enlightened and highly-cultivated people—hence it takes a man of honor, possessed of a soul, to make a genuine Republican. The latter obtains among semi-civilized and barbarous tribes, consequently any slink can be a Pro-slavery Democrat. "Is it right?" asks the man of honor; "Will it pay?" enquires the villain. The latter, ignoring honor and inalienable or natural rights, thunders forth from the rostrum, "I stand upon the gur-reat pur-principle that the people are sovereign, and they can do any act they choose, subject only to the Constitution!" There spake the soul of a demagogue and a scoundrel, and gaping fools shout "Amen! hallelujah! hallelujah!" Says the clear-headed statesman, "I stand upon the principle that the people are sovereign and can do any act they please, subject only to the Constitution and the law of nature recognized by all civilized nations; this they have a perfect right to do—but while the people may constitutionally pass an act grossly infringing upon the rights of a minority, I deny that they have any authority or right to do so." Republicans respond, "That is truth!" "Well," says the slimy demagogue, "you are opposed to the gur-reat pur-principle of popular sovereignty;—such, feller citizens, is the damning doctrine of b-a-c-k r-e-p-u-b-l-i-c-a-n-i-s-m, which will destroy this gel-lorious Union!"

The example set in high places, such as the bribery of members of Congress by this Administration, the buying up of vagabond editors with Government money, the resort to frauds and every species of villainy to carry elections, together with the constant teachings of Democratic papers that man is and ought to be governed by supreme selfishness, and that whatever will pay, is right, has done much towards filling our penitentiaries. Upon a close calculation, we make out that over two thousand men have turned out to stealing horses and other valuables since the election of Poor Pierce, who would have led a passably honest life but for the example at Washington and the teachings of Democratic papers generally.

If there were no newspapers in the North, thousands upon thousands might be gulled into voting for Douglas under the delusion that he was 'standing' on popular sovereignty, when all the sovereignty he contends for is that the people of a Territory have a right to do a great wrong in instituting Slavery, while at the same time he 'stands' on the Cincinnati platform, which plainly declares that the people of a Territory have the right to exclude Slavery only when the number of inhabitants justifies it in forming a STATE GOVERNMENT, at the same time also endorsing in his letter of acceptance the resolution adopted at Baltimore endorsing the old Black-Cockade Federalism that JEFFERSON abhorred more than any other heresy, that the Supreme Court is sovereign over Congress and the People!

If there were no newspapers in the North, many honest men who are imbued with patriotism and love their country, might be induced to vote the Disunion ticket gotten up by Slave-breeding Secessionists, who are open and avowed traitors—men who have ruled the Democratic party with a rod of iron, demanding one concession after another, till they, by their unholty and unreasonable exactions in favor of Slave-breeding, have wiped out the party in every Northern State, and who, failing to saddle it with a Slave Code, have split the party in twain, and are now running a Disunion ticket, headed by two rotten tools of Disunion scoundrels who will dangle at a rope's end after the first battle shall be fought to maintain Constitutional authorities they now threaten to trample under foot. The fact is, that the Democratic party in selling out to less than three hundred and fifty thousand planters, entirely lost sight of the fact that the great majority at the North were too honest to adopt villainy, especially when it was against their interest to do so, as well as the other fact that Northern journals would keep the people posted as to the two-faced swindles gotten up as platforms to bait Southern knives and gull Northern fools. The rotten thing known now as Democracy can only flourish in such places as "Egypt," where the majority are exceedingly illiterate, or in such localities as are infested with office-hunters who are willing to sell their country to a foreign power for a small office—a breed of dogs that generally rank but little above pirates in anything that pertains to honor or common honesty.

We learn that the Seminary in this city will be opened on Monday the 10th inst. under the charge of Miss Mary B. Stroud, recently a teacher in the Portland Academy. Miss Stroud is highly recommended as an accomplished and experienced instructor, and we doubt not, she will secure the approbation of all the patrons of the school.

The Silver! The Silver!

