

PLAIN TALK IN MISSOURI.—The following plain talk is the concluding portion of an editorial in the St. Louis Democrat of June 10th: This work of treason must cease. It has gone on long enough. The peace of Missouri is important—all important. This man Jackson is not to be reached by argument. Reason has no influence with him. It is useless to tell him what our people vote. He don't care what the people vote. He don't care what the Convention decides. Like King Charles I, he thinks he has a prerogative to decide for the people. Like King Louis XIV, he considers himself the State. And he is resolved on proceeding in his treasonable work defiantly. Our opinion is as decidedly that he shall not be permitted to play the tyrant—that he shall cease to do his wicked work. In one word, we pronounce Gov. Jackson a traitor in law and in fact—guilty of overt acts of treason over and over again—and as worthy in all particulars of a traitor's doom. He is the most guilty of all Missouri Secessionists;—he is an old offender, and since there is no other way to deal with such men as he is, we demand that the proper authorities shall take the proper steps to bring him to merited punishment. Will it be long?

An Englishman in Massachusetts got out of all patience with the Northerners for the spathy they manifested in the face of such danger as stared them in the face, during the past few months. 'England,' said he 'would never have endured a title of such unbearable assumption and wrong. The people would have demanded immediate action from the government, or taken the law into their own hands.' His auditors bade him 'wait.' He did not know the American people. The lion is crouching to-day—to-morrow he will spring. When the North springs to arms almost en masse, at the attack on Fort Sumter, the same Englishman exclaimed, 'I never saw such a sudden burst of enthusiasm—such promptness, such an immense solidarity ready and brave for war from peaceful civilians. These things, sir, cannot be done in England.'

JEFFERSON ON SECESSION.—The following extract, found in the ninth volume of the works of Thomas Jefferson, is clear and explicit in favor of coercion: "When any State in the American Union refuses obedience to the Confederation by which they have bound themselves, the rest have a right to compel them to obedience. Congress would, probably, exercise long patience before they would recur to force, but if the cause ultimately required it, they would use that recurrence. Should this case ever arise, they will, probably, cooperate by a naval force, as being more easy, less dangerous to liberty, and less likely to produce bloodshed."

STRONG HANDED.—The United States forces in Missouri, consist of 10,200 men—1,500 of whom are at Jefferson City, 3,300 at Rolla; 1,500 at St. Joseph, Railroad; 1,000 on the North Missouri Railroad; and 1,000 at Bird's Point, opposite Cairo. The traitor, Gov. Jackson, has fled for safety to Arkansas, and rebellion is crushed, it is believed, for the present.

Our files of Texas papers have been received, and from them it is apparent that the Rio Grande frontier is entirely defenseless. As a natural consequence, organized bands of robbers and Mexican banditti are making incursions. The residents deplore the absence of United States troops, and find their homes pillaged.—This Texas is beginning to reap her reward.

The New York Express of a late date, uses the following language: "We say what we know, that three-fourths, if not four-fifths of the soldiers now in Washington, from the chivalry of the New York 7th to the dashing Irish 69th, were voters for Douglas or Breckinridge or Bell—and have not changed a political opinion."

Celebration of the Fourth of July on board the Samt Merritt, (at sea.) PROGRAMME.—The day will be ushered in by the firing of the gun, after which, with the exception of the watch on deck, the captain, crew and passengers of the Samt Merritt will rise on deck.

Ring of the breakfast bell for breakfast. Oration—by Miss Saunders. Song—'Star Spangled Banner.'—Capt. Williams. Speech—Mrs. Williams. Brief but short address—A. Williams. "Boot ship" list and 2d mate and all hands. Grand Whistling Overture—"Yankee Doodle"—the "Colonel." Procession round the deck, (weather permitting.) Master A. Williams being in his triumphal car. Six songs—Miss Saunders. More songs—ditto, ditto. Vote of thanks to Miss Saunders. Dinner. Declaration of Independence. Fair wind. Fancy dances—Captain Williams. Grand Chorus—all hands. During the celebration there will be a candy pulling.—The day will close with a grand display of the Comet, in place of Fire-works.—Oregonian.

Sands' Sarsaparilla.—This purely vegetable remedy combines in itself the properties of a purgative, a mild cathartic, and a tonic. It quickly removes from the blood, and other fluids of the body, the impurities of unhealthy secretions which engender and feed disease, thus striking at the root of the malady. Although proved so efficacious it may be taken at all times with perfect safety, as it contains no powerful drastic drug to debilitate the system, or mineral poison to ruin the constitution.
Prepared and sold by A. B. & D. SANDS, 100 Fulton st., New York. Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5.
Read the advertisement in another column. Sold by Dr. STEELE, Oregon City, and by Druggists generally.

Mott's Life Pills.—The high and envied celebrity which this pre-eminent medicine has acquired for its invariable efficacy in all the diseases which it professes to cure, has rendered the usual practice of ostentatious puffing not only unnecessary but unworthy of them. They are known by their fruits; their good works testify for them, and they thrive not by the faith of the credulous. In all cases of constiveness, dyspepsia, bilious and liver affections, piles, rheumatism, fever and ague, obstinate head-aches, and all general derangements of health, these Pills have invariably proved a certain and speedy remedy. A single trial will place the Life Pills beyond the reach of competition in the estimation of every patient.
Dr. Mott's Phlegm Bitters will be found equally efficacious in all cases of nervous debility, dyspepsia, headache, the sickness incident to females in delicate health, and every kind of weakness of the digestive organs. For sale by Dr. W. B. MOFFAT, 335 Broadway, New York, and by Medicine Dealers and Druggists generally throughout the country.

Office of the U. S. Naval Inspector of Provisions and Clothing.
NAVY YARD, N. Y., July 26, 1858.
This is to certify that Joseph Meyer, Practical Chemist, has, by the use of his preparations, driven all the rats from Government Store No. 6 of this inspection, which was infested with those destructive animals; and that I witnessed an extraordinary destruction of cockroaches, by Mr. Meyer; although, when he applied his powder about their places of resort, only a few were seen, soon after, in less than fifteen minutes, the foot of the rooms was literally covered with them, some already dead, others dying, as I feel assured that by a few applications of his Chemical Powder, (which is certainly very efficacious,) Mr. Meyer would entirely rid a house of these obnoxious insects.

Hear what Physicians say of Dr. Hall's Balsam. Says one: "I, with confidence, recommend the Balsam as superior to any preparation." Another says: "I have used it with uniform success, and can confidently recommend it for all those complaints for which it is offered as a remedy." Still another writes: "I have no hesitation in saying that it is a safe, convenient, and efficacious medicine."

Brings in certificates almost daily of its wonderful efficacy in all parts of the country.
There is no medicine within our knowledge that has acquired so great and wide-spread popularity in so short a space of time, as DR. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. Its balsamic and healing properties are magical. It is highly expectorant and tonic. It contains not a grain of opium or morphia, the narcotic and irritating properties which have created so much prejudice against similar preparations. We will effect cures whenever it is used, at home or abroad. Dr. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs is no purgative preparation, but one which, if used in season, will save the lives of thousands. The most distressing cough is frequently relieved by a single dose, and broken up in a few hours' time. The afflicted do not have to take bottle after bottle before they find whether this remedy will afford relief or not.
Hear what Physicians say of Dr. Hall's Balsam. Says one: "I, with confidence, recommend the Balsam as superior to any preparation." Another says: "I have used it with uniform success, and can confidently recommend it for all those complaints for which it is offered as a remedy." Still another writes: "I have no hesitation in saying that it is a safe, convenient, and efficacious medicine."
