RULES OF HEALTH FOR MARRIED LADIES. -Here is some advice that married ladies can bet high on :

Get up at three o'clock in the morning, clean out the stoves, take out the ashes, sweep the front sidewalk, and scrub the el, settle the coffee, set the table, rouse the house, carry up some water for shaving to that brute of a lazy husband, and dry the morning paper. By this time Tanners' Tools, of all kinds.

After breakfast, wash the dishes, nurse the baby, dust everything, wash the windows, wash and dress the baby-(that pantry wants cleaning out and scrubbing) nurse the baby, drag the baby in his wagon five or six miles for the benefit of his health; nurse him when you return; put on the cabbage and potatoes (nurse the baby) and the corn beef, (don't neglect to nurse the baby) and the turnips, and try produce. (nurse the baby) sweep everything; take up the dinner, set the table, fill the castors, change the table cloth, (there's that baby wants nursing,) eat your dinner cold again, and-nurse the baby,

After dinner, wash the dishes, hunt up London Dock Brandy (old Hudson's Bay), all the dirty clothes and put them to soak, nurse the baby half an hour; receive a dozen calls, interspersed with nursing the baby; drag the baby a mile or two; hur ry home; make biscuits, pick some codfish, cut some dried beef. Catnip tea for baby's internal disarrangements; hold the some alcohol in the metre; baby a specimen of perpetual motion; tea ready;
