Estimating their killed at 500, in that fight, the total number of rebels killed in the two battles would be 4,000. According to the rates le of our own killed and wounded this would make their loss in wounded 13 700. As nearly as can be determined, the number of prisoners taken by our troops, in the two battles, was, at least 5,000; of these, 1,200 were wounded. This makes rebel loss in killed wounded and prisoners 25,542. Philadelphia, Sept. 29.—It is rumored that the existing quietade in the army is on account of Commissioners on the way from Confederate Congress to propose terms of peace, something like, the loyal States to take all the Territories, Missouri, Tennessee, Kentucky, and Maryland, the cotton States to have a Congress of their own, to regulate domestic affairs only. In all other things to be again as one separate people for defensive and offensive operations against other countries. To be in unity in matters of pastage and revenue service the same as heretofore. They pledge themselves to return all government property as they found it. In addition, to be represented in Our Congress according to their white population.
