BY THUMAS BUUNANAN BRAD.

Our flag on the land and our flag on the scenn,
An angel of peace wheer-scorer it goes.

Nobly sustained by Columbia's devotion,
The angel of death it shall be to our foca!
True to its mative sky,
Still shall car eagle ily,
Casting his sentined glances after;
Though bearing the office branch,
Still in his talons stanch
Grasping the bolts of the thunders of war!

Hark to the sound! there's a fee on our border—
A fee striding on the gait of his doom;
Freemen are rising and marching in order,
Leaving the ploy, and the movil, and loom,
Ran dims the barrent sheen.
Of scribe and stakle keen.
The are sleeps in peace by the tree it would mar,
Veleran and youth are out
Swelling the buttle shout,
Grasping the bolts of the thunders of war!

Our brave mountain engles sweep from their series;
Our little posithers leap from the forest and plain;
Out of the Wortlash the flames of the pourie—
Out of the East roll the waves of the main,
Down from their Northern shores,
Swift as Ningara pours,
They murch, and their trend shakes the earth with a jur;
Under the Stripes and Stars,
Each with the soul of More,
Grasping the boils of the thunders of war!

Spite of the aword or assessin's stillette,
While throbs a heart in the breast of the brave,
The ock of the North, or the Southern patmette,
Shall shelter no forman, except—in his grave!
While the gulf billow breaks,
Echolog Northern likes,
And ocean reptics unto ocean afar,
Yield we no inch of land,
While there's a section benul.

While there's a patriot band Grasping the bolts of the thunders of war!