Everybody is interested in knowing the value of our silver ore—of which Oregon possesses any amount. The Statesman has noticed of two assays. We copy them:

"Dr. L. C. Broy, of Salem, has left at this office a specimen of silver assayed from a specimen of Sautiam ore. He says that this specimen, which was extraordinarily rich, produced pure silver at the rate of $4,206 per ton. Mr. I. N. Gilbert had a specimen assayed by Rev. C. H. Hall, which he said yielded silver at the rate of $5,200 per ton. The highest average yields reported from these mines are from $1,200 to $2,000 per ton."

This looks well. But the following says lower our hopes—at least make us anxious that the value of our silver ores should be definitely known. If they are valuable, we want the news to go abroad, to bring capitalists here, and emigrant miners, who would go to work and turn out the silver, and buy up the produce of our farmers to live on. But we fear that there is no such good news in store for us. We have silver ore—worlds of it—but we fear it won't pay until labor is far cheaper than now.

But we give an article from the Portland Advertiser of Sept. 6. It throws a chill upon our hopes:

THE SANTIAM MINES.—For the purpose of setting at rest the excitement now raging relative to the Santiam silver(?) mines, we publish the following assay of two specimens of ore from Horton's lead, in the mining region referred to.

The assay in question was made by Marchand & Co., of Victoria, and resulted as follows:

Deposit No. 683, silver ore, assay equal to seven dollars and fifty cents per ton.

Deposit No. 684, Galena ore, no silver, ten per cent. of lead.

THE OREGON FARMER.—We have just looked over the first number of the third volume of the Oregon Farmer. This paper is an honor to the State and a credit to the 'art preservative of all arts.' The farmers of our young State have every reason to be proud of their paper; and no agriculturist in Oregon should fail to take and read and pay for the Farmer.

It is seldom that we are able to endorse anything that comes from the Oregon Democrat. But we most fully subscribe to the statement above, which we copy from that paper. The Oregon Farmer is now, as we consider, a first-class agricultural paper; its editorials especially evincing unusual ability, and showing their author to be at home in that department. The paper is particularly designed for the use and benefit of the farmers of Oregon, and we commend it to them as worthy of their patronage. We really believe that no Oregon farmer can afford to be without that paper. However much the people of Oregon may be divided on political subjects—honestly and patriotically so—we should ever recollect that the prosperity of Oregon must depend upon the success of the farmer.

BEES.—The Vancouver Chronicle has come to the conclusion that the Republicans will not destroy the Union immediately—at any rate not until the Presidential term of Mr. Lincoln expires—and the editor is giving his attention to bee-raising. He is about experimenting on a swarm of Lombardy bees. He says this swarm will produce from 500 to 600 swarms in a year, and that each swarm will yield 150 pounds of honey. Let us look at these figures a moment: 600 swarms a year,—90,000 pounds of honey! Pretty good increase, and lots of honey! The second year: 360,000 swarms!! and 54,000,000 pounds of honey!!! "Better ash gott!" The third year: 216,000,000 swarms!!! and 32,400,000,000 pounds of honey!!!! At 50 cents a pound, the present price of honey, the third year's yield alone would bring the handsome sum in hard cash of $16,200,000,000!!!! We can't go on with this calculation. We should not know what to do with the bees or the honey! We shall not be surprised to hear that Coon has given up the "conduction" of the Chronicle, and gone into the bee-raising business exclusively.

We see it announced in the last number of the Vancouver Chronicle that J. M. Murphy, Esq., has withdrawn from that establishment. It is a gratification to know that as he was not engaged in the editorial duties of that paper, the literary character of the Chronicle will not suffer from his withdrawal.

Columbus Prout, a boy of about fifteen years of age, was sent to jail last Saturday for ninety days, for stealing a coat from one of the stores in town. An effort was made this week, but without success, to raise the amount of the fine ($20), so that he might be released. He is an orphan boy, and it is thought that if he should be let out of jail now, and returned to his friends, the act would be attended with good results to him—to say nothing of the saving of expense to the county.

The Douglas Democrats of this county have issued a call for a Mass Convention in this city on next Saturday, Sept. 15. Wm. H. Farrar is expected to address the meeting. The Breckinridges hold their meeting to-day.

Septimus Huelat, Esq., of this city, was admitted at the present term of Court to practice as an Attorney and Counselor at Law.

