

Arrest for Treason.

There is found in all the loyal States a class of men who seek by political combinations to embarrass the Government and thus aid the rebels...

Recently a "democratic" meeting was called in Philadelphia, avowedly for the purpose of inaugurating measures against the prosecution of the war.

More overt acts of treason can be seen every day in the rebel prints of Oregon—Gen. Wright, commanding this department, has been directed to arrest and confine all engaged in disseminating treason.

Gen. Wright is, no doubt, ordered to do so, therefore, we place no blame upon him. Fellow citizens of Oregon, are you slaves!

Here is a direct appeal to the disloyalists of Oregon to rise in arms against the Government. Ingersoll never dared to go this extent in his treason.

Language of a more treasonable character can be found constantly sent forth in the rebel prints of Oregon than that found in Ingersoll's speech.

"A Col. Traubin, commanding at Athens Ala. was cashiered from the service by a court-martial of which Genl. Bull was the presiding officer for permitting the ruffians in his command to outrage the persons of two females of that place.

"WORKS OF TRUTH AND SOBERNESS"—[Under this heading is an extract from the London Times, in which occurs this expression: "We must repeat again and again earnest recommendation to the Federals to put an end to this horrible war."

In speaking of the late order concerning traitors on this coast, the Union says: "Caligula, the most cruel and monstrous tyrant that ever Rome had, wished that the nation had but one head that he might cut it off at a blow; but the tyrants in power at Washington desire no such concentrated assassination.

There is another paper, of the same general character, published at Eugene City (and but recently commenced) called the "Democratic Register."

"If the war proves a failure (and sure as destiny it will, if it has not already) the [legal tender] notes will not be worth so much as blank paper."

"We are told some persons of this class have already gathered effrontery enough to offer the notes at par."

"It now only remains, as the best policy of our Government, to acknowledge the independence of the South, and endeavor, by fair dealing, to restore a feeling of amity between the two nations."

"A war is upon us, and it is claimed by its advocates to be waged for the preservation of the Union, but the truth is, they lie when they say it. They know, as all must know, that this is a war upon the Constitution of the United States—a wicked effort to dissolve the Union, that may never be restored again.

The wood work of the Railroad is about completed, awaiting the laying down of the iron, which is expected shortly. The flat rail will be used.

The Company have made quite an improvement at the terminus of the road in Canemah, where a large warehouse has been erected 150 feet long, thus affording room sufficient to store all the freight that may be brought either way.

Of Secretary Stanton's order to "arrest and imprison any person or persons who may be engaged by act, speech, or writing in discouraging voluntary enlistments, or in any way giving aid and comfort to the enemy, or in any other disloyal practice against the United States," the Register of Sept. 20th says:

"Where in the annals of history can be found a more despotic decree than the above? Where is that Constitution guaranteeing free speech, trial by jury, etc? What American citizen can now call himself a freeman? Russian despotism, Turkish absolutism, cannot vie with it.

These extracts show the treasonable character of the Portland Advertiser, the Corvallis Union, and the Eugene City Register. These papers are of the same class as those in California to which the use of the Government mails have recently been denied.

There are some facts connected with the recent establishment of the secess papers in Oregon, which it would be well to bear in mind. The Corvallis Union, Eugene City Register, and Albany Inquirer have lately been commenced. Not one of these papers is supported by the patronage it receives from the people.

Latest from the East.

Sept. 20.—Total value of Government stores destroyed in Col. Lightbourn's retreat estimated at half a million dollars, killed and wounded 100. Salt works between Camp Plant and Charleston fell into the rebel's hands, with large quantities of salt. The works are now being run day and night by rebels.

On occupation of Harper's Ferry by Burnside, the rebels retreated, leaving cannon and stores behind. Several hundred Federal troops were also left, whom they did not have time to parole.

"Headquarters Army of the Potomac, Sept. 20.—The rebel army has succeeded in escaping from Maryland. They saved the greater portion of their transports and carried off all their wounded, except 300. During the engagement Wednesday nearly every house in Sharpsburg was struck by our shells. The name given to the battle is "Antietam."

The rebel loss is found to be far greater than at first supposed—fully 2500 were found lying on the field, while a much larger number were buried the day before by their friends. Their killed and wounded will not fall short of 18,000 or 20,000.

Cairo, Sept. 20.—On Thursday, Gen. Rosecrans marched from Corinth in direction of Iuka, (Miss.) when he met Gen. Price with 15,000 rebels, who seemed to be marching toward Eastport with the intention of crossing Tennessee and joining Bragg in Kentucky.

All things taken together show that the leaders of the secess party in Oregon, still hoping and working for the success of treason in the Southern States, are indulging the delusion that they will yet be able to carry out the design not long since announced by Jo Lane, "to place Oregon on the platform of the Confederate States."

THE LEGISLATURE.

These petitions were referred to Committee on Ways and Means.

Bill to prevent accidents on public highways was read second time.

(This bill requires all drivers to keep to the right; to prevent the employment of drivers who are addicted to drunkenness, and to make the driver secure properly his horses when he stops and leaves the carriage, etc. This is a good bill, and Mr. Dufar has used considerable energy in getting it up.)—REF. Referred to Committee of the Whole.

House bill No. 21, regulating salaries of County Judges and Commissioners, was read a second time. Referred to Committee of the Whole.

H. B. No. 23, declaring the Calippooia a public highway from its mouth to the Albany Mills, in Linn county. Passed second reading.

H. B. No. 28, to tax Chinamen, Negroes, and Kanakas. (Mr. Dufar spoke in favor of the bill, and stated that the negroes and Chinamen have flocked into Portland and obtained situations to the detriment of honest and deserving white people. After considerable discussion, it was referred to a Committee of the Whole House.)

H. B. No. 29, to regulate marriages, and prevent improper runaway matches, introduced by Smith, of Linn, was read second time. Referred to Committee of the Whole.

Senate bill No. 7, to prevent persons from drawing money from the State Treasury unless the oath of allegiance is taken. Rules suspended, and bill ordered read third time. During the debate on this bill the House adjourned.

Afternoon session.—Consideration of Senate bill No. 7, was renewed. Very eloquent speeches were made by Messrs. Simpson, Gillette, Stevenson and Dufar in favor of bill, and Fay against it, and Mr. Moores against some of its provisions. Bill passed.—Daily Times.

For the Argus.

Our Sick and Wounded Soldiers. From the red battle-field, where their need is the sorest. The call has gone out through the valley and forest. From the deadly lazers, where the wounded ones languish; Help, Brothers they cry; shall we heed not their anguish?

We have talked for the cause, while our brothers have fought; Is treasure like blood? could such service be bought? Shall our hearts not be thrilled with their painful story? Shall our wounded men die on the fields of their glory?

Nor wile, as we may, some tear-drops of anguish! A thousand times No! Is our manhood all lost? Did we take up the cause without conning the foe?

The clangor of trumpets we hear from afar, Our hearts are not stilled by the death-marks of war. Our brothers and husbands are not in the strife, But we may give money, where others give LIFE. Our Union Forever!—though deadly the fight, Our Union Forever!—and God Speed THE Rouser!

Lines, on the death of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Hadlock. Bring tiny flowers to strew above her, As for a ball an earth bids bloom; Aching are the hearts that love her, Chilled by vapors from the tomb.

Though bitter hard it is to spare her, Stricken mother! weep no more; Glorious are the arms that bear her Safely to the "shining shore."

Spared the certainty of sorrow, Following on life's after years, To her shall come no dark to-morrow, Creas of pain, or mother's tears. Canemah, Sept. 15, 1862. M. L.
