THE STATE REPUBLICAN

DEVOTED TO THE POLITICAL AND GENERAL INTERESTS OF THE PEOPLE.

VOL. I.

EUGENE-CITY, OREGON, JANUARY 11, 1862.

NO. 2.

HIGHLAND MARY, BY ROBERT W. FISHER.

A PROGRAMME FOR THE NATION.

THE three great Conflicts of our time, and the three great sectional differences of our Country, are all connected, in a way, with the three great questions which now divide the world, and the three great political questions which now divide the United States. The first, is the question of the rights of the negro; the second, the question of the right to bear arms; and the third, the question of the right to keep and bear arms. These three great questions, combined, are the three great questions which now divide the world, and the three great political questions which now divide the United States.

The first, is the question of the rights of the negro. This question is now before Congress, and the Senate and the House of Representatives have both of them voted for the rights of the negro. The Senate has voted for the rights of the negro, and the House of Representatives has voted for the rights of the negro.

The second, is the question of the right to bear arms. This question is now before Congress, and the Senate and the House of Representatives have both of them voted for the right to bear arms. The Senate has voted for the right to bear arms, and the House of Representatives has voted for the right to bear arms.

The third, is the question of the right to keep and bear arms. This question is now before Congress, and the Senate and the House of Representatives have both of them voted for the right to keep and bear arms. The Senate has voted for the right to keep and bear arms, and the House of Representatives has voted for the right to keep and bear arms.

These three great questions, combined, are the three great questions which now divide the world, and the three great political questions which now divide the United States.

A NEWCOMER TO THE STATE.

ONE of the most remarkable phenomena of the present time is the number of newcomers to the State. This is due to the fact that the State has been opened up to settlement, and that the people are now coming in great numbers. The State is now full of new settlers, and the population is increasing rapidly.

A NEWCOMER TO THE STATE.

ONE of the most remarkable phenomena of the present time is the number of newcomers to the State. This is due to the fact that the State has been opened up to settlement, and that the people are now coming in great numbers. The State is now full of new settlers, and the population is increasing rapidly.

MADISON.

THE following is an extract from the Message of J. L. Turner, Governor of Wisconsin Territory, to the Legislature, in the late session.

In this message I met the severe and relentless attack made by the Democratic party, and the party of the state government, in the late campaign, upon the character and the characteristics of the state, and the party in power. In this message I met the severe and relentless attack made by the Democratic party, and the party of the state government, in the late campaign, upon the character and the characteristics of the state, and the party in power.

The attack upon the state government and the party in power, made by the Democratic party, and the party of the state government, in the late campaign, upon the character and the characteristics of the state, and the party in power, has been most severe and relentless. In this message I met the severe and relentless attack made by the Democratic party, and the party of the state government, in the late campaign, upon the character and the characteristics of the state, and the party in power.

The attack upon the state government and the party in power, made by the Democratic party, and the party of the state government, in the late campaign, upon the character and the characteristics of the state, and the party in power, has been most severe and relentless.