The "Protective Union" at Salem has been dissolved. The report of the Agent will be published next week.

DELINQUENT.—E. M. Hall, Harrisburg (Thurston) P. O., Linn county, owes this Office $14 for subscription.

MASONIC.—On last Tuesday the new and handsome Masonic Hall in our city was dedicated with the ceremonies of the Order. A short but impressive lecture on the past, present, and future of Masonry was delivered by Amory Holbrook, Esq., Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Oregon. Referring to the belief among Masons that the temple of Solomon, whose walls were laid up in strength and beauty, was built under the auspices of a master in the craft, he hoped that this beautiful temple might ever be held sacred to charity and good fellowship.

After the service of dedication had been gone through, Rev. David Rutledge, Grand Orator, made an appropriate address, which was listened to with marked attention. Several pieces of choice music were admirably performed by the choir, during the exercises, and altogether the scene was one of remarkable interest. There were perhaps two hundred persons present, many of whom were ladies, the wives and daughters of Masons. A large number of brethren of the Order came up from Portland and elsewhere to attend the ceremonies.

The Hall just dedicated is without doubt the handsomest of the kind on the Pacific coast, and was built under the supervision of J. L. Morrison, Esq. The plastering and ornamental work were done by J. E. Hurford, Esq., and cannot be excelled for beauty and taste of finish.

The beautiful copy of the Bible which was used in the service of dedication, is a gift to Multnomah Lodge from Mrs. AMORY HOLBROOK, and will no doubt be highly prized by the members of the Lodge.

DEMOCRATIC LITERATURE.—The following graphic description of the scenery around Jacksonville, is from the columns of the Sentinel published in that place:

"Those who love scenery, cannot but be delighted by visiting that portion of Jacksonville situated on the eminence of an evening the valley shows, the beautiful plain interspersed with groves and dotted with scattering timber still further on the mountains forming the eastern rim of the great valley of an evening at this season of the year, the clouds hanging in the horizon over the summit of the hills, the sun at this moment reflecting its golden rays, with occasional shades in the background, formed by indentations in the mountain," &c., &c.

TO SETTLERS.—Patent certificates are now ready to be issued to the following claimants in T. 3 S., R. 2 E.:

A. F. Hedges, Wm Holmes, L. D. C. Latourette, M. M. McCarver, S. S. White, S. D. Francis, C. Walker, A. Hood, J. S. Howland, J. Spink, Wm. Amprist, G. Graham, C. F. Bentie, B. R. Mads, S. N. Vance, I. Farr, R. Canfield, F. T. Howard, W. Williams, A. McKimley.

THANKS.—We are under obligations to Tracy & Co.'s Express for files of late papers—and to Cris Taylor, Esq., for late Honolulu papers.

The Rival has repaired damages, and is making regular trips again. She now carries freight for $1 per ton.

NINE-AND-A-HALF DAYS FROM FORT BENTON.—Mr. Thomas Mack, farmer on the Blackfoot Reservations, reached the Dalles on Monday last, direct from Fort Benton. He came through on Lieut. Mullan's road, and made the trip from Fort Benton to Walla Walla in nine-and-a-half days. Mr. M. overtook Major Blake's command at Bird Tail Rack. They were making excellent marches, and confidently expected to get through before the close of September. Lieut. Mullan, with his working party, was two days in advance of the command, making all necessary repairs on the road. Mr. Mack informs us that with one exception he found the bridges in good condition. The exception was a bridge that had been injured by the passage over it of a large number of cattle. The boats at the different ferries are in good order, and can be used with perfect safety. The whole road is represented as excellent, and its construction as in the highest degree creditable to Lieut. M. and his assistants. Mr. M. used but two horses in making the trip, changing at the Cœur d'Alene Mission, and riding the same animal through to Walla Walla. Take it altogether, we believe this trip to be without a parallel in the history of Rocky Mountain adventure, and Mr. Mack may well be proud of his feat.—Dolles Mountaineer.

