PROVIDENTIALLY DIRECTED.—Devoutly-inclined persons frequently imagine that the suggestions of their own human nature are the intimations and direction of God. They love to be guided by Him, and they love to think that their pleasant desires and purposes are inspired by Him, and thus they easily decaye themselves. An amusing instance of this took place at a certain conference. Among the attendants certain conference. Among the attendants was a very beautiful, intelligent looking young lady, who drew the admiring gaze of many eyes, particularly eyes masculine, always on the look-out for pretty feminine

During the intermission, at noon, a spruce young minister stepped up to the presiding elder, and said, with an air of se-

"Did you observe the young lady who sat by the first pillar on your left?"
"Yes," said the elder; "what of her?"

"Why," said the young man, "I feel impressed that the Lord desires me to take that lady for my wife. I think that she will make a companion and helpmeet in the work of the ministry."

The good elder had nothing to object. But in a few minutes a second youthful candidate for ministerial efforts and honors, and for the name of husband, came confidentially to make known to the elder a like impression in regard to the young

"You had better wait awhile. It is not best to be hasty in determining the source of such impressions," said the prudent elder.

And he had well said, for hardly were the steps of the second youth cold at his side ere a third approached with the same story, and while the worthy confidant yet marveled, a fourth drew near with the " Did you notice the fine, noble-looking woman sitting near your left hand?"

"Yes," cried the swelling elder.

"Well, sir," went on this fourth victim of that one unsuspicious girl, "it is strong-ly born in upon my mind that it is the will of the Lord that I should made proposals of marriage to that lady. He has impressed me that she is to be my wife."

The elder could hold in no longer. "Impossible! impossible!" he exciaimed, in an excited tone. "The Lord never could have intended that four men should marry one woman!"

Parson Brownlow, of the Knoxville (Tenn.) Whig, says:-" We are going to stay in Knoxville, and no where else, and when we remove from the dwelling that we own and occupy, it will be to the cemetery in this vicinity. And as to the paper, we shall edit and publish it until our office is destroyed or our windpipe is cut!"

Roman Eve Balsam,

FOR WEAK & INFLAMED EYES.

THIS BALSAM was used for many years in the private practice of a celebrated Oculist, with remarkable success, for diseases of the Eye

There are many persons who would rather suffer from pain and disease through life, than credit or try the efficacy of any new discovery; all such had better not read this, but to all reasonable persons this preparation is recommended as a most safe and effectual cure for inflammation of the Eye and Eyelids, caused either by too close application to minute objects, scrofulous habit, ex-posure to cold, blows, contusions, or irritation from any extraneous body under the eyelids. It is remarkabbly soothing in its effect, and has cured thousands who would otherwise have lost

In cases the Eyelids are inflamed, or the ball of the Eye thickly covered with blood, it acts al-most like magic and removes all appearances of inflammation after two or three applications. There is a numerous class of persons that are peculiarly exposed to accidents or diseases that weaken and inflaine the Eyes, and perhaps destroy the sight, who, from the nature of their employments, are compelled to work in a cloud of dust and grit. Such should never be without this BALSAM.

It has long been a most important desideratur in the practice of medicine, to obtain a remedy similar to this, and accordingly we find it resorted to almost universally in all those tormenting dis-cases of the skin so trying to the patience, and in-jurious to the health. It is a tonic, sperient, and disciplinated. It again simple accounts more than disinfectant. It acts simultaneously upon the stomacs, the craculation, and the sowers, and thus three processes, which are ordinarily the re-sult of THERE different kinds of medicine, are carsuit of the same time through the instrumentality of this one remedial agent. Its great merit is that it meets and neutralizes the active principle of disease itself, and when that is gone, the symptoms necessarily disappear. The rapidity with which the patient recovers health and strength under this triple influence is surprising. KEMARKABLE CURE.

Linn County, Oregon Ter., March 11, 1855. Messts. A. B. & D. Sasps. New York: Gentlemen,—In the spring of 1853, while on our way from Indiana to this place, our eldest boy was seized with a swelling and severe pains in the legs seized with a swelling and severe pains in the legs which day by day grew worse, until his legs contracted, and became so painful that he could net walk, and we had to carry him about like an infant. We reached Albany on the 3d of October, completely worn out by fatigue. By this time, he was reduced to a perfect skeleton. Here we were enabled to consult a physician (Dr. Hill) who honestly confessed he could not cure him, although he could give him medicine that would relieve the pain. In this exigency something must be done, or death was inevitable. Being recommended to try your Sarsaparilla, I procured a botbe done, or death was inevitable. Being recommended to try your Sarsaparilla, I procured a bottle. After taking some, he appeared worse; but persevering with it, I obtained a second bottle, which seemed to grapple with the disease, and caused a marked improvement; the swelling and pain in the legs were reduced, his appetite improved, and his color began to return. Thus encouraged, I purchased a third bottle; while taking it, the swellings in his legs broke, and some pieces of bone one eighth of an inch long came out, after which his legs straightened and healed up. He is now perfectly recovered has no ap-
