Away up north where 'tis very cold, We hear that any there are mines of gold; Away down south where the negroes are, We hear the news of a terrible war; And various news from east and west Serve to tell us here we are richly blest.

What to us are those beds of gold, With their glitter so bright and so good? What to us are the tales of war? Terrible truth we know they are; Much, much to the loyal heart are they, As we gather them up from day to day.

How many a noble heart is laid Down in the grave so newly made; How many wives and mothers left, Of all life's joys and comforts bereft; And numberless orphanage in the cry, Liberty, liberty, or we too will die!

We see none of this; but we know 'tis true, And we feel, smiling friends, very deeply for you, And will try very hard to do what is right; We'll give all we can, if 'tis but a mite, Perhaps it will help the wounded to live, [Give, And we're sure it will help every one that will.

'Tis a proof that you to your country are true, And that we are sure, is a great help to you; So come on with your hundreds, or dollars, or dimes, Or we'll give more if 'twere easier times; All that we want is the will and the deed, The asked 'till cloth, the hungry 'till feed.

The HERALD OF REFORM will be devoted to the diffusion of knowledge; the elevation and refinement of the masses; the reformation of the erring; the increase of human happiness, and the fearless exposure of sins and impious laws, slanders, transgressions of God and abuses of themselves with mankind.

ANY ONE who professes to understand all trades or sciences, assumes to impose an absurdity upon the public. On the same principle, any one medicine which professes to cure all diseases is unworthy the slightest confidence, and should at once be denounced as a quack nostrum. The Grafenberg Family Medicines do not assume to cure all diseases with one remedy. They have eleven different medicines, each adapted to its peculiar disease, and time has proved beyond a question the efficacy and certainty of these preparations. Their list comprises the following medicines:

- Grafenberg Vegetable Pills; Marshall's Uterine Cathartic; Grafenberg Sarsaparilla; Grafenberg Pile Remedy; Grafenberg Dysentery Syrup; Green Mountain Ointment; Grafenberg Children's Panacea; Grafenberg Consumption's Balsam; Grafenberg Eye Lotion; Grafenberg Fever and Ague Remedy; Grafenberg Health Bitters; Grafenberg Manual of Health.