A Southern paper has been engaged in over-hauling the political records, with a view to ascertain the antecedents of the Presidential candidates. From the uncertain and many-complicated mass it seems to have extracted the following:

In 1848 John C. Breckinridge supported Taylor and Fillmore for President and Vice-President, in opposition to Cass and Butler, the Democratic nominees, the latter of whom was a gallant son of Kentucky.

When Gen. Lane lived in Vanderburgh County, Indiana, he ran for the Legislature in that county as a friend of the United States Bank in Andrew Jackson's day, and did not receive many votes mainly on that account.

Mr. Douglas made his debut in politics as a supporter of General Jackson's removal of the deposits from the United States Bank, and opposed that institution, while Lane was in favor of it. He stumped Illinois for Cass and Butler, while Breckinridge was using his influence for Taylor and Fillmore.

The Mexicans and Indians are at war in New Mexico, and from present appearances the Mexicans have the best of it.

The Illinois State Journal gives the names of about seventy German papers which support Lincoln and Hamlin.

The following are places of note in the county of Hanover, Va.: Negro Foot, Hell Town, Buzzard Roost, Ball Ring, Dog Town, Free Negro Town, Pole Cat, Negationburg, and Texas.

CENSUS.—By the new census, so far as ascertained, it is estimated that the population of New York city is 862,257—an increase of 237,500 since 1850. On the present basis of representation, the city would be entitled to nine members of Congress instead of six, as now returned under the apportionment of 1850 (including part of Williamsburg.) In Brooklyn, the ratio of increase will be very much greater than in New York. The eleventh ward of Brooklyn, which in 1855 contained 22,000 now has over 42,000. This ward is very wealthy, perhaps the richest in the city of churches.

The four leading Western cities are now nearly about the same size, although ten years ago there was an extraordinary disparity between them. They now show about the following figures, as we learn from the Chicago Press and Tribune, and Pittsburg Dispatch:

Cincinnati,	165,000
St. Louis,	145,000
Pittsburg,	130,000
Chicago,	120,000

These statements are not official or exact, and the estimates vary for each, but the cities all occupy about the same rank.

A meeting was lately held in Newport, R. I., to sympathize with and aid Garibaldi in his revolutionary labors. The Hon. George H. Calvert presided, and made a stirring address. He was followed by H. T. Tuckerman of New York, Prof. Elliott of Trinity College, Hartford, and Charles E. Norton of Cambridge.

The St. Louis Express (Bell-Everett organ) asserts most positively that $30,000 was sent to that city two years ago by Postmaster Fowler of New York, now a fugitive defaulter, to aid in defeating Frank Blair. The Express declares that whenever the proof is demanded, it shall be produced. It will be remembered that the Administration was remarkably easy with Fowler, having had no regular settlement with him for years. No particular pains have been taken to arrest him.

John Mitchell, if we are to believe the Richmond Examiner, has left his adopted country, not only for that country's good, but for his own emolument. The journal in question stated that he had gone to France, at the invitation of the Emperor Napoleon, who has conferred on him some governmental appointment.

The speeches made by the Prince of Wales are said to be written by one of his suite, the Duke of Newcastle. The young scion of royalty at least has a good memory.

It is stated by an English paper, that the Right Hon. Benjamin Disraeli has it in contemplation to visit this country, accompanied by a few friends, with whom he will penetrate our western States.

The American wife of the late Prince Jerome is said to be worth a million of dollars. The first Napoleon allowed her a pension of 60,000 francs, but the Bourbons stopped it very quickly.

It is proposed to erect a monument in Washington to the memory of the late Joseph Gales.

"DEGRADING THE PRESIDENCY."—President Buchanan made a long stump speech at the Breckinridge meeting at Washington City on Monday the 9th. This is the first time the Presidency has been degraded by such an act of official indecency, and this would not have occurred under any rule but that of a party which sets all propriety at defiance, and defies every office it touches. If the spirits of the departed patriots watch over the beloved land of their birth, how the ghosts of Washington, Jefferson and Madison must have mourned to see James Buchanan degrading the office they once honored by making a petty, partisan harangue to a yelling mob!

In all cases of constiveness, dyspepsia, bilious and liver affections, piles, rheumatism, fevers and ague, obstinate head-aches, and all general derangements of health, these Pills have invariably proved a certain and speedy remedy.
