OREGON CITY, May 1, 1862. En Angus: The editor of the Mountaineer, who was at the secessionist State Convention, in an article on the "proceedings of that body," makes use of the following language: "We by no means charge that all the gentlemen placed in nomination for State officers are secessionists, but we do say that they are each and all acceptable to those who believe in the seression doctrine." And further; " From the first, it was apparent, that the name of Jedge Wait was to be used as a makeweight for the balance of the ticket, and this programme was carried out to the end." The editor makes no attempt to conceal his opinion that all the nominees for State officers are of the Jeff Davis school of polities, and yet he calls upon every one to people immediately interested should be at support Judge Wait whose record, he says, "untarnished." Does the editor of the Mountaineer suppose that Judge Wait is sociates on that ticket? if not, how is it of self preservation.
